Board of Health Has Hearing On Petition for Cemetery at Esty Property in Oak Hill

Brookline Water Department Objects, But State Board Of Health Has Approved Use of Adjoining Land

The Newton Board of Health held a public hearing on Monday night at City Hall on the petition of the Holyhood Cemetery Association for a permit to use about 58 acres of land near Dedham st., Oak Hill, for an addition to St. Joseph's Cemetery, John Maden, chairman of the Board of Health, presided and informed the 30 persons present that only the matter of health could be discussed at the hearing, and not questions of zoning, streets or building. Dr. Harold Choje, health officer of Newton read the statute pertaining to the use of land for a cemetery. Ex-Alderman Dennis M. Cronin appeared as attorney for the petitioners. He said that St. Joseph's Cemetery is rapidly being filled and the land in question is the only property available for an addition. He presented Everett Brooks, a civil engineer of Newton, who explained the plans for the use of the Esty farm as the cemetery addition.

James M. Driscoll of Brookline, superintendent of St. Joseph's and Holyhood cemeteries said that several years ago he had been asked to buy the Mick land at Oak Hill as an addition to the cemetery, but this land is swampy and not suited for cemetery purposes. The soil at the Esty land is of sand and gravel, suited for cemetery purposes, and an adequate safeguard against any pollution seeping into the Charles River. He referred to Evergreen Cemetery immediately adjacent to Chestnut Hill reservoir; Mount Pease Cemetery at Waltham, on the Charles River directly opposite the pumping station of the Waltham Water works, and two cemeteries at Natick adjoining basins of the Metropolitan water system, as evidence that cemeteries have not been considered menaces to water supplies. He said that Saw Mill Brook which drains both Holyhood and St. Joseph's Cemeteries, runs directly through the latter, empties into the Charles River at the Brookline water reservation, and has caused no pollution. Mr. Driscoll said that much work would have to be done at the Esty farm to grade and prepare it for cemetery purposes.

James P. Esty of Dedham st., Oak Hill, said he has lived beside St. Joseph's Cemetery since it was started over 40 years ago and that it has been well kept and is as beautiful in parts as is Newton Cemetery. He said that two cemeteries are now located near the Charles River at the West Roxbury, Newton line: the Mount Lebanon Jewish Cemetery and Gethsemane Cemetery, owned by the Lutherans. He added that the proposed cemetery will be a considerable distance from the Newton water reservation.

Joseph Carroll, also as attorney for the petitioners, said he had conferred with Mr. Weston of the State Board of Health and was told by this official that the Mount Lebanon Cemetery had not been considered any menace to the Brookline water supply, and that the State Board of Health would give similar assurance regarding the proposed cemetery on the Esty land. Mr. Carroll read a letter from Henry D. Chadwick, State Commissioner of Public Health in which the latter stated that he would approve the use of land adjoining the Esty farm and just over the West Roxbury line for cemetery purposes.

Henry S. Cummings, representing the Oak Hill Improvement Association, opposed the use of the Esty farm for cemetery purposes. He read a letter which gave eight reasons for objecting to the cemetery. The letter follows:—

1. We do not welcome any development in Oak Hill except for those uses for which it is now zoned—namely, residential.

2. We are not in favor of increasing nontaxable land as every acre so subtracted from the whole serves as a leverage in increasing proportionately taxes on what remains.

3. We do not feel the City has adequate Reservation to protect its water supply—particularly if sewerage from residential development or cemetery proximity to it is considered. If the City intends to depend on water secured from wells rather than hitching into the Metropolitan System it should acquire all the land that may be necessary to satisfy any doubt as to safety and purity.

4. The topography of the Esty land is not suited to Cemetery use inasmuch as there is a thirty-eight (38) foot drop toward the Charles River making pollution of surface water distinctly unsafe for use and considerable question as to its effect on the ground water supply.

5. We believe that there already exists adequate Cemetery facilities in Newton to care for its particular needs and that the St. Joseph's Cemetery represents primarily a demand for expansion for non-residents.

6. We know that owners of Real Estate located within a half mile area are nearly 100 per cent opposed and concerned over the intrusion of a cemetery in their midst.

7. As we see it, the City of Newton will gain nothing by permitting a Cemetery to acquire a foothold on this land in the Oak Hill District—rather it will lose substantially in potential tax return; and seriously retard if not prevent residential development in one of the most promising sections of land which remains undeveloped at the present time.

8. Besides, we believe the Health Department should recognize the strong objection of the Water Department of both the City of Newton and the Town of Brookline who believe there is a health menace involved and who doubtless will appear here personally to record their protest and strong opposition.

Because of these several reasons we hope very sincerely that you will recommend to the Claims & Rules Committee that you do not favor the granting of the Petition.

Ex-Alderman Edward H. Powers said he was neither favoring nor opposing the petition, but he wished to correct one of the alleged reasons given by Mr. Cummings in opposition to the granting of the cemetery permit—to wit, "that there already exists adequate cemetery facilities in Newton to care for its particular needs, and that the St. Joseph's Cemetery represents primarily a demand for expansion for non-residents." Powers said that there is not, and never has been a Catholic cemetery in Newton. Wendell R. Mick of 370 Dedham st., said that St. Joseph's Cemetery corporation has options on land owned by the Tomasello and Wiswall estates in addition to the Esty land. This statement was contradicted by Henry Bruen, a trustee of the cemetery corporation.

W. R. Bushaway, superintendent of the Brookline Water Department opposed the petition. He said the Brookline department always opposes anything that may possibly menace its water supply. He said that the supply is derived from wells, 30 to 90 feet deep, located near the bank of the Charles River, and there might be the possibility of seepage from the proposed cemetery reaching into these wells. He admitted (Continued on page 10)

Alderman Colby Asks For Fence At Old Cemetery

Aldermen Appropriate For New Franklin School

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Colby of Ward 7 referred to recent acts of vandalism at the old cemetery on Centre st., Newton. He produced a news item and photograph published in the Boston Herald on April 22, telling of desecration at the cemetery, and he read an article from the Newton Graphic which stated that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen should take action to protect the old cemetery by having a high fence built around it.

Alderman Colby said that the cemetery is one of the most historic shrines in Newton, and that a WPA project could be well assigned to improving the old burial ground and providing it with protection from vandals. He said that last year he had inspected the cemetery in company with Alderman Rawson and Ex-Alderman Melcher, that subsequently Alderman Rawson had requested Mayor Childs to recommend an appropriation for a fence to surround the burial place. Alderman Colby offered a resolution asking the Mayor to take steps to protect the cemetery from vandalism. Alderman Rawson seconded the resolution and the Board unanimously voted to adopt it.

The Aldermen appropriated $22,750 for materials in connection with WPA projects in Newton, but made the proviso that only $3500 of this amount shall be used at present. This will be used in work at Allison Pit playground at Nonantum and Edmonds Park at Cabot Woods. The balance, $19,250, will not be used until the Board of Aldermen gives further approval. It is intended to be devoted to the following: construction of 300 benches (work to be done at Auburndale) for various parks in Newton, $2250; improvement of Cabot Park playground, $10,000; improvements and changes at building school athletic field, $7000. An appropriation of $290,000 was made for the construction of the new Franklin School at West Newton. A bond issue was authorized to finance this appropriation.

Other appropriations included—materials for WPA work in building water wall at water department yard on Watertown st., $500; concrete driveway at supply yard, $190; Water Department, eliminating dead-ends and replacing mains, $4985; extension of water mains in Waban area, and other roads, $2590; for serial bonds and payment of interest, $10,639; payment of court judgment on claim of Blanchard Lumber Company, $306.53. An issue of $50,000 on water bonds was authorized. For a flag and trophy case at War Memorial Hall $550 was appropriated.

An offer of $750 was received from William & Merrill Nutting for a parcel of land owned by the city on Vaughan ave. A petition was received from William Walker for a permit to build an addition to his house at 19 Bernard st. over a sewer easement. Wesley Furbush withdrew his petition for a permit to display used cars on a lot at 979 Watertown st. The Board refused to take action on another protest from Martin McMorrough of 717 Washington st. against night work at a garage repair shop at 719 Washington st. He states his family cannot sleep because of the noise.

The Aldermen voted to approve a communication from the Playground Commission which provides for a return to the city by the Metropolitan District Commission of 4 1/4 acres of land adjoining the Auburndale playground, and the assumption by the city of the care and control of the road from Istington rd. to the Waltham line. A claim was received from Alice Andrews for injuries received when she fell on an alleged defective sidewalk at 24 Oxford rd. on March 28. A petition was received from Jeska Cohnstrom asking for a permit (Continued on page 10)

Honor Veteran Choirmaster of Grace Church

Sixty-two former members of the vested choir of Grace Episcopal Church, Newton, marched in solemn procession at the choral evensong held at the church last Sunday afternoon in appreciation of the fifty-one years of service of Charles Norman Sladen, choirmaster. These men, representing professional and business life, came from various sections of the country to sing again under the direction of their beloved leader.

Rev. H. Robert Smith, rector of Grace Church, officiated. Seated within the chancel were Rev. Dr. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church, Newton Centre and Rev. Gray M. Blandy of Christ Church, Cambridge. Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, rector emeritus of Grace Church and Rev. Raymond Lang, rector of St. John's Church, Newtonville, attended.

An address, describing the life and work of Mr. Sladen, was delivered by William V. M. Fawcett, a former member of the choir, who was selected to speak for Mr. Sladen's "boys." At the close of devotional exercises an informal reception was held in Mr. Sladen's honor. Here a reunion took place, revealing that among those who had returned was one who had sung in the choir prior to Mr. Sladen's term and several who began with him. Not only were there those who had traveled distances to attend but a deluge of letters of congratulations and good wishes. Many prominent men, formerly of Newton and now resident in the parts of the United States, added their expressions of sentiments as Grace Church "choir boys."

At the reception Mr. Sladen was the recipient of a substantial purse, the gift of former and present choir members and Grace Church parishioners.

The committee of the vestry in charge was made up of Howard L. Rich, Leverett D. G. Bentley, Clarence C. Colby, William W. Colton, William V. M. Fawcett and T. Edson Jewell, Jr. They were assisted by Mrs. John Mulhern, Mrs. Howard Norton and Fay Roope.

The following is the list of former members of the choir who took part:

Charles M. Ford and son Raymond O. of Chatham, N. J.; Bradford F. Story of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Erskine P. Noyes, Augusta, Me.; Henry T. G. Dyson, Hudson; Rev. Gray M. Blandy, Christ Church, Cambridge; A. J. Buchanan, Cambridge; Herbert E. Butterfield, Waltham; W. H. Corlis, Winchester; E. Frank Leighton, Brookline; A. Lester Shipon, Watertown; William D. ## PROCLAMATION

National Hospital Day will be observed this year on May 12th.

The custom of relieving extreme need is an old English one adopted in this country first by the Colonies and then by the State. From this custom has come the modern hospital.

Hospital Day tends to remind us of the splendid work which these havens for the sick and suffering so quietly but effectively accomplish. The hospital is the one institution which we are apt to forget until we need it, and then it is the most important spot on earth.

Let us be ever ready to support the Newton Hospital and help it to continue to serve and shine with even brighter lustre and purer flame.

EDWIN O. CHILDS, Mayor.

Open Campaign For $350,000 for New Nurses Home

Eight Hundred at Dinner Observe 50th Anniversary

The campaign to raise $350,000 to build a new training school and home for nurses was opened last night at an enthusiastic dinner meeting of eight hundred residents of the Newtons and Wellesley in the Newton high school. The occasion marked the 50th anniversary of the Newton Hospital School of Nursing. Civic and medical leaders signified their support to the drive for funds to provide the new building of three stories with 122 single rooms for nurses and supervisors. The present nursing school would be maintained for classroom and laboratory purposes.

Speakers at the dinner meeting were Edward J. Frost, trustee of the Newton Hospital; Leon B. Rogers, Robert A. Whidden, chairman of the building committee; Dr. Frank R. Clarke, chief of staff of the Newton hospital; Mayor Edwin O. Childs; William Holway Hill, trustee and chairman of the Wellesley group operating in the drive; Most Rev. Dr. Francis J. Spellman, auxiliary bishop of Boston; Bertha W. Allen, superintendent of the hospital; Rabbi Leo Shubow, Temple Emmanuel of Newton; and Leverett Saltoun, chairman of the 1938 Greater Boston Community Fund campaign.

Mayor Childs made the keynote speech stating that a new nursing school would fill a long-standing need. He declared that Newton had never failed yet in meeting a real need.

Frank L. Richardson, president of the hospital; Henry I. Harriman and James L. Richards were among a large number who signified their support by letter or telegram when they were unable to be present.

$47,000 For New WPA Projects

WPA officials in Washington have allotted $47,000 for several projects in Newton. These include a new baseball diamond at the High School athletic field which will be located near the corner of Elm rd. and Lowell ave. and will necessitate the removal of the tennis courts from their present location to the rear of the bleachers and behind the technical school building. The new diamond will provide two baseball playing fields at the high school grounds. The other projects will be the completion of the development at the Allison pit playground at Nonantum, construction of a parking area at Edmonds Park, and building benches at the Auburndale playground.

Newton Tax Rate for 1938 Is $30.20, Increase of $1.80 Over Rate For Last Year

Alderman McKay Resents Charge That Aldermen Caused Increase by Not Borrowing Against Tax Titles

The Newton Board of Assessors on Wednesday announced the tax rate for 1938. The rate was set at $30.20, an increase of $1.80 over that of last year, and the highest rate Newton has ever had. Last year Newton had the lowest tax rate of any city in Massachusetts, and Mayor Childs expressed the opinion that it will again have that distinction this year. The increase in valuation over last year in both real estate and personal property amounts to $1,254,550.

Because the Mayor had requested the Board of Aldermen to authorize borrowing against tax titles, and the Aldermen had refused to do so, Boston newspapers in referring to the Newton tax rate stated that some city officials had said the increase in the rate was caused by the refusal of the Aldermen to borrow against the tax titles. The Mayor wanted to borrow $200,000 against tax titles and allocate $100,000 of this amount as a contingency fund. This would have reduced the tax rate 60 cents. On the other hand the Finance Committee of the Aldermen wanted the Mayor to recommend larger appropriations for welfare relief, snow removal and a contingency fund to meet the amounts they contend will be required for these items before the end of the year. These increased recommendations would have amounted to about $100,000 and would have added another 60 cents to the tax rate. The Mayor refused to acquiesce to the request of the Finance Committee.

In past years the city has used the excess from the Water Department for paying expenses of other departments. This year there is a surplus or excess of $226,000 in the water fund. Of this amount the State Tax Commissioner has ruled that the city may use $103,000 for free cash and from this $7763.27 was diverted to receipts in computing the 1938 tax rate. This leaves about $95,000 for contingencies during the balance of 1938. The remaining $123,000 of the water department surplus was ordered by the Tax Commissioner to be used as a reserve against tax titles. In 1937 the Board of Aldermen, on recommendations of the Mayor, appropriated $228,000 after the budget was passed, and this amount was supposed to have been absorbed in this year's tax rate. But, unexpended appropriations and excess income tax receipts allotted to Newton totaled $67,000, and thus reduced the excess expenditures from $228,000 to $161,000.

Referring to the statement in the newspapers, Alderman McKay, chairman of the Finance Committee, makes the following statement:

Alderman McKay's statement follows:

"The news stories in the papers announcing the Newton tax-rate all quote city officials to the effect that the increase was due to the refusal of the aldermen to borrow against tax titles."

"Let's examine the facts. The aldermen slashed $70,000 from the Mayor's budget. Had the Board not done this the rate would have been forty cents more. Economies were demanded in departments which could still be operated. The Finance Committee and the Board of Aldermen declared that certain other departments were obviously under-budgeted and urged the Mayor to submit additional recommendations for welfare, soldiers' relief, snow removal, WPA material for projects and a contingency fund. A minimum safeguard for these would have been $100,000—another sixty cents increase in the tax rate. The suggestion was not heeded.

"In 1937 appropriations made after the tax rate was established amounted to $228,000. This sum is carried into the 1938 levy. But now with reserves practically exhausted our appropriating power is limited to less than $100,000 for the balance of the year. One official 'thinks' it is about $50,000—another 'thinks' it is about $90,000. Even state officials cannot understand the unique book-keeping which is not in accordance with their system."

"Early in 1937 Newton borrowed on tax-titles and the loan was not fully repaid when due, and an extension was requested. A sound business basis would have called for a $3.00 increase this year. The Board of Aldermen acted from a sense of duty—not of votes. There will probably be an increase next year but cushioned somewhat by not trying to borrow ourselves into prosperity this year."

Trade School To Hold Open Night

On Thursday evening, May 12th, Newton Trade School will hold its annual open night in the Technical High School Building, Elm rd., Newtonville from seven to nine o'clock.

All shops will be operating and the various departments will display work done by the students.

Directions and instructions will be given to each visitor to aid him in his trip through the school giving him the principal points of interest in each department.

Five courses in trade education are taught—automobile repairing, cabinet making, electricity, machine practice and printing.

Many Motorists In Newton Court

In the Newton court last Friday Judge Mayberry imposed fines on about a score of motorists found guilty of violating various automobile laws. Of the 23 arraigned, ten were women. Ralph Donaldson of Amherst and George Sims of Roslindale each was fined $10 for speeding. Among those fined $5 for speeding were Ellen Thackeray, Taft ave., West Newton; Robert Briggs, 345 Crafts st., Newtonville; Joseph Marchant, 253 Pleasant st., Watertown; Paul Oakley, Beacon School, Wellesley. Fines of $3 for not stopping before entering through streets were levied on Anna Campbell, 8 Arden rd., Newtonville; Ann Rackliffe, 122 Shorncliffe rd., Newton; Dorothy Bortman, 11 Garrison st., Chestnut Hill; Irma Hawks, 58 Valentine st., West Newton; Helen Kingman, Concord. For not slowing down at street intersections a $5 fine was imposed on Ann Kingsley of 5 Larch rd., Waban. Barbara Gifford of Shrewsbury was fined $5 for ignoring a red traffic light. Anna Butler of 43 Hamlin rd., Newtonville was charged with speeding, and George McWilliams of 62 Cabot st., Newton was charged with not stopping before entering a through way. Their cases were placed on file.

THE NEW TAX RATE

The announcement of the 1938 tax rate of $30.20, an increase of $1.80 per thousand gives a new all-time high in the assessment on the property of Newton residents. Much of this increase is due to the necessity of providing for an amount of $228,000 which was appropriated in 1937 after the budget and tax rate for last year had been set. Most of these funds were used for the meeting of an underestimate of welfare costs.

Newspaper reports inaccurately place the responsibility for the increase upon the refusal of the aldermen to borrow against tax titles. The inaccuracy of this is evident when it is considered that appropriations made for 1938 are somewhat under the estimated requirements. Welfare estimates are based on last year's figures although it is generally admitted that it will be necessary to find additional sums before another six months has gone by. In addition there is but little surplus available as against a much larger figure a year ago. A $3.00 increase would have been needed to provide for probable contingent expenses to be required before the end of the year.

AND THE PROSPECTS FOR NEXT YEAR

Although the Newton tax rate has been increased to a new high figure it is already expected that another rise is in prospect for 1939. Although this is not a pleasant picture it most certainly will come about if the state budget now in process of adoption by the Legislature remains unchanged.

In appropriating highway funds to be spent upon roadwork in order to avoid a federal penalty of some three millions of dollars the state tax may be in the neighborhood of $14,000,000. As most of the local tax rates have been set, based upon an $8,000,000 estimate, it will have no effect this year. The additional highway appropriations made thus far mean an approximate additional burden for the citizens of Newton of 90 cents per thousand.

Unless drastic action is taken there can be no alternative. If the legislature, however, does reverse itself, and distribute the money that is available in the highway fund to the municipalities upon the basis of the state tax apportionment it will have no effect on either the 1938 or 1939 tax rates. In addition the federal penalty will also be avoided. The practice of diverting highway money into general revenue the past few years has resulted in an artificial lower state tax than would be the case if the money were distributed to the cities and towns.

NEWTON SMITH COLLEGE CLUB

On Tuesday, May 3rd, members of the Newton Smith College Club from Newtonville and Auburndale sponsored a fashion show at the Newtonville Woman's Club. The committee in charge of the affair was headed by Mrs. F. Leslie Ford of Auburndale and included: Mrs. E. A. Minard and Mrs. E. Graham Bates of Auburndale; Mrs. Raymond D. Hunting, Mrs. R. W. Tunnell, Mrs. Horace Kidger, and Mrs. Charles Wentworth of Newtonville.

Models at the show were worn by Mrs. J. Herbert Young, Mrs. Samuel Braham, Mrs. R. H. Lee, Mrs. G. Bancroft Hall, Mrs. Edward Wood, Mrs. Frank Turner, Miss Helen Pierce, Mrs. R. R. Cowen, Mrs. Elliot Rogers, Mrs. Harold Lounsbury, Mrs. Raymond Tunnell, Miss Ford and Master Hall. After the fashions had been displayed tea was served. Miss Eliza P. Huntington of Newtonville and Mrs. Henry A. Wentworth of Auburndale poured.

One of the most delightful contributions to the program was made by Dorothy Sawyer Bates who gave some of her readings.

Money raised on this occasion will go to the club's scholarship fund as the gift from Newtonville and Auburndale.

Players To Present "Daddy Long Legs" at High School
The Players, Inc., will present "Daddy Long Legs" for its one hundred and thirty-third series, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, May 9th and 10th in the Newton High School Auditorium. The production is under the direction of Mr. Fay Roope.

The cast includes Lenore B. Bacon, Elizabeth D. Dunker, Barbara C. Fawcett, Ruth B. Fuller, Marie V.D. Humphreys, Margaret C. Leach, and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer; also Harold D. Billings, Harold Bond, Wm. V. M. Fawcett, Jack Purple and Richard Schroeder. The children in the play include Bessie Rilla Bacon, Deborah Cole, Anne Rich, Frances Ripley, Martha Roope and Billy Fawcett.

NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers will hold their monthly shoot at the Newton Centre Playground Archery Field on Saturday, May 7. The shoot is to be held in honor of Mr. Ernst Hermann, charter member of the Newton Archers who is well known in Newton for his splendid work as Playground Commissioner, and Mrs. Dorothy Smith Cummings, the most colorful archer in the United States having won the National Championship title seven times. There will be a team shoot against the Worcester Archery Club picked from Newton's finest. Mr. Walter M. Kimber, first winner of the anniversary handicap cup will defend his championship and take home the cup again, which must be won three times to be retained.

In spite of the uncertain weather on April 30th, seventeen enthusiasts of archery lined up to shoot an American Round with Carl Spofford as field captain. Mrs. William Whitney had the high score for the ladies, Carl Spofford was high for the men, while Darthea Spofford was high for the juniors. The novelty prize was awarded to Philip Spofford.

Complain Against Two Beer Places

Next Monday evening the Newton License Commission will hold a hearing on complaints which have been made against two licensed beer saloons at Newton by an inspector of the State License Commission. George Carris who owns George's Lunch at 291 Centre st., Newton, is charged with having on the night of April 30 had liquor sold in his place to intoxicated persons, and with having liquor served in glasses which were not sterilized. Carris had his license suspended a few years ago by the Newton License Commission, but it was restored to him.

The same representative of the State License Commission charges that on the night of April 30 liquor was served to intoxicated persons at the Paramount Delicatessen, 292 Centre st., Newton, and that a clear view of the premises there could not be obtained because of screens in windows. This place is conducted by Abraham Lazarus.

Mystery Comedy To Be Staged at Newtonville

Village Players Close Season With Light Comedy

The Village Players of Newton Centre, will present on May 6th and 7th, 1938, at the Unitarian Playhouse "The Roundabout," by J. B. Priestly, a light comedy, first produced at the Playhouse in Liverpool. It is directed by Mrs. Wesley Dines and the leading role will be played by Mrs. Willard F. Richards. The second lead is Miss Mollie Draper. Other members of the cast are: Henry Irving Dale, Donald Stimpson, Jr., Russell Perham, Miss Edith May, Robert R. Reed, Harvey Isham, Walter C. Wrye, Jr., Mrs. Hope Thaxter Spencer, Miss Catherine Skelton.

The production staff is: Margaret Underhill, Donald Gibbs, Edward Swainson, Mrs. Louis DiLuzio, Mrs. Mabel Mason Webber, Mrs. Alfred Kenngott, Charlotte Pettitmermet, Virginia Rogers, Mrs. James Mitchell, William M. Blatt and Mrs. Frank A. Mason. The production staff will be assisted by: Russell Liscomb, Mrs. Walter C. Wrye, Jr., Mr. Wesley Dines, Jill Albrece, Granville Hawes, Mrs. Jack Carlcoff, Jean Lockwood, Betty Knowles and Janet Elliott.

The Village Players have had a very successful season, both artistically and otherwise. Some of their plays have been reproduced in other amateur organizations as guest productions. The attendance has been so large that the organization is now considering giving the plays more than the usual two nights. The casts are, so far as possible, kept local but there is enough talent in the membership to supply all the needs. This will be the last production until the fall but it is expected that there will be some social activity to close the season.

Rummage Sale

First Church Rummage Sale will be held Friday and Saturday, May 6th and 7th at 745 Beacon st., Newton Centre, instead of 1189 Centre st., Newton Centre.—Advertisement.

Communicable Diseases In City

During the month of April the following cases of communicable diseases were reported to the Newton Health Department—chicken pox, 23; German measles, 3; lobar pneumonia, 8; measles, 2; mumps, 5; scarlet fever, 7; pulmonary T. B., 2; whooping cough, 25. Twenty two persons in Newton were bitten by dogs during the month.

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, May 6, 1876

We notice that the movement to plant shade trees along the streets of this city in observance of Centennial year has already commenced. Let the good work go on.

Friday evening of last week was very dark and no lights were on the streets. Not pleasant for a lady coming from Boston on the 10 p. m. train and walking to her home unattended, as was the case in at least one instance. Why not have the streets lighted on dark nights?

Charges have been preferred against members of Hook & Ladder Company No. 1 and Hose Company No. 4 for stealing property at a fire in Newton Highlands. The Board of Engineers investigated the charges and fully exonerated the firemen from all blame.

It has been with some difficulty that the division of labor in the care of horses belonging to the street and fire departments could be adjusted when the horses of these two departments are kept together in the same stables and alternately used by each. It was satisfactorily arranged, but now a new problem has come up when the policemen's horses are also put in these same stables, with the request that employees of the street and fire departments care for them. It has been decided that the police horses will be fed with the other horses, but further care of each horse will come upon the policeman using him.

Monday morning E. L. Ross of Newtonville either fell or was blown off the roof of a house and dropping 25 feet. He received severe but not serious injuries.

About 75 Italians arrived at Newtonville on the 7:45 train from Boston on Thursday morning to work on the new water system.

The regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held on Monday afternoon. The Newton & Watertown Gas Light Company petitioned for a hearing on the order compelling them to take up their pipes where they will interfere with water pipes.

Newton Graphic, May 4, 1888

Edmund E. Hills of Newton made a flying visit to his home on Sunday from Worcester, riding on a bicycle with a 54 inch wheel. The run down was made in 4 1/2 hours and the return trip in 5 hours.

If the boys of Wards 1 and 7 can find a vacant lot suitable for a playground, they will stand a good chance of securing it for the season by notifying Councilman Hamblen as soon as possible.

Through Councilman Hamblen's public spiritedness the watering cart made its appearance on the streets last Saturday, he promising to be responsible for the expense. Since then the highway committee has made a temporary arrangement until the subscriptions needed for a regular contract have been received.

There has been in the Newton court this week five cases of bicycle riding on sidewalks by boys. Two were fined $1 each and costs, two $3 and costs each, and the other 10 cents and costs. The police are keeping a lookout for all offenders.

The Wyandottes and the Brahmas of Newton played a 10 inning game last Saturday and the former won, 27 to 26. The Waban Parks played and won two games last Saturday: morning game Waban Park 48, Columbus 10; afternoon game, Waban Park 39, Will Pigk's nine, 15.

A terrible accident occurred at Newtonville, at the Walnut st. railroad crossing last Wednesday evening by which Mrs. William H. Esty was instantly killed. In company with her 12 year old son the unfortunate lady attempted to cross the tracks after the gates had been lowered. She crossed the number 1 track ahead of a freight train and crossed the number 2 and 3 tracks as an inward passenger train approached. She was struck and thrown onto the platform. Her boy stood between the tracks and escaped. The mother and son were on their way to the depot to take the train to Newton to attend the Bible convention. She was the mother of five sons, the youngest of whom is four years of age.

Newton Graphic May 9, 1913

George Jefferson of Auburndale who was seriously injured three weeks ago by the explosion of a golf ball is still at the hospital and doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances. The doctor does not give much encouragement in regard to saving his eyesight.

The school committee has presented its budget for 1914 to the Board of Aldermen. It estimates the expenses for the year at $377,223, an increase of about $24,600 over last year. Because of an increase in receipts, of which $21,000 comes from the State, the school committee asks for an appropriation of $346,433, or $3800 more than in 1913. Of this increase $8000 is due to the taking over of the Nonantum Independent Industrial School, heretofore supported by Mr. Frank A. Day.

Powers' Paragraphs

Take a trip this week-end to the Nashoba Valley apple district, or to Harvard, Groton or Marlboro and see thousands of apple trees in blossom. From the list of the elect obviously County we annually have a beautiful spectacle which far surpasses the much publicized Japanese cherry trees in Washington.

Last year Mayor Childs issued a proclamation asking Newton residents to co-operate in a campaign to eradicate ragweed in this city for the benefit of the large number of those who suffer from hay-fever. Apparently the Mayor's request did not meet with much response, because a few days ago a Newton lady who is an annual victim of hay-fever came into our office and asked us to request the people of Newton to pull up any ragweed which may be on their properties. To do this will be displaying brotherly or sisterly love (or consideration) for the many hundreds of those who yearly suffer the tortures allegedly caused by ragweed. If the members of the Newton city government would give more consideration to practical benefits which might be obtained from WPA funds, instead of having large sums expended on non-sensical WPA activities, such things as a campaign against ragweed could be accomplished.

One WPA project that could have been well conducted in Newton the past several years is—the improvement of Newton sidewalks, especially our many miles of gravel sidewalks. WPA projects on sidewalks have been allowed in other places. A large percentage of the sidewalks in Newton are in such a bad condition that pedestrians stumble on projecting stones or hollows in dry weather, and cannot walk through the mud of the alleged sidewalks in wet weather. They have to walk on the streets and risk being hit by automobiles. If some of the hundreds of thousands of dollars in Federal funds spent the past seven years at Edmonds Park for instance, had been spent on sidewalk projects, residents of this city would have derived infinitely more benefit. There has been enough expended on Edmonds Park to make that place look like Versailles gardens, but there isn't much resemblance.

Mrs. Corabelle Francis of Pembroke st. made an excellent suggestion to us this week. It is—that a small shelter be built at the corner of Walnut st. and Commonwealth ave. to provide protection for the many who go to Newton City Hall or the War Memorial Building and who are exposed to stormy and cold weather while waiting for busses. For twenty years Mrs. Francis has worked incessantly for the welfare of veterans and frequently goes to the Memorial Building. As she says—it is a considerable distance from the city hall or the War Memorial to the street corners where one has to wait for the busses, and then to have to wait for considerable periods without any shelter is a hardship on those who do not have their own automobiles. A good suggestion for a practical WPA project.

A generation ago Ward McAllister of New York was the arbiter who decided "who was who" in New York to the "400." Now we have an arbiter, Residents of Newton and friends of the late Elizabeth Spear are glad that her former residence will be torn down within the next week or two. Miss Spear bequeathed her property to the city with the proviso that the dwelling be used for some public purpose, if practical, and if not, that it be razed and the land converted into a "green spot." For the past three years the house has become dilapidated, recently young vandals have been breaking windows in it, much of the fence at the property has been destroyed, and the place was becoming an eyesore. It is proposed to save the little summer pavilion which is attached to the house.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

Summer's Synthetic Joys
The joys of Summer, now so near. Sometimes we miss, for reasons clear; If so deprived, bear this in mind—There's always the synthetic kind.

The hum of bees? Of course I can Switch on the big electric fan; The swimmin' hole, by brookside green? The bathtub's here—what's more it's clean.

A fishing trip with ne'er a bite? Down at the store they're lots in sight. The hilltop with refreshing breeze? The subway's cool but for the squeeze.

The wild-life calls that fill the air? There's traffic racket everywhere. Pick flowers where your footsteps stop? O. K.—if you can dodge the cop.

Newton-in-the-Sticks
Praise for our city, I am happy to say, drifts hither not infrequently. Sometimes it is not exactly as we ourselves would express it—but what of that? The latest came from a boy of 15 years who until five years ago had made his home in Newton.

Which time the family removed to New York. He was here last week visiting a former playmate. Asked how he liked living in the great metropolis he replied, "Gee, I'd like to be back in Newton for good. You know I always liked the country better than the city."

Family Plebiscite
The success of the plebiscite in another city has set other official minds at work, I understand, with the hope of carrying out a similar proposal in their municipalities. I wouldn't advise going too far because I don't think the voters should be stirred up all the time. But it strikes me that there should be, at regular intervals, there could be a plebiscite at which would be disposed of several of those questions which sometimes precipitate family rows. How simple it would be to have a vote taken of all members of the family as to whether the old car should be overhauled or traded in for a new one. Whether the family should rent a cottage at the shore for the Summer or remain at home and take week-end trips. Even more delicate questions like the approval or disapproval of sister's particular boy friend, or passing judgment on the girl that brother is chasing around with—such matters as are not infrequently gone over at length in the bosom of the family might be settled for good and all by a mere plebiscite. In fact, unlimited possibilities present themselves, convincing me that another brilliant thought may be added to my store of bright ideas.

Nicotine Note
Only last week while riding on a Newton-Watertown car I discovered that there is at least one man who feels consideration for his fellow passengers and due respect for the rules of the Elevated. He entered the car near the junction of Commonwealth and Brighton aves., with a lighted cigar. I wondered if he were going to permit it to smoulder as the car proceeded to Boston. To some that is offensive. The road asks passengers not to do it. Much to my surprise the man drew forth from his pocket a pair of scissors of medium size. Swiftly and neatly he clipped off the lighted end, amounting at least to a quarter inch. The glowing ashes fell on the floor of the car and were soon without life. The smoker put the cigar in his pocket. Here's taking pains to be a gentleman according to your own pet theory.

Everybody Knows Her
There is one "perfectly true" story that I have heard repeated so often that I begin to question my own sanity, let alone the veracity of others. It is the tale of the woman who was in the habit of attending the movies regularly on "bank night" but who, for some cause unexplained, decided she would break her habit for that one evening and not attend. She wasn't ill or anything—just wouldn't go. And that was the night her name was called, with $250 as the prize. As far as I can figure it out that woman lives in every city and town where the movies hold "bank night."

Francis Candidate For Re-Election

The same committee interested in the election of Rep. Douglass B. Francis two years ago announce that he will be a candidate for re-election.

In addition to this committee, many new supporters have been attracted by Mr. Francis' excellent legislative record. Items of interest in this record include:

Appointed to committee on Banks and Banking.

One of the very few first year men to be appointed to an important recess commission—the Recess Commission to revise the Security Laws of the State.

Never has missed a committee meeting.

Consistently voted for lower costs of Government.

One of 14 out of 240 recently who voted against the $10,000,000 appropriation item in the budget, because part of the money was non-existent and would increase the State Tax.

One of 7 out of 240 voting against the State Wagner Act, which Act has proven inefficient and may be recommended for repeal.

Voted for stronger Civil Service and fought for Proportional Representation and City Manager form of charter for cities to take politics out of Administrative government.

Recent Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. Lance S. Anderson of 26 Sterling st., West Newton, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Cathrine Lance, to David Bond of Roslindale. Miss Anderson is a graduate of the Massachusetts School of Art.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Weston Egan of 116 Carver rd., Newton Highlands, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Barbara Egan, to George S. Gibson, son of Mrs. Jasper M. Gibson. Miss Egan attended Miss Wheelock's School and the Bryant and Stratton School. Mr. Gibson attended the University of Alabama.

Waban

—Miss Betty Didcott of Nashville, Tenn., was the week-end guest of Miss Betty Bierer on Collins rd.

—Mrs. Harry J. Klotz of Woodward st. has returned from Peoria, Ill., where she was called by the sudden death of her father.

THE NEWTON SUMMER DAY CAMPS for BOYS AND GIRLS

Provides a progressive summer camp program of healthful recreation under careful supervision. Swimming, handicrafts, horseback riding, beach trips. For information and booklet telephone Mrs. Chas. L. Goodrich, N. N. 0933 or Wel. 2328-R

HERE, sir, is the bright particular star of the automotive year: a car to make you proud and happy—you can prove that anywhere on the highway these bright May days.

In it, you can know luxury in your travels and still not over-strain your budget!

Fact is, you feel like a million just sitting in this Buick!

And you know you're commanding the "tops" in power the first time you give its eager DYNAFLASH engine the gun!

At the wheel you feel the buoyant steadiness that is TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING's special gift to motoring—the firm, fleet roadability of a car that's beautifully poised in all its going.

There's no "hop" on this fast one. It doesn't "gallop" or bounce or pitch.

Its soft stout coiled steel springs let the wheels follow the road—rise to the swells, dip to the hollows—yet pass none of that lively up-and-down on to the body.

You travel level as a straightedge, thrill to turbine-smooth power that's quick as lightning—know a kind of travel-comfort that neither road nor weather mars. Yet what are the facts on costs?

This great straight-eight actually costs less than some sixes! Price almost any other car, and by the time you've added in the extra values included in Buick's figures, you've paid for the matchless performance only Buick can give you!

So don't sit idly wishing for a star! Reach up—get this one! We're ready to show you any day it costs less than you think.

Recent Weddings

LELAND—PARK

Miss Beatrice G. Park, daughter of President John Edgar Park of Wheaton College and Mrs. Park, formerly of West Newton, was married on Saturday afternoon, April 30, to Robert Leland, son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Leland of Rye, New York. Rev. William E. Park of the North Presbyterian Church of Buffalo, New York, performed the ceremony in the chapel of Wheaton College at Norton.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white satin wedding gown, a tulle veil trimmed with lace and carried lilies of the valley. The matron of honor was Mrs. Richard W. Howell, sister of the bride, of Larchmont, New York. She wore a gown of burgundy red, and the maid of honor, Dr. Rosemary Park, another sister of the bride of New London, Conn., wore pink crepe. The bridesmaids, Miss Wilma Leland, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Donald G. Robbins of Cambridge, wore violet crepe. They all wore picture hats to match their gowns and carried bouquets of roses, tulips and sweet peas.

Henry T. Holsapple of Hudson, New York, attended the groom. The ushers were Richard Earle of Wellesley, Donald O. Lincoln, Harry Thomas and Richard W. Howell of New York.

A reception was held at the president's house following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Leland will make their home in Cambridge.

The bride attended the House in the Pines School and Wheaton College. The groom graduated from Dartmouth in 1934 and is now attending Harvard Law School where he is a member of the senior class.

BOUDREAU—DELANEY

Miss Helen Frances Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Delaney of 202 Chapel st., Newton, was married to Albert Thomas Boudreau, son of Mrs. Albert Boudreau of 28 Silver Lake ave., Newton, on Sunday afternoon at three o'clock in the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Rev. Russell T. Haley performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white lace over satin in princess style, a tulle veil of finger tip length caught to a Juliet cap, and carried a sheaf of calla lilies. Miss Rita Delaney of Newton was her sister's only attendant. She wore a gown of peach lace trimmed with purple velvet ribbon, a matching hat trimmed with small sprays of violets and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pansies and tea roses. John Boudreau of Newton was the best man.

Mrs. Ellen Passananti played the wedding music and Mrs. Margaret Delaney Morgan, sister of the bride, was the soloist.

A reception was held following the ceremony.

On their return from a wedding trip to Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Boudreau will reside at 33 Morton st., Watertown.

The bride is a graduate of Our Lady's High School in Newton and the groom of St. John's School.

SYLVESTER—CREAMER

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Creamer of Woodward st., Waban, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lenora Marguerite Creamer, to Mr. Charles H. D. Sylvester of Friendship, Maine, on Friday, April 28.

The bride is a graduate of the Sargent College of Physical Education in Boston, and for the past two years has been teaching in Fairfield, Me.

At the close of the school term the couple will reside in Friendship, Me.

Newton Highlands Plans Peasant Carnival

Newton Centre School Assn. To Hold Annual Meeting

The Newton Centre School Association will hold its annual meeting on Wednesday, May 11, at 3:30 p. m. in the Mason School Hall. Miss Charlotte Raymond, under the auspices of the Newton Department of Public Health, will speak on "Cultivating the Child's Appetite." At the close of the meeting there will be the usual social hour with refreshments.

On Tuesday, May 3, at the Abner Wheeler House in Framingham the Executive Board of the Association held a surprise luncheon party for their retiring president, Mrs. Otis W. Means, and presented her with a silver dish in token of their esteem. Mrs. Means, who is now vice-president of the State Parent-Teacher Association, has been president of the Newton Centre Association for the past two years.

At the Parent-Teacher Convention held in Waltham last month cognizance was given the fact that the John W. Weeks Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association has the largest membership in the state, over 600 persons; while the Newton Centre Association is in third place with nearly 450. Allowing for the fact that many parents belong to both organizations, there are still almost 1,000 members in the two local groups.

The Children's Festival, that proved such a success last year, will be given by the Newton Centre Association again this year on the Newton Centre playground, Saturday, May 21st.

Newton Man Heads Piano Tuners Association

The Annual Banquet of the Boston Association of Piano Tuners, J. W. Tapper, President, was held this week at Riverbank Court Hotel, Newton members are Mr. Louis Haffermehl of Newton Centre and Francis Sheehan of Newton.

The two guest speakers were Mr. George Gibson, Dean of New England Conservatory of Music and Mr. Rolla A. Burke, of Kimball Piano Co. of Chicago. President Tapper spoke of "The Growth of the Music Industry" and gave a two-reel film on "The Making of a Steinway" showing the complete factory process from beginning to finish.

Fined $50 For Drunken Driving

George Shea of Worcester was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on Saturday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested on the pike on April 22 by Patrolman Jenkins after Lieut. John McLaughlin of the State Police had complained to Jenkins.

DAVIS—HARTWELL

Miss Patience Roberta Hartwell, of 51 Perham st., West Roxbury, and formerly of Newton, daughter of Brigadier General and Mrs. Herbert F. Hartwell of Brockton was married to Arnold Blake Davis of 35 Pulsifer st., Newtonville on Saturday, April 23 at four o'clock in the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. J. Franklin Knotts performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white silk crepe and a veil with coronet of braided tulle. She was attended by her sister, Miss Priscilla F. Hartwell of Cheshire, Mass., who wore blue flowered silk. Carl E. Davis, Jr., brother of the groom of Newtonville, was the best man.

A reception was held at 35 Pulsifer st. following the ceremony. The couple were assisted in receiving by their parents and attendants. The home was decorated with spring flowers.

The groom is a graduate of Northeastern University and is employed in the Engineering Department of the City of Newton.

450 Pupils to Take Part in Pageant

After much careful consideration the cast of the Midsummer Night's Dream, the first outdoor pageant which the Newton High School has ever presented, has been chosen. They are: The Duke of Athens, Richard Van Gundy, president of the Drama Club; Egeus, father to Hermia, Henry Kendall; Lysander, in love with Hermia, Hugh Van Roosen; Demetrius, also in love with Hermia, Donald Fulton; Philostrate, master of revels to Theseus, Jim Dealy; Quince, a carpenter, John Noble; Snug, a joiner, Robert McGrath; Bottom, a weaver, Julian Allen; Flute, a bellows-blower, Felix Rogers; Snout, a tinker, John Higgins; Starveling, a tailor, Thomas O'Toole; Hippolyta, queen of Amazons, betrothed to Theseus, Marjorie Wood; Hermia, daughter to Egeus, in love with Lysander, Doris Mergendahl; Helena, in love with Demetrius, Constance Elrod; Titania, queen of fairies, Juliette Harvey; Oberon, king of fairies, William Stark; Puck or Robin Goodfellow, Leon Kruger; Peaseblossom, fairy, Betty Fales; Cobweb, fairy, Sydney Ganteaume; Mustard Seed, fairy, Janet Allenbrook; Moth, fairy, Joan Cox; first fairy, Virginia Wilson.

Other members of the Drama Club are taking the parts of fairies and elves and attendants. Betty Golden, Newton class of 1935, recently achieved the honor of being elected to serve as news editor of the Wellesley College News for the year 1938-39. Betty worked on the Newtonite when she was here at Newton. Louise Mann '37, now of Burlington, Vt., was recently made a reporter on the Vermont University Cynic, the undergraduate newspaper. Gale Wisbach '35, of 30 Broadway, Newtonville, a junior at Brown University, was elected co-chairman of the Pipe, Cane and Jacket Committee. The duty of this committee is to procure pipes, canes and jackets for their classmates to use during their senior year.

Miss Ruth Stephenson, class of 1934, is in the cast of the popular Broadway Musical comedy, "Between the Devil and the Deep Water," which is being presented at the University of Vermont.

John O. Tomb and Anson Piper, class of 1936, and Richard Lovell, '37, are on the Dean's List at William College. Marvin Perry '36, and John Mosby Perry and Julian Jaynes, class of 1937, are on the Dean's List at the University of Virginia.

Mrs. H. C. Rallsback at Drama Club. At their April meeting, the Drama Club was extremely fortunate in having as guest speaker Mrs. Hortense Crede Rallsback, noted reader and instructor at the Bishop Lee School.

In her discussion before the club, Mrs. Rallsback dealt with the subject of gestures, facial and body control on the stage, equally applicable to daily living. She stressed the impression that standing positions create and how they can be used. The horizontal line representing death and material things, and the vertical line which signifies life and the spiritual, vital side of life were brought to the attention of the audience. The use of the eyebrows and lids were carefully brought out and Mrs. Rallsback illustrated how they can be used to depict every emotion.

Most important emphasis was laid on voice quality and the fact that everyone is born with a good voice, yet with some their environment and way of looking at life distorts it.

Y. M. C. A.

Sixty-First Annual Meeting and Banquet

Mr. Frank A. Day was re-elected President of the Newton Association by the Directors at a well attended Annual Meeting held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. building on May 2nd. F. Sayford Bacon was chosen Vice-President; Eldred M. Peterson, Clerk; and James B. Melcher, Treasurer. Directors elected to serve 3 years were Frederic D. Fuller, Charles D. Kepner, D. Webster Anders, Frederic B. Eastman, Hon. Edwin O. Childs, Ben T. Fawcett, J. Sherman Irving, and Roger B. Tyler. Trustees to serve 4 years were William Hall Best and William H. Rice; for 2 years, Frank L. Richardson.

The guest speaker was Dr. C. Gordon Brownville, Minister of Tremont Temple, Boston, who took for the topic of a most inspiring address "A Rendezvous with Life." Edward M. Randle sang a group of songs which were enthusiastically received. Louis V. Haffermehl was his accompanist.

A report of the year's work was presented by H. W. Bascom, General Secretary, in printed form. Wishing to emphasize several important activities he called upon Charles D. Kepner to speak about Camp Frank A. Day, Clyde G. Hess on work for younger boys (Cadets), D. Webster Anders and Arthur M. Jacobs for the Physical Department activities, and Carl A. P. Johnson on Public Speaking, Discussion Groups, and the Round Table Club. Mr. Bascom mentioned that the three directors retiring at this meeting were Walter C. Wrye, who had served the Association as Treasurer since 1927; Marvin B. Perry who had been an efficient member of the Finance, Camp, and Personnel Committees; and Julius E. Warren, who because of his experience in Association and Educational work had proved a valued adviser on Association policies.

Mr. A. Leslie Harwood, Jr., President of the Newton Community Chest, brought the greetings of that organization, and told of plans for the 1938 Community Chest Campaign.

During the dinner James B. Melcher led the singing, with George King at the piano.

Among those present were D. Fletcher Barber and Edward L. Bacon who have been interested in the Newton Y. M. C. A. since its organization in 1877, and Pitt F. Parker, a former General Secretary.

Annual Swimming Campaign

One hundred and sixty-five boys from the schools of Newton and Watertown enrolled in the Learn-to-Swim Free Swimming Campaign held last week at the Newton Y. M. C. A. in co-operation with the Massachusetts Humane Society. The instructor was Jack Manning. Six classes met daily with an average daily attendance of one hundred and twelve boys.

Eighty-three boys passed the swimming test at the end of the week. Eighteen boys were awarded medals for becoming the best swimmers in their groups. They were:

Ralph Charter, Mann School; Jean St. George and Clifford Boutrot, Jr., Carr School; Parker Manderstrot, Cabot School; Herbert Burns, Underwood School; Carl Colcord, Burr School; Richard Boudreau, St. John's Evangelist; George Bjornson, Pierce School, all of Newton.

From Watertown: Eugene Killeen, John Marderosian, William Johnson, Edward Kamell, and Maxwell Shea, Hosmer School; Andrew Russo and Frank Zuppa, Phillips School; James Baguel, Coolidge School; William Martin, Lowell School; Martin Sabounjian, East Junior High School.

Air Mail Week Newton Committee

Many local men and women, prominent in business, educational, political and social circles, have been named on the Newton National Air Mail Committee announced this week by Joseph F. O'Gorman, Superintendent of the Newton Post Office and Executive Chairman in this city during the 20th Anniversary Exercises of the Air Mail Service to be held throughout the country during the week of May 15th to 21st. Local postal superintendents comprise the executive committee.

The honorary committee consists of Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Chairman, Leverett Saltonstall, Sinclair Weeks, Charles E. Hatfield, Senator Arthur W. Hollis, Michael L. Madden, William E. Rice and Frank L. Richardson. George M. Bradley is in charge of radio broadcasts. Superintendent of Schools Julius E. Warren is chairman of the education committee and James P. Gallagher, clerk of the Newton Court, heads the civic-fraternal committee. Fred D. Bond, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is chairman of the business-professional group and John T. O'Neil will have charge of the Air Mail Pick-up schedules and services.

Arch Bellinger, president of the Kiwanis Club, and Dr. Frank Clarke, president of the Rotary Club, will handle the civic clubs' activities while Grand Knight John Mahan of Newton Council, Knights of Columbus and Robert Driscoll, Exalted Ruler of the Newton Elks will take care of fraternal organizations. J. Sherman Irving, commander of the Newton Legion Post No. 48, will be chairman of veteran organizations' committee and Leigh M. Nisbet and Miss Margaret Adams, Executive Scouts, will be in charge of the Boy and Girl Scouts' committee, respectively.

A beautiful cachet, showing the Newton city seal, and advertising it as the Garden City, will be used on May 19th, on every air mail letter mailed in this city. The souvenir is being eagerly sought after by stamp collectors and already hundreds of Newton people have planned to send at least one air mail letter during the celebration in order to secure this handsome souvenir. Whether letters are sent to Newton addresses or not, you can secure the souvenir by simply paying the 6-cent air mail postage. The cachet

Rotary Club

At the meeting of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club, Dr. Charles A. McClure, Professor in the School of Medicine at Boston University, and a member of the staff of the Boston City Hospital, spoke on "Who Will Choose Your Family Doctor?" This topic offered Dr. McClure the chance to express his point of view concerning socialized medicine. He felt that under present conditions socialized medicine is impractical and is a myth in our democracy. He stated that while it may represent a sincere academic opinion, that it would be quite impossible and undesirable to attempt its application in present society. He pointed out the dangers of having a practical group of medical people placed under the control of lay people or law makers.

Dr. McClure emphasized the fact that the great majority of people today have incomes sufficient to provide proper medical attention if they wished to have it or needed it. He emphasized that statistics prove that we spend billions of dollars on luxuries such as tobacco, candy, musical instruments, cosmetics, and the like, whereas, as a nation, we spend only $750,000,000 a year for medical treatment. He expressed the opinion that the fine morale of our medical personnel would be seriously crippled if they were to be subjected to, or should be required to operate under a plan of state or socialized medicine.

40th Anniversary of Nursing Association

The 40th anniversary of the Newton District Nursing Association will be observed at the annual meeting of the organization on Monday, May 9th at the Brae Burn Country Club. Luncheon will be served at 12:30. Among the honored guests will be Mrs. William H. Coolidge, a former resident of Newton and now of Boston, the founder and organizer of the association and Mrs. Samuel H. Powers, the first president. Mrs. Louis Arnold of Waban, present president, will welcome all former officers and directors as well as present board members.

Mrs. Albert Hutchinson of Newton Highlands will give a resume of the association's history.

Mrs. John Brown, Jr., of Auburndale, is chairman of the committee in charge of the anniversary meeting, assisted by Mesdames Starwood Bradley, Paul Chandler, Howard P. Converse, Brewer Eddy, Harry Guterman, Stephen B. Wilson and Misses Marian Dorr and Helga Nelson, executive director.

Marian Hertha Clarke, who is associated with a Boston broadcasting station, spoke on "What You Don't Know About Broadcasting" at the afternoon session of the Woman's Association of the Newtonville Methodist Church on Wednesday. Discussing two common criticisms of radio programs, too much advertising and too many poor programs, her talk was pertinent, timely and to the point. The Association has made and donated to various organizations this year 110 garments, has sewed for the Red Cross and for the Newton Hospital and has also done a good deal of knitting under the chairmanship of Mrs. W. F. Stevenson and Mrs. F. W. Briggs. Group Three, Mrs. Atlee Lane Percy, chairman, which served the luncheon on Wednesday, entertained the guests by singing "When It's Apple Blossom Time in Newtonville" in the dining room where the tables were decorated with apple blossoms. The annual luncheon, with election of officers will be held Wednesday, June 1.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Fine Program
Triennial

Many Massachusetts clubwomen and officers of individual clubs and officers of the State Federation are to attend the Triennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is to be held at Kansas City, Missouri, from May 10th to the 17th. These are the official dates for the sessions, but as many pre-meetings are planned and arranged for the 8th and 9th, delegates already have started for this mid-western city which is abuzz with activity to make their stay there informative and entertaining. Many are driving out, and started at the latest by the 5th of May. Many left earlier.

Tomorrow afternoon, Saturday, the 1 o'clock train from the South Station in Boston will leave with Mrs. John H. Kimball, the State Federation president, aboard, and many other State officers, including Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of Winchester; Mrs. Herbert F. French, Braintree; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Saugus; Mrs. Norman H. Hastings, Roslindale; Mrs. Charles L. Fuller of Brockton, with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Albert Fuller; Mrs. D. Henry Childs, Canton; Mrs. G. Viola Dangelmayr, Waltham; Mrs. Edwin B. Troland, Malden; Mrs. LaFell Dickinson, Keene, N. H.; and Mrs. Walter H. Woods, Chestnut Hill.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president of the Newton Federation, is one of those driving out, having in her party Mrs. David A. Westcott, of Dorchester; Mrs. J. Verity Smith, of West Roxbury; and Mrs. Carl S. Floyd, of Winthrop, all of the official family of the State Federation. Others of our own Newton women going are Miss Nellie M. Osborne, and her sister, Miss Florence M. Osborne, of Newton Upper Falls, the former being the president of the Woman's Club of that section; and Mrs. Susan F. Tuttle, of Auburndale, Massachusetts will have the honor that their State president, Mrs. Kimball, will be in charge of the New England dinner, Wednesday night, May 11th, at the Hotel Muehlebach, which will be the official Headquarters for the Convention. She also will give a report as head of the Massachusetts Federation. Mrs. Frank P. Bennett and Mrs. Carl W. Hildreth, Jr., will be other speakers, and Mrs. Charles L. Fuller will report for the Mothercraft chairman, Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball.

Massachusetts clubwomen expect to have the pleasure of a reunion with the former National president, Mrs. Henry Gilbert Reynolds (Grace Morrison Poole) of Paducah, Ky., who will be one of the speakers during the Convention.

Kansas City clubwomen and public men are doing everything they can think of to make this Convention memorable to the delegates of the largest organization of women in the world. Vigorous speakers for the sessions, the finest of musical programs, delightful social events, will make the days a round of interest and pleasure.

The opening night is "Missouri Night." The entire Board of Directors will be tendered a dinner, which for formal honors will start the entertainment by Missouri, with dignity, festivity, and fine courtesy.

Those who arrive in Kansas City by May 8th will be able to attend Mother's Day services at their respective churches.

Continuing in the same spirit of formal honors as marks the Dinner of the evening of May 10th, at the opening session of the Convention, the Hon. Lloyd C. Stark, Governor of Missouri, and the Hon. Bryce B. Smith, Mayor of Kansas City, will be speakers. Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, the president, will preside. A Pageant, a historical fantasy of the cultural development of Missouri, arranged by Ruth Kelsa Renfrow, will be the program feature. Following, there will be a Reception to honor Mrs. Lawson, the president.

The many addresses, and social affairs will be recorded in the weeks to come by your Editor, but she will at this time speak of just a few of the notable ones. Perhaps the most appealing, because personal in interest, and so touching the heart and emotions, is the speaker announced for the closing session, President's Night, Mrs. Lawson's farewell to the Convention and to the Federation as its leading officer. She will introduce her own son, Edward Campbell Lawson, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who has chosen the subject of his address, "Palship," under which he will discuss the relationship between parents and children. As the National Press chairman states it, "Mr. Lawson is well qualified to speak on this subject, both as the son of our distinguished president, and as the father of two charming children."

Lady Nancy Astor, who has endeared herself to Great Britain and to America, the American-born member of Parliament, heads the list of distinguished women speakers, in keenest interest, perhaps. She will be heard on an international broadcast from London, Saturday morning, May 14th. Her address is sure to have food for thought, for she is a keen student of international political affairs, and of social welfare matters.

Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, a former president of the General Federation, who is now associated with the motion picture industry in Hollywood where she represents the organized woman interest in motion pictures, will speak on "Life and Laughter." Another past president, Mrs. H. Gilbert Reynolds, of Kentucky (Mrs. Poole) will discuss, "Am I My Sister's Keeper?" "Publicity—A Peace Making Factor," will be presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey Price, International Publicity officer of the Pan-Pacific Woman's Association. Miss Margaret Cuthbert, director of women's activities of the National Broadcasting Company, will discuss "The Woman Interest in Radio".

Dr. Thomas Parran, Surgeon General of the United States, who heads the Advisory Council of the department of Public Welfare of the Federation, will speak on "A Forward Look at National Health". J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will speak on "Crime and Your Home". "First Things First" is the subject chosen by the Honorable Sam G. Bratton, United States Circuit Judge and formerly United States Senator from New Mexico. Milo Perkins, assistant administrator of the Farm Security Administration, will speak on "One Problem We As Americans Must Solve". Welles A. Gray, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will speak on "You and Your Taxes". Dr. Karl A. Menninger, of the Menninger Clinic at Topeka, author of "The Human Mind" and "Man Against Himself", will speak for Mrs. Clarence Fraim of the department of Public Welfare.

One of the largest social events will be the Candidate's Tea at which the ten states presenting candidates, will entertain all delegates. Gallery tours, garden tours, and visits to beautiful and historic spots in and about Kansas City are being arranged. A motor tour of Swope Park will feature Play Day, which is always a highlight of a Convention. And there will be dinners, dinners, dinners, in honor of various officers.

The Juniors will have their own fine programs and delightful social events, and will attend the Senior sessions, also, if they desire.

All of which—and these are only a few of the splendid plans and offerings of Missouri—indicate that the Convention has much, indeed, to offer all clubwomen so fortunate as to be able to attend it.

Annual Meetings
And New Officers

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

May 9th is the day for the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. which will be held at the Peabody Home for Crippled Children. Luncheon will be at 1 o'clock.

Auburndale Review Club

The Auburndale Review Club met in the large dining-hall at the 1775 House in Lexington at 11 o'clock on Tuesday morning, April 26th, for their Annual Meeting. Besides the many regular members present, an honorary member, Miss Elizabeth Rider; a Charter member, Mrs. W. H. Blood; and eight waiting-list members attended. Mrs. Guy M. Winslow, the president, presided, and called for the regular and annual reports from the various committee chairmen. Mrs. Nelson Freeman, the secretary, gave a very fine report of the year's meetings. The report of the Nominating committee and election followed.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Mrs. Eugene U. Ufford; vice-president, Mrs. James G. Patterson; secretary, Mrs. Nelson Freeman; and treasurer, Mrs. Amos R. Wells. On account of the absence of president, Mrs. Ufford, the vice-president, Mrs. Patterson, received for her the good wishes of the Club expressed by a bouquet of red roses. A letter was read from Mrs. Ufford, in which she regretted her inability to be present and pledged her sincere efforts and loyalty as Club president.

Mrs. Earnest F. Drew, chairman of the Program committee for next year, announced as the subject for study "A Quarter Century of Progress", and assigned topics to each member.

The secretary presented Mrs. Winslow with a bouquet of white sweet peas and blue larkspur, expressing the loyalty and gratitude of the Club members for the delightful two years which they have enjoyed under her leadership. Mrs. Winslow responded most graciously and gave as a farewell thought that "if we face the sun all our shadows will be behind us". The business meeting closed with the singing of the Club Song by Mrs. Dana Kendall.

A short entertainment followed, prepared by the Program committee. It was a pantomime portraying "A Morning in School". Mrs. F. F. Davidson read the story, and it was well enjoyed by Miss Anne Buckley, as the Teacher, and Mrs. Walter Amesbury, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, Mrs. Eldin D. Lynn, Mrs. Walter Van Patten Steiger, and Mrs. Franklin Leland as the Pupils; and by Mrs. Grace Fiske as the school time piece. Its humor and originality was most pleasurable.

The Club then adjourned to the attractively decorated luncheon tables where a delicious luncheon most efficiently and generously served was enjoyed. At the conclusion of luncheon each one responded to the roll-call by reading a poem or by telling a story. Much merriment prevailed during this period, and it was proved that there were many real humorists among the members.

The secretary, Mrs. Freeman, gave her parting thought in these words: "Each cloud has of silver a lining. Though we may not see its light. The sun has not ceased its shining. Though hidden away from sight. Be faithful and active and earnest. In idleness never sit down. The better the dark cross you carry, The brighter will sparkle your crown."

With a few words of appreciation for the support of the Club during her term of office, and with best wishes for the future, Mrs. Winslow brought to a close the Club year of 1937.

Social Science Club

The Social Science Club held their Annual Meeting and Luncheon at the Brae Burn Country Club on Wednesday, April 27th at 10:30 a. m. Monthly and annual reports were read and accepted, after which the ballot for officers for the ensuing year was accepted and vote cast.

The officers for 1938-1939, many of whom were re-elected, are as follows: President, Mrs. Newton A. Merritt; vice-presidents, Mrs. Joe W. Gerrity, and Mrs. Charles Bemis Gleason; recording secretary, Mrs. J. Herbert Young; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Hayward P. Rolfe; corresponding secretary, Miss Florence C. Bacon; assistant corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clarence K. Reiman; treasurer, Mrs. Frederick L. Trowbridge; directors, Mrs. John T. Alden, Mrs. Lewis O. Hartman, and Mrs. Nathan Heard; and auditor, Miss Elizabeth S. Fuller.

Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by an entertainment which was given by Club members.

Newton Community Club

The Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Community Club was held in the Eliot Church on Thursday, April 28th, the business Meeting being called to order at 11:30 a. m. by the president, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs. Following the usual reports, announcement was made of a gift of $500.00 left to the Club for the Scholarship Fund under the will of Miss Jessie M. Fisher.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge stated that the proceeds of the Rummage Sale amounted to $273.00, with the assurance of more to come in.

The Annual Meeting was next in order.

The reports of the secretaries, treasurer, and Standing committees gave a very fine resume of the Club activities, each showing a great amount of work and enthusiasm in the past year, and high hopes for the year to come. The Education committee chairman, Mrs. Burdett Mansfield, announced the award of Scholarships to Miss Rhoda White and Miss Harriet Church.

Mrs. Franklin Smith, chairman of the Nominating committee, read the ballot. Mrs. Alfred Handley, Mrs. Royal Warring, and Mrs. Ramon Gustin were appointed tellers.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Frank H. Briggs; first vice-president, Mrs. James B. Melcher; second vice-president, Mrs. Maurice W. Dennison; third vice-president, Mrs. Ray A. Eusden; recording secretary, Mrs. C. H. S. Tracy; corresponding secretary, Miss Hope R. Mudge; treasurer, Mrs. Laurence Garwin; auditor, Miss Margaret H. Abbin; directors, term expiring 1941, Mrs. Howard M. LeSourd, and Mrs. George W. Wyman; and Nominating committee, 1939, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, chairman; and Mrs. J. Le Roy Conel, Mrs. Louis J. Hunter, Mrs. Raymond B. Ladoo, and Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg.

The president thanked the Club members for their cooperation in making the past year a happy and successful one, and wished everyone a very pleasant vacation.

The business meeting was followed by a delicious luncheon, in charge of Mrs. Allan N. Kee, chairman. The head table was decorated with spring flowers. The president, and the guest of the day, Mrs. Benjamin D. Miller, Twelfth District director, were presented corsage bouquets, and all other officers and hostesses were given pink roses. The tables were decorated with potted plants.

Mrs. Briggs told of the cordial welcome from Dr. Eusden who was unable to be present. The past presidents were presented, and responded briefly; also the vice-presidents were introduced.

Mrs. Miller spoke of the friendly greeting she always received from this Club. She gave a brief outline of the program for the State Federation Convention to be held at Swampscott. She ended by saying that while there would be a recess from Club work for the summer or for the future for Club officers or members there would be no recess from friendships formed during the years.

Mrs. John Nolan, chairman of Program, and Mrs. Arthur Mansfield, chairman of Music, presented the program of the afternoon. Miss Elizabeth Nichols Cary, comedienne and character artist, gave an entertaining and clever light program which was greatly enjoyed by the members and their guests.

Bill Elliot, well known baritone of WEEL, rendered several most pleasing selections.

Newton Highlands Woman's Club

The Annual Luncheon of the Woman's Club of Newton Highlands was held at the Woodland Golf Club on Tuesday, May 3rd, at 12:30 p. m.

Following the luncheon, the Annual Meeting was held at the Congregational Parish House in Newton Highlands. Annual reports were given by the various officers of the Club, followed by brief, condensed reports of committees. Miss Natalie Norton, the recipient of the Club Scholarship was introduced by Mrs. H. Herbert Hale, the president, and very graciously thanked the Club for their award. Miss Marian Stratton read the report of the president of the "Juniors," Miss Harriet Gray.

Mrs. Hale, the retiring president, spoke very graciously of her tenure of office.

The tellers reported the following ballot elected: President, Mrs. Malcolm Green; first vice-president, Mrs. Herbert G. Dunphy; second vice-president, Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham; recording secretary, Mrs. Carl C. Peterson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James deHuff Raitt; treasurer, Mrs. Russell N. Hopkins; auditor, Mrs. Harry P. Forte; directors for one year, Mrs. H. Augustine Smith and Mrs. Herbert O. Steeves; directors for two years, Mrs. Vincent H. Mariotti and Mrs. Henry H. Skelton; chairman of the Nominating committee, appointed by the president, Mrs. Robert S. Austin; member of the Nominating committee, appointed by the Executive Board, Mrs. Robert E. Briggs; and members elected by the Club, Mrs. Frank I. Black, Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, Mrs. M. Paul Hessler, Miss Harriet M. Marcy, and Mrs. Arthur S. Williams; and directors for the Work-shop, Mrs. Walter G. Archibald, Mrs. James G. Gillespie, and Mrs. Emory M. Wright.

Mrs. Hale presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Malcolm Green. Mrs. Green presided for the remainder of the program.

ART CHAIRMAN EXTENDS INVITATION

Mrs. George Norton, chairman of the Art Committee, cordially invites the residents of Waban to attend an exhibition at the Waban Library which will open with a tea on Saturday, May 14, from 3 to 6 o'clock, and will continue on Sunday, May 15, in the afternoon. The exhibition will show the work done by the pottery class, Mrs. Estabrook's class in decoration and Mrs. Allen's class in drawing and painting.

Resolutions Presented
At Triennial

Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, has announced that the Resolutions committee, of which Mrs. T. H. Grimley, of New Jersey, is chairman, is presenting nine Resolutions for consideration at the Federation's Triennial Convention in Kansas City, Missouri, which ends May 17th. The vote upon these measures by delegates from every state in the Union will determine the policy of the General Federation, an organization of two million women, regarding issues of vital importance.

The first, presented by Mrs. Norman Hastings, of Massachusetts, chairman of the General Federation's department of American Home, pledges the organization to support the principle of uniform regulation of marriage and divorce throughout the United States.

The second resolution, presented by Mrs. H. G. Bogert, of Colorado, chairman of the division of Conservation of Natural Resources, and endorsed by Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Maryland, chairman of the department of Education, renews the Federation's unqualified support of the absolute maintenance of high standards for National Parks, and pledges its support to further the educational mission of the system, in order that the National Parks' integrity may be maintained and preserved.

From the International Relations department, under the chairmanship of Miss Alves Long, of Missouri, came resolutions three and four. Number three endorses the principle of the Hull Reciprocal Trade Treaties. The fourth resolution seeks to guarantee the sanctity of treaty obligations. It calls for support in principle of legislation to empower the U. S., on consultation with other states signatory to the Kellogg-Briand Pact, to withhold from states, entering into agreements or situations contrary to provisions of the Pact, financial transactions which shall enable them to prosecute their violative acts. If one state invades another in violation of a treaty, the resolution calls for employment of economic measures against the invader.

Mrs. William Dick Sporsborg, of New York, chairman of Legislation, presented resolution number five. It expresses the belief that the burden of taxes, federal, state, and local, borne both directly and indirectly by our people is retarding the free expansion of business and crippling the consumer's purchasing power. It requests the Government of the United States to revise or repeal existing tax laws that taxes may be reduced, business may make normal recovery, unemployment be abated, and the people need not buy more Government securities than they can afford. The General Federation recommends to State Federations an intensive study of, and informed action on, tax revision which will obviate the pyramiding of debt services and correct the system of hidden taxes which retards purchasing power.

The last four resolutions came from the department of Public Welfare, of which Mrs. Clarence Fraim, of Delaware, is chairman. Mrs. B. M. Bismarck, of Kansas, chairman of the division of Indian Welfare, presented a resolution pledging co-operation with the Extension Division of the Indian Service in its reservation home-improvement projects, and urging an adequate number of Home Demonstration Agents to promote a more desirable home life for the American Indian. Mrs. Carl H. H. of Massachusetts, of the division of Public Health, presented the seventh resolution calling attention to the fact that the General Federation of Women's Clubs has carried on a Syphilis Education Program for the past two years and pledging support, both federally and through the states, to the extension of facilities which will attack and conquer the plague of syphilis in this country. Mrs. Fraim presented the last two resolutions, dealing respectively with Uniform State Narcotic Legislation and Fiber Identification. In the eighth resolution the General Federation urges its member State Federations in states which have not yet adopted the Uniform State Narcotic Act to endeavor to secure this legislation, including provisions designed to control the traffic of marihuana. It further recommends that State Federations endeavor to secure the appropriations and facilities necessary for effective operation of these Uniform State Narcotic Acts.

Because accurate identification of fibers in material is the first step toward enabling the consumer to know what she is buying when purchasing fabric merchandise, the Federation in the ninth resolution commends the Federal Trade Commission for protection it has afforded through Trade Practice rules regarding silk and rayon, and urges extension of the work to include fibers of other materials.

Appeals for Materials

No citizen of Newton needs to be told that Newton playgrounds rank among the finest in the country but many may not know that the children have a reputation for making excellent handicraft from discarded materials.

Every year a plea is made asking housewives to save odds and ends gathered during the year, empty spools, stockings, ribbons, tape, pieces of silk or cloth, paper dolls, Christmas cards, envelope linings, embroidery materials, wool or articles suitable for prizes. The answer to this plea is always generous and the materials aid in keeping five hundred young children busy and happy during the summer season. If you have a donation, the playground truck will call for it at your home by appointment if you call the Playground Department, Centre Newton 4709.

ALL NEWTON MUSIC SCHOOL

Two informal, pleasing recitals were given by the pupils of the All Newton Music School on Sunday afternoon and evening May 1st at the home of the Assistant Director Mrs. Mabel B. Worth, 23 Perkins st., West Newton. The younger pupils played in the afternoon and the older ones in the evening, partly as preparatory try-out for the Spring Concert to be held at the High School on May 26th.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals for the furnishing of machine shop equipment required by the Newton Trade School will be received at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, Newtonville, Massachusetts, until 2:00 P.M. on May 16, 1938.

Proposals must be plainly marked "Sealed Proposal for Machine Shop Equipment".

All proposals must be accompanied by a certified check upon a national bank or trust company doing business in Massachusetts for the sum of two hundred dollars ($200), payable to and to become the property of the City of Newton if the proposal which it accompanies is accepted and the bidder neglects or refuses to execute the contract within six days (Sunday excepted) from the date of notification of acceptance of proposal.

A surety bond for the faithful performance of the contract in a penal sum equal to one hundred percent (100%) of the accepted bid will be required.

Specifications can be obtained at the office of the School Committee, Technical High School, Newtonville, Massachusetts.

Any alteration or addition to the terms of the specifications and form of contract may be considered by the City as a cause for rejection of the bidder's proposal.

The Department reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids or any part of any bid and to award the contract entirely in the best interests of the City.

A duplicate copy of all proposals must be filed at the office of the Comptroller of Accounts, City Hall, Newton Center, Massachusetts, at the time of filing with the School Committee.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the power of sale contained in a certain registered mortgage deed given by Perry S. Fay and Mary E. Fay, each No. 11 of her own right, both of Newton, Middlesex County, Massachusetts, to the Cape Ann Savings Bank, of Gloucester, Massachusetts, dated September 19, 1932, and registered in the South Registry District, Book 3114, and also on Certificate of Title No. 1162 in said Registry District, Book 135, Page 12.

Will be sold at Public Auction on the premises hereinafter described, on Saturday the twenty-first day of May, 1938, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon for breach of the condition of said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, all of the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed and described therein as follows:

"A certain parcel of registered land with the dwelling-house and garage thereon situated on the southerly side of Ward Street in Newton Centre in said Newton, and shown as Lot 1 on a 'Plan of Land in Newton Centre belonging to William H. Newcomb,' made by E.S. Smille, Surveyor, dated December 28, 1932, and filed with the Registry District of Middlesex South District Deeds, Book 5556, Page 37, which said plan is numbered 953-B and is a subdivision plan of the parcel of land described in Certificate of Title No. 16187, said parcel being bounded and described as follows:

"Northerly by the southerly line of said Ward Street, sixty-six (66) feet; easterly by land now or lately of Dorothea B. White, thirty-three (33) feet; southerly by land formerly of Loreta M. White, thirty-three (33) feet; westerly by land formerly of Loreta M. White, thirty-three (33) feet; and westerly again by land formerly of Loreta M. White, thirty-three (33) feet; all of Lot 2 shown on said plan, containing according to the plan 10,800 square feet, or thereabouts."

"Being the same premises conveyed to the said Perry S. Fay and Marjorie B. Fay by deed of said Edward E. Wright, registered in Middlesex South Registry District as Document No. 61911."

"The premises hereinafter described subject to the restrictions, rights and easements mentioned or referred to in a deed given by W. Wallis and William H. Newcomb, dated October 2, 1932, and registered in said Registry District as Document No. 4729."

"Together with all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric fixtures, including screened doors, awnings, and other fixtures of whatsoever kind and nature which shall, prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage, be placed in the aforesaid buildings."

Said premises will be sold subject to any and all unpaid taxes, tax titles and assessments and other municipal liens.

Terms, $1,000 in cash or by certified check at the time of sale, and balance of purchase price on tender of deed at No. 109 Main Street in Gloucester, Massachusetts, within twelve (12) days thereafter, unless other terms agreed upon at sale.

Supreme Court Refuses to Hear Simpson Appeal

On Monday the United States Supreme Court refused to review the findings of Massachusetts courts on the case of Edward P. Simpson who murdered Patrolmen Lawrence Murphy and Henry Bell of the Newton police. Simpson's counsel had taken an appeal to the Supreme Court and by so doing had gained a second respite for the gangster and slayer. Simpson fatally shot Bell and Murphy last August. He was found guilty in a trial last November and the judge set the execution several months ahead, to the first week of April, 1938. In March a respite was obtained on the Simpson's execution for the alleged reason that he was involved in the trial of another burglar who had been involved with him in a wool robbery. The first respite delayed the date of the execution to the latter part of April. Then the petition to the U. S. Supreme Court was used as the means of obtaining a second respite from Governor Hurley and his Council until May 12.

In the past few years appeals have been taken to the U. S. Supreme Court by counsel for a number of criminals who committed cold blooded murders in Massachusetts, and of whose guilt there was no doubt. In each case the Supreme Court refused to review the case.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Charles S. Kinney and Myrtle M. Kinney husband and wife as tenants by the entirety to the Newton Savings Bank, dated June 2, 1936 and recorded with Middlesex South District Deeds in Book 6039 Page 443, for breach of the condition therein contained and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction upon the premises hereinafter described, on Wednesday, the first day of June, 1938 at four o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises described in said mortgage deed, namely: "The land in that part of said Newton called West Newton, with the buildings thereon, being Lot 7 of a 'Plan of Land' belonging to the West Newton Land Company, drawn by J. Franklin Fuller, dated August 1, 1886, duly recorded, and bounded as follows:

NORTHWESTERLY by Winthrop Street, one hundred twenty (120) feet; SOUTHWESTERLY by land now or late of Joseph B. Whittemore, one hundred eighty-six and 31/100 (186.31) feet; SOUTHEASTERLY by land now or late of Charlotte S. Davidson, one hundred twenty-one and 78/100 (121.78) feet; NORTHEASTERLY by land now or late of M. L. Putnam, two hundred eight and 19/100 (208.19) feet. Containing about 23,470 square feet. Being the same premises conveyed to us by the grantee hereof, by deed herewith to be recorded. Including as a part of the realty all furnaces, heaters, ranges, mantels, gas and electric light fixtures, screens, screen doors, awnings, electric and gas refrigerators and all gas, oil, electric and other fixtures of whatever kind and nature at present contained in, upon or about the buildings on said land or hereafter placed thereon prior to the full payment and discharge of this mortgage.

Said premises will be sold subject to any unpaid taxes, tax titles, municipal liens and assessments.

Five Hundred Dollars at time and place of sale.

Capture Fifth Title In Ten Years With 34 Points

With Frank Hines and Don MacKinnon setting the pace Newton High scored 34 points to win the annual Worcester Tech interscholastic meet last Saturday. The orange and black's nearest competitors were Lawrence with 16 1/2 points and Lowell with 14. Other schools with points were Wor. Com. 12; Fairhaven, 11; Wor. Class 9, Milton 9, Brookline 8 1/2, Everett 6, Wor. No. 6, Rindge 5, Framingham 2, Gardner 1. It was Newton's fifth title in less than 10 years at the Worcester meet. Coach Enoch's charges scored in all but three of the 12 events, chalking up four first places. Hines' two first places were in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. The 100 yard final was one of the closest finishes of the day with Hines getting the nod over his major rival, Billy Wood of Brockton, by the barest of margins as Wood came fast over the Newton yards to almost overtake the Newton ace. In the 220 Hines led Walker of Everett, and Stayman of Wor. Classical.

MacKinnon captured both the high and the low hurdles. Both his wins were decisive with a three and a five yard margin.

Bill Pescosolido, nursing an injured leg muscle, took seconds in both the high and broad jumps, losing in both events to Harris of Wor. Commerce. Babcock scored a second in the half-mile run for three points, Duffy a second in the discus, and Stewart MacNeill and Warren Maguire figured in a triple tie for third in the pole vault to raise Newton's total.

Other Newton boys showed well in the trials which were held in the morning but found the competition too keen in the afternoon finals. Bill Hurley took second to Wood in his trial in the 100 but failed to survive the semi-finals. Jerry Allen won the first trial, 220 and third in the first semi-final. Neil Cheney placed second in his trial in the high hurdles and won his trial heat over the 220-yard low barriers but lost out in both semi-finals. Fred Hall and Jim

THE "FORGOTTEN ISSUE"

Is interest in moral issues dead? Do economic issues transcend every other question? Can people and nations survive who show decadence of moral and therefore physical stamina?

These questions and similar ones arose after Judge Joseph Zottoli of the East Boston Municipal Court spoke to 500 members of the Boston City Federation at their Annual meeting and Luncheon last Thursday. It is interesting to note that arrests for all causes in the state dropped abruptly the year following Prohibition, rose slowly thereafter due to lack of enforcement and bootlegging until the coming of Repeal, when the number of arrests and the number of inmates in our various institutions catapulted alarmingly.

Shall we build more jails, more madhouses, more institutions for delinquents, the Judge asks; or shall we courageously analyze the situation, find the leak in our ship of state and do something about it? Does the revenue from alcohol pay for the damage it causes? Judge Zottoli gives an emphatic NO and offers these figures to substantiate his assertion.

The Boston Welfare Department spends yearly more than thirteen million dollars caring for destitutes, 37% of this is caused by alcoholism.

Charge to Intemperance.....$4,810,000

Private charities co-operating in the Boston Community Fund spend nearly four million dollars a year—at least 36% due to alcoholism

Charge to Intemperance.....$1,440,000

Total for Boston.....$6,250,000

And this does not include Boston's share in the state's expenditure of about ten million annually on institutions for the insane (25% due to alcoholism); and about one million five hundred thousand annually for jails, state farm etc. (84% of commitments due to alcoholism) or the great cost that alcohol places on the Police Department, courts, etc.

Moreover the ten year survey made by Charles W. Eliot and his committee stated "Drinking is responsible for 25% of all insanity, 37% of all poverty, 50% of all crime, 46% of all child misery." Can we afford such a deadly luxury?

Contrast the policy of other countries with ours. In Germany, in Norway, in Russia, in Mexico, in Chili, the Government itself issues educational leaflets as to the evil effects of alcohol and authorizes regular temperance education in the schools, knowing full well the danger to the state from an alcoholized people. What do we see in the United States? A "wide open" country, over 400,000 drinking places (more than before prohibition) a million "bar maids" (more than women college students), no interest whatever on the part of the Administration in anything but economic issues, a constant stream of alcoholics to hospitals and state farms, broken homes, delinquent children, a dreadful increase in prostitution and auto accidents.

Judge Zottoli said, "Won't you women do something about this appalling state of affairs?" I say to all good citizens, men and women, won't you throw off your apathy, talk against it, act against it, vote against it?

CLARA E. BIRDSALL.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE

To the Editor:

How much are Newton folk interested in the subject of international peace? And how intelligent are they—readers of the Newton Graphic, let us say—on that subject?

It seems to me that an acid test is afforded by the opinion one has of our country's traditionally glorious wars, the Revolutionary and the Civil. Here are two cases of rebellion and secession. One was successful, and we glorify it. The other was put down, and we condemn it. (I write this as a Northerner, while not unkind of Southern sentiment.) Our secession from England was admirable. The secession of the Southern States was detestable. The secession

John Dolan Coal Company
Installs Three New Fuel Tanks

Because of a 92% increase in their fuel oil business last year, the John Dolan Coal Co. of Lower Falls has found it necessary to install three giant fuel tanks in their yard to store furnace oil.

Confidence in the future, the company and themselves lies behind the company's decision to make the $5,000 installation which will be completed May 15. An increase in the payroll and the addition of extra help will follow in the wake of this enterprising move on the part of one of the community's most progressive fuel companies.

According to George P. deCoen, of the John Dolan Coal Co., this major increase of facilities will enable the company to serve the community even more efficiently and promptly than ever, despite the enviable record maintained during the past 52 years.

Newton Dogs On Biting Rampage

The Newton Chapter of the American Red Cross offers these suggestions for prevention of accidents—during house cleaning time and for future safety:

1. Use a stepladder in taking down pictures and light fixtures. Don't use a chair as a substitute for a ladder.
2. Use a ladder for cleaning windows on the outside, or if that is impossible, adjust the upper and lower sashes that the person doing the cleaning may remain on the inside.
3. Keep a clear pathway through rooms and hallways—don't leave furniture and cleaning paraphernalia around where other members of the family may trip over them.
4. Use inflammable cleaning fluid only in the open air, away from flames. Also keep oil mops, rags, etc., where the air can circulate through them in order to prevent spontaneous combustion.
5. Check to see floors are in good repair, stairs well lighted, porches and balconies solid and secure, electrical equipment safe.
6. Inspect the medicine cabinet and put dangerous things out of reach of children. Poisons may be marked by pins stuck in corks, or with bells, so that they will not be taken by mistake in the night.
7. Avoid highly polished floors where elderly people may receive falls.
8. Inspect for defective stove or furnace-pipe connections, leaking gas pipes, unvented gas heaters, loose gas cocks.
9. Take matches out of pockets before hanging away clothes.

FUEL PURCHASE PLAN

A next winter's fuel purchase plan which enables householders to take advantage of low summer prices, yet spread their payments throughout the heating season, is announced by the Metropolitan Coal Company. It is estimated that for the average family this novel arrangement will effect economies equivalent to the acquisition without cost of a three to four weeks' supply of fuel.

The Metropolitan Coal Company's new system marks a notable innovation in dealer-consumer relations, making it possible for every householder to get the full advantage of low summer prices on his entire year's fuel supply.

The offer is announced under the title, "Fuel Reservation Plan." It specifies that a householder may order his winter supply of fuel during the summer months, at the low summer price, and with no expense other than the payment of ten per cent of that total purchase price. No interest or carrying charges are imposed, the balance of the fuel bill may be paid in equal monthly payments during the period from September to March inclusive, one half of the winter fuel supply will be delivered at the time of ordering and the remainder as needed during the winter season.

The Fuel Reservation Plan is available to householders over a wide range of territory through the main office of the Metropolitan Coal Company at 20 Exchange Place and through the fifteen branch offices in Greater Boston.

Hearing On Oak Hill Cemetery

that the water of Saw Mill Brook, which flows through the present St. Joseph's Cemetery and empties into the river near the wells, has been tested and not found bad. He said that Brookline water is quite good and does not have to be chemically treated. Dr. Mellus of the Newton Health Board asked Bushway if he thought the Brookline water supply would be polluted if the proposed cemetery be located on the Esty farm? Bushway answered "No," and then modified his reply by saying there would be a possibility of contamination in the future. James Esty asked Bushway if a large piggery, known as the "Lynch piggery," has not been located on an elevation adjoining the river and very near the Brookline water reservation since 1874? He received an affirmative reply, but the Brookline official contended that the seepage from this piggery might flow in the opposite direction.

Joseph J. Murray, Water Commissioner of Newton said that Newton's water supply is obtained from wells located on the opposite side of the river from the proposed cemetery and that the nearest well would be about 4000 feet distant. He stated that Newton's wells are from 31 to 45 feet deep, and that water seeps into them from large basins which were excavated on the Needham side of the river. Raw water from the Charles is pumped into these basins, and filters through strata of gravel and sand. He said if the Newton Board of Health approves the petition for the use of the Esty land as a cemetery, the water department will not object, but if the Board of Health disapproves, the water department will strongly protest against a cemetery permit being granted. Attorney Cronin said that inasmuch as the State Board of Health approves of the cemetery site, the Newton Board of Health should concur in this approval.

The award is made on the basis of "loyalty, attention to duty and military efficiency." Hodges is captain of Co. A, of the R. O. T. C. The presentation of the saber was made by Governor Lewis O. Barrows of Maine on April 30th at the annual battalion review.

Lightning Strikes Twice in Newton

An unusual lightning storm, coming in the near freezing weather of last Friday evening hit two places in this city—the chimney of a house at Newton Centre and the flagpole on Engine 1 house at Newton. Both bolts struck at 5:45. A large splinter of wood was torn from the flagpole. The bolt which hit the home of Irving Schwartz at 21 Merrill st., Newton Centre, knocked off the top of the chimney and bulged its walls. Some slates on the roof of the house were also torn off. The damage is estimated at about $1000.

Capture Alleged Chest. Hill Bandits

Boston and Cambridge police on Tuesday arrested two men who are charged with being the bandits who on April 27 gained admittance to the home of Bernard Goldfine at 72 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill, locked up four occupants of the house in an attic closet, and stole two diamond rings valued at $3000. The alleged bandits are Frank Farrara, 37, of Western ave., Cambridge; and John L. Barr, 47, of Los Angeles. The capture of the two was due to persistent work on the part of Detective Sergeant James V. Crowley of the Boston police, and his assistants, Detective Conaty and Di-Natale. Farrara has a long criminal record and has served time at Sing Sing. Crowley has been on his trail for several months because of other crimes in which he was allegedly involved. Knowing the methods used by Farrara in committing robberies, Crowley suspected that he was implicated in the Goldfine robbery. So he obtained photographs of Farrara and Barr and showed them to Mrs. Goldfine and the two domestics at her house and they identified them as those of the bandits. The Boston detectives had been searching for the pair for several days and on Tuesday spotted Farrara in Allston and arrested him. Assisted by Cambridge police the Boston detectives arrested Barr on Tuesday night in an apartment at Cambridge.

Farrara is also charged with a jewelry robbery in Boston November 8 and the robbery of a min. coat at Allston. Newton police obtained a warrant for his arrest following the identification of his photograph by Mrs. Goldfine.

Attractive New Spire Graces First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Newton

When the church was dedicated in 1927 everything connected with its use was considered practically complete. Every service the church building should embody in all its parts, was felt to be happily expressed in the structure as it then stood.

However, from the beginning, it was seen that from the standpoint of architectural beauty, some provision should be made for the erection of a spire. In response to this feeling, the architects, with the approval of the Building Committee, provided in the structure a base and the necessary supporting members for a future spire or tower.

As the years went by, the idea of the spire was more and more in the thought of the church, and the time came, when with great unanimity the members of the church decided to go ahead with the erection of a spire and thus give effect to a long cherished desire.

The architects who designed the church, prepared drawings for several types of spires, and one was selected which combined beauty of design with architectural fitness, and right relation to the rest of the church.

Apart from the question of design, engineering problems involving structural design and conformity to municipal building regulations, had to be considered. These were solved by the architects with the helpful cooperation of the Building Commissioner and the Chief of the Fire Department.

It was found that to meet the structural requirements and conform as well to the regulations of the City as to fireproof qualities it would be necessary to build the supporting framework of steel and cover this with copper. Consequently, a skeleton steel framework was erected, from the original brick base to the tip of the spire, a total height from the ground of one hundred and thirty-five feet. The framework was in three sections, each section being fabricated in advance, and these sections were hoisted into position and securely bolted to the section below. The top section had the weather vane fitted to it on the ground, and lifted with it to its permanent position. The hoisting was done by an unusually long crane and involved delicate and skillful handling.

The next step was to erect a wooden staging to the top of the spire so that the workmen could fit the sheets of copper to the framework. These sheets which had been fabricated in the metal shop, were bolted to the structural framework, forming a complete encasing of the steel; the whole outside covering of the spire above the brick work being of copper. There is no woodwork in any part of the spire; the metal construction ensuring the best results in respect to safety and durability at the same time conforming to the requirements of the architectural design. The staging also facilitated the painting of the spire, which was done with a preliminary coat and three following coats.

In its present form the church structure embodies the best traditions of the New England Colonial type. This type, using red brick with white trim, is found in many notable New England churches, one of the best examples being the Park Street Church in Boston.

The spire in its parts included the traditional Octagon section lighted by well proportioned windows, these being illuminated at night by electric lights placed inside and automatically regulated to go on and off for the period desired.

Seen from the street, or from a distance, the tapering spire of pure white is a community landmark, and easily takes its place on the street, along with the distinctive architectural High School group, and the equally distinctive Library Building that is to be.

All the funds required for the erection of the spire were paid in before the spire was finished, and the cost did not exceed the estimates.

The architects were Desmore, LeClear and Robbins, and the builders the Sawyer Construction Company.

Honor Retiring Fire Captain

Captain Michael F. Turner of Engine 2, West Newton, was honored Saturday evening at a testimonial dinner at the engine house by nearly one hundred friends and associates. Captain Turner ended his service with the distinction of never having been absent from duty on account of illness in his 43 years of service. Chief Clarence W. Randlett was toastmaster and the speakers were Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Rev. Thomas Boland of St. Bernard's Church, Brother Fabian, C. F. X., of the Working Boys' Home, Chief Johnson of the Waltham fire dept., Chief O'Hearn of Watertown, Chief Slamin of Wellesley, Chief Mahoney of Peabody, Deputy Chief Henry Seaver of the Newton Dept., Deputy Chief Hayes of Brookline, Chief of Police Michael Hughes of Newton, Clerk of Courts James P. Gallagher, and former alderman Justin McCarthy.

Chief Randlett presented Captain Turner with a check in behalf of members of the fire department and friends and Chief Mahoney of Peabody gave a check in behalf of members of the State Fire Association in recognition of Turner's services as a commissioner of the state relief fund for widows and dependents of firemen. Mrs. Turner was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The program included an entertainment consisting of piano selections. The affair was interrupted for some of these present when an alarm came in for a slight fire in a home on Arlington st., Newton, which apparently was started by a firebug.

The committee in charge of the testimonial included Lieut. John Keating of Engine 1, chairman, Capt. John Corcoran of Ladder 2, Newton Highlands, and William Jones, Engine 2. Captain Turner was appointed a temporary fireman on June 1, 1895, and was made a permanent member of the fire department in September of that same year. He was transferred to Hose 8 in 1896 and to Ladder 2 in 1901. He became a lieutenant in 1909 and captain in 1916. He was named acting second assistant chief and assigned to Engine 2 last September.

Arraign Chestnut Hill Bandits

Frank Farrara of Cambridge and John L. Barr of Los Angeles, identified as the two bandits who gained entrance to the home of Bernard Goldfine at 72 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill on April 27, and who stole two diamond rings valued at $3000, after locking Mrs. Goldfine, her young son, and two maids in the attic, were arraigned in the Superior Court at Cambridge last Monday on complaints obtained by the Newton police. They will go on trial next Tuesday. Farrara has a long criminal record. As soon as the case was reported to the Newton police, Inspectors Burke and King were assigned to it. A photograph of Farrara, who was suspected as being implicated, was shown to Mrs. Goldfine and her servants, and they at once identified it as being that of one of the bandits. They also identified Farrara and Barr at a night line-up in Boston police headquarters. In co-operation with Serg. Crowley and Special Officer Conaty of the Boston police, Inspectors Burke and King started to trail Farrara and on Wednesday evening, May 4th they captured him at Allston. Later that night these four officers with Inspector Prior of the Cambridge police, surrounded an apartment building at Cambridge and captured Barr as he attempted to escape down a back stairway. Both of the alleged bandits were held in $10,000 bail each, with double sureties. In last week's issue of the GRAPHIC by an unintentional error, due credit was not given to Inspectors Burke and King for the important part they took in capturing Farrara and Barr.

Burnable Rubbish Must Be Placed in Separate Barrels

On Tuesday, Street Commissioner Mahoney delivered to Chief Hughes of the police department 20,000 cards which will be distributed to householders and business men of Newton by policemen. The cards give the information that in the future the city ordinance relative to placing combustible waste and rubbish, including paper, combustibles and tin cans in separate containers from those holding ashes and other solids, will be enforced.

A couple of weeks ago attention was called in the GRAPHIC to a stubborn fire at the North street dump at Newton Highlands at a cost of about $15,000. When the incinerator was built, notices were distributed to residents of Newton instructing them to place combustible rubbish in separate containers from those holding ashes. Paper, boxes and other combustible waste was not to be deposited at the dumps, both to end the nuisance of dump fires, and to eliminate as far as possible the breeding of vermin in dumps. In line with this latter endeavor, tin cans were also supposed to be taken to the incinerator so that the gummed wrappers on them, and remnants of food in them, would be consumed. But, for sometime past, combustible waste has been carried to the dumps. Supt. of Streets Mahoney states this was done because many residents had not been obeying the city ordinance which specifies that separate containers must be used for combustible waste. He says that this has been especially evident in the Nonantum section.

Commissioner Mahoney says that fires in dumps take much of the firemen's time in extinguishing and necessitate the wasting of millions of gallons of water, which seriously affects the local water supply during the summer months or in drought periods.

West Newton Youth Speeder Fined $75

Bruce Dunbar, 17, of 35 Howland rd., West Newton, was fined $75 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court on last Saturday when found guilty on two charges of speeding. Young Dunbar was stopped by Patrolman Halloran on Walnut st. on March 31, and again by Patrolman Lovely on April 20 on Commonwealth ave. As he had been previously convicted within the year on similar charges in Brighton and Brookline, Judge Mayberry imposed mandatory fines of $25 and $50 for the third and fourth offenses.

In court last Saturday John H. Moran, Jr. of Braxton rd., Brighton was fined $50 for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested the previous night by Patrolman Smith.

Mail Thief Held In $20,000 Bail

Andrew McDonald, 42, of Pequotette st., Watertown, charged with having stolen the mail truck from the Newtonville postoffice on Jan. 14, was arraigned before Judge Sweeney in the United States District court at Boston on Thursday and held in $20,000 bail. Besides the Newtonville robbery, McDonald was charged with having stolen a mail truck from Grove Hall postoffice on Dec. 12, 1936, and on Feb. 12, 1937, with having stolen pouches from a mail truck en route from the North Postal Station to Arlington. Assistant U. S. Attorney Holtz asked for heavy bail for McDonald and said the prisoner had made a threat to shoot one witness.

Appoint Two New School Principals

The following information was released by the Newton School Department on Wednesday relative to the resignation of Samuel Paul, principal of the Mason School, the transfer of Clarence Churchill from the Emerson to the Hyde School, and the appointment of new principals for the Mason and Emerson Schools.

Mr. Samuel B. Paul, since 1908 principal of the Mason School, has announced his retirement at the end of the present school year. The School Committee in recognizing Mr. Paul's service of thirty years sent him the following letter:

My dear Mr. Paul: The School Committee of Newton, Massachusetts, desire to express their satisfaction in your thirty years of devoted service as principal of the Mason School District. Your genuine concern for the education and welfare of the boys and girls of Newton Centre has been outstanding. In this long period of service you have had the confidence, respect and affection of the parents as well as the pupils of your district. The regard that the people of Newton Centre have for you will continue in your period of retirement. It is with regret that the School Committee learns of your intention to retire at the end of the present school year. May the years ahead provide the richest opportunities for the leisure which you have so fully earned in your work as teacher and principal.

Ruth E. Dority was elected by the School Committee as Principal of the Mason School District, Newton Centre, last night to take the place of Mr. Paul. Miss Dority is a graduate of the Eastern State Normal School at Castine, Maine. She will receive her Bachelor's Degree in Elementary Education at Boston University next month. She is at present elementary supervisor of the first six grades in the Dedham, Massachusetts, public schools.

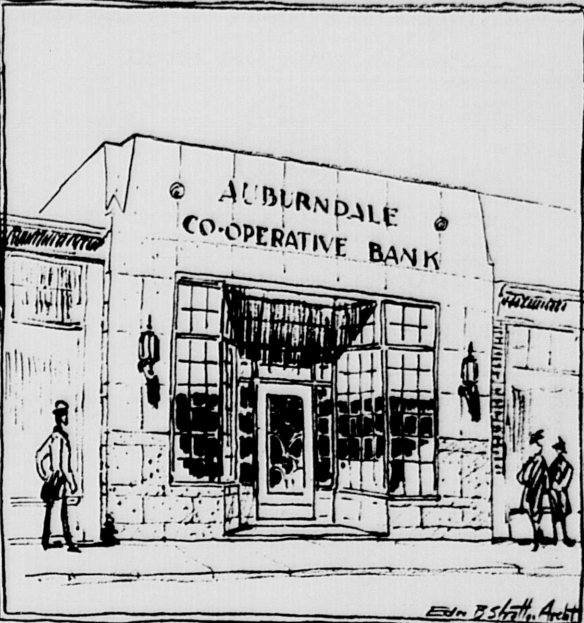

Miss Dority served from 1919 to 1922 as a model teacher in the Eastern State Normal School. She then was a teacher of grade four for three years at Winchester, Massachusetts, leaving this position in 1925 to become Supervisor of Elementary Schools at Greenfield, Massachusetts.

In 1928 Miss Dority became elementary supervisor at Arlington, Massachusetts, where she served for two years. She left Arlington because of an illness in her family which called her to her parents' home in South Bristol, Maine, where she taught in a rural one-room school for a period of three and one-half years.

When it was no longer necessary for Miss Dority to be at home with her parents in Maine, she became in 1935 a teacher in Newton, serving at the Underwood and Carr Schools until September, 1937, when she was elected Supervisor of the Dedham Schools. Miss Dority has specialized in the fields of reading and remedial arithmetic and comes back to Newton with a fine record of achievement in Dedham.

By action of the School Committee, Mr. Alan Acomb becomes in September Principal's Assistant in the Mason School District. All Mr. Acomb's teaching experience has been in Newton where he served as Building Assistant at the Peirce School for two years, three years as a fifth and sixth grade teacher at the Underwood School and this present school year as a teacher of Social Studies in the Weeks Junior High School. Mr. Acomb has been very active in working with boys in physical education on both the elementary and junior high school levels. He has earned his Bachelor's degree and Master's degree in Education from Boston University. Mr. Clarence E. Churchill, at present principal of the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls, was transferred by the School Committee to the prin-

New Auburndale Co-operative Bank

The Auburndale Co-operative Bank, with banking quarters at 295 Auburn st., Auburndale, has completed arrangements for quite extensive improvements to their building. The Edward Construction Company, of Boston, under the direction of Edward B. Stratton, Architect, is to replace the present low wooden front, with a simple modernistic design, carried out in a limestone effect. This severe massive pylon treatment, extending well above the adjoining shops, will give an imposing, substantial and dignified facade, in keeping with the financial stability of the bank. The Auburndale Co-operative Bank was incorporated in 1919 and for some years occupied a small office in the Taylor Block. Assets have gained steadily, today being in excess of $2,100,000.00.

Ciphalp of the Hyde School District in Newton Highlands, to take the place of Mr. Charlton D. Miller, who retired in March. Mr. Churchill will not assume his new post until September of this year. Mr. Churchill has been principal of the Emerson School since 1932.

Joseph H. Randall was elected by the School Committee as Principal of the Emerson School in Newton Upper Falls last night. Mr. Randall is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology with a Bachelor's Degree in 1923. He received his Master of Education degree from Boston University in June, 1936, where he specialized in Elementary Education.

He has a wide and varied experience as a public and private school teacher, serving as a teacher of mathematics at Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vermont, for a period of two years, and six years as Head of the Mathematics Department at Cushing Academy. He also served as Head of the Mathematics Department in the Winthrop, Massachusetts, High School for two years. In addition to his teaching experience, Mr. Randall has had three years successful business experience as an executive in the Stets Company at 141 Milk Street, Boston.

During the past two years, Mr. Randall has been a fifth and sixth grade teacher in the Angier School. Mr. Randall is a trained musician. At the close of his first year as a teacher in the sixth grade of the Angier School he wrote and directed a successful operetta at that school.

Mr. Randall has specialized in the fields of arithmetic and social studies.

Appointed Clerk At Newton Court

Miss Alice G. Gallagher of 35 Rossmore st., Newtonville, has been appointed clerk in the office of the Probation Officer at the Newton District Court by Judge Donald Mayberry. Miss Gallagher, who is the daughter of Clerk of Court James P. Gallagher, assumed the office on May 1st. She succeeds Miss Winifred Shorton of 263 California st., Nonantum, who was appointed acting clerk last June by Associate Judge W. Lloyd Allen.

Ask Ambulance At South Side

The Oak Hill Improvement Association has added its demand to the requests for an additional police ambulance to be stationed at the South Side of the city. At a meeting of the executive committee on Tuesday night, Thomas Fallon said he had witnessed an accident on Woodward rd. and it was 35 minutes before the police ambulance arrived. It is proposed to have the ambulance located at Truck 2 house in Newton Highlands.

Congressman Luce To Run Again

Congressman Robert Luce of the 9th Mass. District which includes Newton, announced on Wednesday that he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination this year. He has served nine terms in Congress. Four years ago he was defeated for the first time, when Richard B. Russell of Cambridge was elected. Luce, however, turned the tables on Russell in 1936 and was returned to Congress.

Nobsco Visitation Day will be observed by Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, on Saturday May 21, at the Nobsco Scout Reservation, three miles north of Framingham Centre. The afternoon and evening are packed full of scout and scout activities.

The purpose is to provide an opportunity for scout parents and friends really to see the scouts in varied activities at Nobsco and to become better acquainted with the Reservation. Events are the Spring Camporee, the All-Council Family Supper, and Annual Meeting and the big Rodeo Campfire.

At 2:30 p. m. the Spring Camporee will open. This is a camping competition between Patrols of the various Troops of the Council. From 30 to 35 Patrols are expected to enter. From 2:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. Patrols will be checking in and hike up through the Reservation to the Camporee grounds which are on a new site this year. Scout parents and friends will have the opportunity to watch the scouts on the trail and see them making camp.

At 6:30 p. m. a picnic supper will be served on the camping area known as Musketquad, to scout parents and friends. The Committee of Group 6 of Newtonville are doing the catering. Following this at 7:30 p. m. is the annual Council Meeting and election of officers.

At 8:30 p. m. the Big Rodeo Campfire, one of the outstanding events at Nobsco, will open in the outdoor Council Ring. Rope spinning, whip snapping, chopping and sawing and other contests will be held between the scouts. Scouts in the Camporee will close by 9:30 p. m. so that the scouts in the Camporee can get back to their camps and turn-in by the time Taps sound at 10:15.

NEWTON WOMEN'S DEMOCRATIC CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Newton Women's Democratic Club at the home of Mrs. Dennis M. Cronin, 37 Oakland ave., Auburndale on Saturday evening, May 14 at 8 o'clock. All members are invited to be present.

GET THAT NUMBER

When there has been an accident involving your car and another one, be sure to give your name and license number, and also take down the other driver's name and license number. To get his number is important, for sometimes people give fictitious names. Do not rely on memory or on your powers of observation; it isn't the kind of clothes a motorist wears, but the kind of numbers the car wears that often identifies the driver. Get names of witnesses too; that's important.

Letters To The Editor

PRaises Health Dept.

Editor, Newton Graphic:

It may be a coincidence that the effective efforts to meet local health problems which formed the basis for the awards to Newton in the general health contest, were the same as those undertaken by Dr. Smilie, when he became Chairman of the Board of Health in 1935. A Professor of Health at Harvard, he was also a recognized health expert and was frequently called to reorganize the health boards in the great municipalities. That country wide experience qualified him to suggest improvements even in the Newton Health Department and it was reflected in the quality of his appointments when he reorganized the Board.

Realizing that genius was not circumscribed by City limits or State lines he crossed the continent to give Newton one of the best health officers in the United States, basing his judgment on the work of Dr. Choje as a student and also during an epidemic in California. As a basis for his new health program in the schools he appointed a supervisor of school nurses and also introduced Dr. Ann Stewart to make a survey of the health condition of the pupils. Her report to the Board was a comprehensive document free from any social, racial or geographical distinction; it contained the results of the physical examinations, a comparative study of the work of each school nurse and school physician and an analysis of the results of the school dental clinic. It pointed out for the first time that the dental condition of the second generation in this clinic since 1919, was worse than the first, and that the City was conducting a mere dental repair shop without supplementary educational and advisory courses on preventive care of the pupils teeth.

He remained for Dr. Smilie to furnish a fully equipped City Laboratory for milk and water samples and as a result of the first tests the interior of the reservoir was thoroughly cleaned. To improve our milk supply he commenced a more extensive campaign among the producers than was carried on since 1914. Scanning the list of the twenty candidates for milk inspector in 1936, he was quick to recognize Alexander Robertson whose work on the milk supply of Bar Harbor, Maine, he had commended some four years before. His selection was later approved by the Civil Service Commission when Mr. Robertson topped the list.

Dr. Smilie favored health conservation contests which emphasized the habit forming features rather than the winning of the prize. He pointed out the weakness of many health programs—a suffusion of rules of sanitation and hygiene, often followed by a regime of living which was a negation of those principles. To be of permanent value there must be injected the moral dynamic of education for self-conservation, vividly illustrated by living examples in order that the pupils may emulate them in the days to come.

The rating obtained by this City is unique because we did not have the benefit of large health endowments like Detroit and other cities. Dr. Smilie was one of the three national experts selected to lay the foundation of the twelve million dollar health fund given to the State of Michigan by Mr. Kellogg in 1936. Newton has no health fund or endowment like the White fund in Boston or the Kellogg fund in Detroit. It needs none. It has received this award on its own merits and its own resources.

But we cannot forget the contribution by Dr. Smilie; that his expert services easily sought and command huge fees in other cities were generously and gratuitously given to his home city.

JOHN C. MADDEN.

INTERESTED IN OLD CEMETERY
15 Foster Street,
Newtonville, Mass.,
May 10, 1938.

Mr. Edward H. Powers,
Newton Graphic.
Dear Sir:

In the GRAPHIC of April 29, you have an article on the recent damage done to the Centre Street Burying Ground and suggest that the D. A. R. might become interested in preserving the old cemetery.

I would not offer our Board meeting, before replying as it seemed to me that some action might be taken. Naturally, we all deplore the vandalism of those low-grade morons who willfully destroy that which they are unable to understand or respect. Last year we protested to the city about the disgraceful condition of the Winchester Street Cemetery, and are quite willing to protest to the same people about the Centre Street Cemetery, if we thought it would be productive of any results.

If you can offer any suggestion as to any action which we can take to protect these spots, we will be glad to consider it. In the meantime, perhaps you do not know that the Daughters of the American Revolution are trying to copy the inscription on every gravestone in the United States. That may seem to be a large order, but that is the way we do things. The work is done by districts and towns. Last year I personally copied the inscription on every gravestone in Newton, except those in the Newton Cemetery, which are on file in their office. I not only copied them, but I checked them with copies made 20 years ago, and many stones which are now indecipherable are thus recorded in my lists. It took many weeks, as three copies were made, one of which is in the library of the Society in Washington, one at the Massachusetts State headquarters' room on Ashburton place, Boston, and the third in the Massachusetts Historical and Genealogical Society's library on Ashburton place, Boston; they may all be consulted by the public at these places. They total 426 pages, closely typed.

There are many other members of the Daughters of the American Revolution who are actively at work, copying the stones in their town, and the volumes done in Massachusetts alone now fill a good-sized bookcase. The expense is considerable, as we use the best quality bond paper, for durability, and the books are all nicely bound in cloth.

In fairness to our society, you must admit that the Daughters of the American Revolution do take some interest in old cemeteries, and we cannot protest from depreciation, we can at least preserve for all time the priceless historical records on the stones. The impression that all we do is to sip tea and wear ribbons and flowers is all too prevalent. That we are energetic and enthusiastic workers is a fact which is often overlooked.

Last week's GRAPHIC stated that the Board of Aldermen were considering the erection of a fence around the cemetery. That is good, as far as it goes. The awakening of public sentiment and the education of the youth of the city to a little good, wholesome respect for law and order, a little more understanding of the rights of others, and of the meaning of "mine" and "thine" would be better.

Yours very truly,

EDITH GREEN ALLEN.

Ex-Regent.

Rotary Club

Mr. Clarence A. Allen, headmaster of the River School of Brookline, spoke to members of the Newton Rotary Club on Monday at the Brae Burn Country Club. His topic was "Streamlining the Little Red School House." He pointed out that modern developments in education include a partial acceptance of the progressive education idea of "learning by doing" and (2) the taking of the guess work out of the education of children by the use of standardized intelligence and achievement tests. Mr. Allen then pointed out that actually people remember a relatively small amount of the factual materials which have been taught to them in our schools, and that we tend only to remember generalizations and methods of approaching various types of problems. The speaker felt that we should put much more emphasis upon a study of contemporary problems in order that our young people may be better able to face actual life situations when they become adults. He stressed the importance of character education in our schools and pointed out that we should develop persons with an openness of mind, and intellectual curiosity.

A significant part of the meeting was the announcement of the Rotary Scholarship Award for the coming year. The boy chosen for this award is Wilson F. Clark, who plans on entering Middlebury College in the fall. He has been a fine type of student in his high school years and was elected to the National Honor Society during his junior year.

Kiwanis Club

In a talk teeming with the salty tang of the sea air, Edward H. Cooley, Manager of the Massachusetts Fisheries Association, Executive Secretary of the Federated Fishing Boats of New England and New York and General Legislative agent of the Fishing Industries, delivered the finest talk of the year at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club.

Mr. Cooley sketched the growth of the fishing industry from the time our colonists landed at Plymouth right down to the present day. He told of the great change in the fishing industry from the days of the sailing fleets with their dry crows and of the new modern Diesel powered steel ships which are commonly known as trawlers.

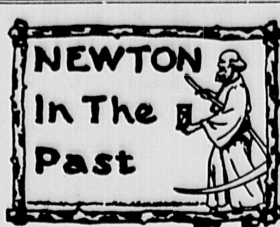

He told of the many developments in the marketing of fish, such as the use of Finnan Haddie which was first used when a fisherman caught a fish which apparently had been spoiled by smoke from a fish house fire. He showed the development of fillets from its beginning in 1921 when there was marketed 30,000 pounds, until in 1928 there was marketed about 60,000,000 pounds.

He told of the effect of the fishing industry upon various other industries, explaining that annually the fishing industry uses great quantities of fuel oil for their boats, ropes and cables for equipment, boxwood and tin for shipping the finished product, to say nothing of the new boats which are being added each year to the fishing fleet and the refrigerating companies engaged in the transportation of the fish products.

Mr. Cooley concluded his talk by answering many questions about the industry, such as the situation which recently existed in the salmon industry off the Alaskan coast.

Full plans for the Newton celebration of National Air Mail Week, May 15th to 21st, were announced Tuesday evening, in a special radio address to the Newton Postal patrons by Chairman Joseph F. O'Gorman, superintendent of the Newton Post Office. Leverett Saltontall, a member of the local Air Mail Committee was principal guest speaker on the program and gave a very interesting address on Air Mail. President Fred D. Bond of the Newton Chamber of Commerce also spoke on the value of airmail service to the business man. Hundreds of Newton people have ordered copies of the special souvenir cachet being printed only for this city's use.

Newton Republican, May 13, 1876

Lieut. Caleff gave a very interesting lecture on Temperance in Nonantum Hall, Newton on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the North Newton Reform Club. The audience by its numbers did not show so much interest in the temperance question as had been hoped by the managers. All who were present were well pleased with the lecture. Lieut. Caleff thought that in the administration of the law all should be treated alike. If the Parker House is allowed to sell liquor there is no reason why you should arrest a poor man who keeps a quiet place.

The North Newton Reform Club have purchased a lot of land on Chapel st. for their building from Thomas Dalby, and work was commenced on the cellar on Thursday morning. The club has money to pay for the lot and wants contributions for the erection of the building. Donations may be sent to W. K. Smith or Rev. S. E. Lowry.

Washington st. at West Newton is alive with Italians who have dug a trench for a long distance. In a few days we shall see the water pipe laid and the trench filled. When water is introduced in the pipes we hope not to have occasion to record sickness or deaths from impure water contaminated by poor drainage.

The Democrats of the Eighth District met in convention at Tremont Hall, Newtonville on Wednesday afternoon. George Bridges called the convention to order and Edwin Alving of Cambridge was elected chairman. The address made by the chairman reiterated the inflexible doctrines and views of the Democratic party. Corruption in high places was denounced. When the business of the convention was reached the chairman found much difficulty in keeping order. The committee on credentials reported 157 delegates from 22 wards and towns. An informal ballot was taken showing 158 votes. Charges of repeating and double dealing were made, causing quite a lively war of words, and the ballot was declared null and void. A formal ballot resulted in the choice of F. W. Clapp of Framingham, and a second ballot resulted in the election of Michael Norton of Boston. The convention then dissolved, leaving the delegates unpledged.

50 YEARS AGO

Newton Graphic, May 11, 1888

The City Marshal recently made a visit to all drug stores in the city to inspect their liquor books. He found everything perfectly satisfactory and the druggists all living up to the law.

The Committee on Street Lighting of the City Council will recommend that a contract be made with the Newton Electric Light & Power Company for lighting all the streets of the city. They have looked over the matter thoroughly and are convinced that the work can be done by the company. The company has offered to furnish 1400 incandescent lights and 60 arc lights, a larger number than are now of gas and kerosene lights for the same appropriation as this year—$27,000. The incandescent lights will be of 25 candlepower and even the back streets which are now illuminated by oil lamps, will have incandescent lights. There are now some over 1200 street lamps.

The horse driven by Chief Bixby of the fire department is a veteran in the service. He has been in use by Mr. Bixby since 1879 and seems to have lost none of his speed in getting to fires as was fully illustrated last Sunday.

The Newton City Band intends giving a concert at Newtonville Square next Wednesday evening and will appear in their new uniforms.

The opinion seems to be unanimous that the City Farm at Waban is becoming too valuable for almshouse purposes and that the land should be disposed of for residences. But where to relocate the almshouse does not seem to be quite so clear.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night Alderman Nickerson presented an order appropriating $550 for one-half the cost of a watering cart in Ward 6 on streets not heretofore watered, the people having raised the money. He said the money might not be needed as some of the residents in other Wards had failed to pay up and there might be a watering cart to spare.

At the meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday afternoon the Mayor said he had received a letter from the Newton Cottage Hospital regarding the moving of the building for contagious diseases from the Poor Farm, where it is now located, to the hospital grounds. Dr. Frisbie said he thought the patients in the hospital might not want to stay there if they had to be so near to the contagious disease building. In a case of small-pox, and we are apt to have one at any time, it is impossible to tell how far the germs are dangerous. Mayor Kimball said that when there has been a contagious case to be treated, it has been somewhat difficult to get attendants. Dr. Frisbie said that in case of small-pox, he would have the patient placed in the contagious disease building and hire attendants from Boston to come out and care for the case.

Powers' Paragraphs

Mussolini spent many millions of dollars last week putting on a big show to impress Hitler. But for years Mussolini has refused to pay one cent on the huge debt Italy owes to the United States. And we have a lot of sapheads in this country, most of them supposed to be intellectuals, who advocate that we cancel the debts owed by Italy and other European wenchers in the interest of international amity.

Not so many years ago the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was regarded as being better governed than a majority of the cities in the State. Members of the Legislature were rated with possessing ability superior to that of men serving in local governing bodies. But conditions have changed. The action of the Legislature last week in voting to add $5,000,000 more to State expenses this year is only one of the many things which have caused a large percentage of Massachusetts citizens to be disgusted with members of our Legislature in the past several years. Fortunately the Newton men who serve in the State Legislature have consistently manifested consideration for the welfare of their constituents. They have not voted to burden depression victims with more and more taxes.

Last year over 200 persons in Newton were bitten by dogs. Last month in this city 22 persons were bitten by dogs. Obviously this menace to the safety of residents of Newton is rapidly increasing. It is about time that some determined action should be taken.

It is to be regretted that half a dozen shade trees on Centre st. had to be cut down because of the widening of the street at the curve between Mount Ida st. and Newtonville. One of Newton's chief assets for the past three-quarters of a century has been its unusual wealth of shade trees, both along its streets and in the estates and yards of its residents. This past month the thousands of trees in Newton have been unusually beautiful. Because of peculiar weather conditions the burgeoning period was extended, and the foliage is profuse.

Alderman McKay of the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen in discussing this year's budget at a recent meeting of the Board, disparaged the fact that it seems necessary to allow such a small amount for the planting of new trees along our streets, and he commented that the tree planting activity of the city has lagged for some years. A couple of years ago a WPA crew dug up hundreds of holes were dug along Newton streets and filled with loam with the expectation that in the near future trees would be planted in the spots thus prepared. Newton owns a large area of land at its water reservation in Needham. Why not use this as a nursery on which to raise young trees which could be planted along the streets? If WPA workers could dig the holes for tree locations, why could they not be employed in raising the trees?

Street Commissioner Charles Mahoney has had 20,000 cards printed with instructions regarding the separation of combustible rubbish from ashes and other waste solids. These cards will be distributed by policemen. Mr. Mahoney states that many Newton residents have not been obeying the city ordinance regarding the placing of combustible waste in separate containers from ashes and this is the reason why rubbish has been deposited in dumps instead of having been taken to the incinerator. We reminded Mr. Mahoney that similar instruction cards were delivered to Newton residents a few years ago when the incinerator was first started, and we commented that the same type of people who have not been obeying the city ordinance regarding the placing of combustible rubbish in separate containers will not pay attention to the instructions now, unless practical measures will be taken to force them to do so. We said that years ago, when combustible and non-combustible waste were placed in the same containers, the men who collected the ashes and waste, did not empty such containers.

This method was resorted to when the incinerator was first put in operation, but the Street Commissioner says that many of those who did not obey the ordinance, complained when their rubbish containers were not emptied. Such persons should not be catered to. They have no consideration for their fellow citizens and refuse to co-operate. They are responsible for considerable added expense in the collection of waste and ashes, and they are also responsible for the nuisances caused by dump fires and the breeding of vermin in dumps. They should be compelled to obey the city ordinance. There is a simple and practical way to make them co-operate. The city ordinance specifies that ashes and combustible waste shall be placed on sidewalks for removal before 7 a. m. on days designated for collections, and that all containers shall be removed from the sidewalks on that same day. Furthermore, the ordinances specify that any person leaving ashes or other rubbish on a sidewalk over night shall place a light near the same to give warning to travelers. While the city has permitted the placing of rubbish containers on sidewalks during the later hours of nights preceding collection days, the ordinances exist which can be used to summon selfish and stubborn citizens into court when they disobey the instructions regarding the collection of ashes and waste. If a few were brought into court and fined, the rest would speedily conform with the ordinances.

The razing of the old house on the property at Washington st. and Walnut Park bequeathed by the late Elizabeth Spear to the city reminds us that Alderman Frank McCabe of Ward 1 has taken an active interest in the improving of this property in accordance with the wishes of Miss Spear. Public Buildings Commissioner Campbell informs us that it is intended to save the little summer pavilion which was attached to the old house, and that it might be retained on the lot. We fear, however, that youthful vandals would soon wreck the small structure if it became the centre place on the small park which will be created on the site of Miss Spear's former home.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

Keeps Fit

For excessive vitality where there is nothing that equals or surpasses a local tax rate? Newton's seems especially robust. As the years go by it becomes stronger and more powerful, proving that, in its case at least, "age cannot wither." The people are kept informed by annual bulletins. Before definite diagnosis in the late spring come reports of symptoms—"New high due for Newton tax rate," followed by "Tax rate sure to exceed past records," finally, "Tax rate jumps to highest point yet." Leaping and bounding, with altitude its only apparent aim, Newton's tax rate is no mean, puny thing. Its inexhaustible vigor, force and energy are apt to land it—well, who knows where? And we'll go with it!

Crowd's Presence Explained

On School st., Boston, in front of City Hall, there was one of those publicity stunts in progress in which the Mayor's office was involved. No harm, you understand, just a fleet of automobiles of the same well known manufacture, taking this way of displaying latest models. The crowd was dense (many of them with nothing else to do) and late arrivals, unable to discern anything from the outer edge, were particularly inquisitive. One woman, having observed the scene from a distance, hurried forward, thrusting others aside until she reached the only policeman on duty. "What's happened, officer," she demanded, breathlessly. "Nothing much," he replied, with a half-yawn, "a girl just hit her mother in the head with an axe."

Any Place Will Do

People have the oddest notions of places for holding extended conversations. I suppose the street corner is the favorite. Many and many a time have I observed two persons earnestly engaged in an exchange of thoughts (if any) oblivious to the passing throng. It's quite all right as far as I am concerned, providing I'm not asked to participate. Whatever the cause, and I don't see that it matters, I become very weary if compelled to stand for a long time.

And there are other queer spots. I have seen people meet on a staircase and plunge into a confab, never moving, no matter how many others are inconvenienced. You will sometimes find two together in the centre of the entrance to a well patronized store or public building. You and I and others must squeeze by, apologizing when really we should be apologized to. Conversationalists in pairs think nothing of blocking sidewalks, elevator doors, subway entrances, train aisles, theatre lobbies, revolving doors and a lot more places that seem to appeal to them as appropriate for a chat.

Parking Pigs

Something on the same line is contained in the following communication from E. F. C.: "You have written of the extraordinary workings of the minds of car owners when they set out to park cars. Their doings, as you reveal, are amusing. There are others which provoke anger and not mirth. They are the parking pigs who leave their cars any old place and then disappear. Often they pick out a busy street where maybe there are trolley car tracks or bus stops. The spots they leave their cars may be such as to block all traffic both ways because of lack of space to pass. The truth is these drivers don't give a hoot for other people. And we have to suffer. Show 'em up!"

Oddments

No sooner the last of the snowflakes falls, we greet the first of the moth-falls.

Conserving their own precious energy and the public's patience, some of the loquacious candidates for public office would do well at this time to merely take a bow and let it go at that.

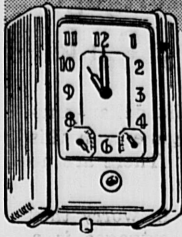

The biggest all-time cynic of my acquaintance sends word he has found a newspaper picture of a highly prosperous National figure with his hands in his pockets. "This is news," he writes, "because, as I say, his hands are in his own pockets."

In municipal circles, when fences are attended to it is usually because of the names on voting lists, not on headstones.

Before you pay above $1000 for a motor car—
LOOK AT LaSALLE!

MOST PEOPLE WILL AGREE that the motorist who pays the price of a LaSalle ought to get a LaSalle. Yet, many do not. They make an expenditure which entitles them to Cadillac quality, Cadillac safety and prestige—but fail to secure them. This is undoubtedly due to a misunderstanding as to LaSalle's cost.

Because LaSalle's reputation is so fine, they think the price must be high. However, this is not the case. There are actually eleven motor car manufacturers who have models costing more than a new LaSalle V-8. Before you invest—investigate. If you expect to spend above $1,900 for your next car—then look at LaSalle.

From 1 in 6 to 1 in 3

BACK in 1910, there was one savings account for every six people. Today there is one for every three men, women and children.

That means one for practically every family in these United States.

How about your family? Is there at least one savings account among its members?

Why be without financial protection when as little as $1 starts an account at the Newton Centre Savings Bank and $1 deposits are welcomed?

Kemball and Mrs. Ethel Leach delegate to State Convention at Swampscott, Mrs. Gordon S. Heath.

The recipient of the Scholarship award is Miss Claire Wilson, 42 Eden ave., West Newton, who will go to Bates College, Maine.

Newton Hospital Aid Benefit Shop

Mrs. Brewer Eddy, of Newtonville, will open her home on Kirkstall rd., for the Annual Meeting and Luncheon of the Newton Hospital Aid Staff Committee of the Benefit Shop on Thursday, May 19th. Joint hostesses with Mrs. Eddy are Mrs. Ralph Conant, co-chairman; and Mrs. Francis H. Williams, manager of the Benefit Shop. Luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock. The Annual Meeting and election of officers will follow. Guests will include the chairmen of each of the sections of Newton: Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, president of the Newton Hospital Aid Association; and Mrs. Edward Sawyer, treasurer.

Lend-A-Hand Masque

The Annual Meeting of the Lend-A-Hand Masque will be held on Monday, May 16th, at 6:30 p. m., at the home of Miss Eleanor Hall, Prince st., West Newton. Members of the Club assisting Miss Hall as hostesses are Mrs. George Fuller, Miss Barbara Leach, Miss Isabeth Skipwith, Miss Olive Webster, and Mrs. G. Bancroft Hall. Supper will be served, following which a regular business meeting and election of officers will be held. At this meeting also will be decided the recipient of the scholarship which the Club gives annually to a girl in the graduating class at the Newton High School. Plans will be discussed for the Club's Annual House Party early in June.

The business meeting will be followed by an original and novel entertainment given by Club members, under the direction of Miss Ruth Perkins, of West Newton.

Newton W. C. T. U.

The Annual Meeting of the Newton W. C. T. U. was held in the vestry of the Newton Centre Methodist Church, May 5th, with the president, Mrs. William E. Birdsall, presiding. Mrs. Hattie E. Shultz conducted the devotional service, and Mrs. William F. Ferrin rendered a solo. After the reading of the annual reports of the officers and chairmen of departments, the following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Mrs. William E. Birdsall; vice-presidents, Mrs. Blanche G. Norris, Mrs. Everett C. Horlick, Mrs. G. Vaughn Shedd, Mrs. Emory W. Clark and Mrs. George W. Barber; recording secretary, Mrs. William F. Ferrin; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Sarah S. P. Stevens; treasurer, Mrs. Sidney R. Porter, and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Harriet C. Briggs.

The speaker of the afternoon, Mrs. Mabelle M. Groves, gave an account of a trip to Florida and Cuba, to temperance meetings held this winter in the South, which evidenced a growing temperance sentiment throughout the country.

Tea was served. Mrs. Sidney R. Porter and Mrs. Harriet C. Briggs were hostesses. Mrs. Isaac Goddard poured.

Newton Federation

The forty-third Annual Meeting of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was held Tuesday afternoon, May 10th, at the Brae Burn Country Club. Seated at the speaker's table with the officers of the organization were eight former presidents of the Newton Federation, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, Mrs. Ernest Cobb, Mrs. Phister Cowin, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr., Mrs. Samuel N. Braman, Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, and Mrs. J. Earle Parker; and a special guest, Mrs. Edward H. Rugg, of the Boston City Federation. Mrs. Theron B. Walker, first vice-president, presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, who is attending the General Federation Triennial this week, in Kansas City, Missouri. Spring flowers with sweet peas at each place formed the attractive table decoration. Mrs. Palmer pronounced the invocation. Greetings from the Boston Federation were extended by Mrs. Rugg. A telegram of affectionate greeting was received and read from Mrs. Hay in Kansas City.

After the luncheon the annual reports of the officers and chairmen were read and accepted. The general business and election of officers for the coming year were then in order. Among the interesting announcements were that the drive against ragweed will be conducted again by the Conservation committee of the Newton

Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, chairman. During the week of July 18th a concerted drive will be made to eradicate the menace of ragweed from the city of Newton.

The first board meeting of the new Executive Board of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs was announced for May 27th at 9:30 a. m., in Jewett Hall of the Newton Free Library. At the close of the report of the sale for the year of the Christmas Health Seals, Mrs. Chester W. Tudbury, chairman, announced that the $2,000 put aside at various times for the purpose of building a tuberculosis camp was to be used immediately. The site chosen is Sharon Middlesex South Sanitarium.

Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, chairman of the Nominating committee, presented the ballot. The officers elected were: Mrs. Edgar P. Hay, president; Mrs. H. Clayton Pearson, first vice-president; Mrs. Austin H. Decatur, second vice-president; Mrs. John F. Capron, third vice-president; Mrs. J. P. Mulineaux, recording secretary; Mrs. A. Thomas Sundborg, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest L. Johnson, treasurer; Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, auditor; Mrs. Edward B. Gray, and Mrs. Steven B. Wilson, directors; and nominating committee, Mrs. Raymond A. Green, chairman; and Mrs. Charles E. Valentine, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, Mrs. George E. Squier, Mrs. Charles A. Chadwick, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, Mrs. Horace W. Shepard, Mrs. Gordon S. Heath, and Mrs. John M. Gallagher.

Mrs. Alexander I. Peckham, chairman of the Program committee, introduced Miss Dorothy Kovitz, pianist, who, assisted by her sister, Miss Anna Kovitz, violinist, presented a half-hour program of classical music.

Garden Programs, Luncheons, Exhibits

Any members wishing tickets should get in touch with Mrs. Waters or Mrs. Fred H. Fowle at once, as the number is limited.

Newton Highlands Garden Club

The next regular meeting of the Newton Highlands Garden Club will be held on Saturday evening, May 21st, at 6 p. m., at 88 Plymouth rd. Dr. and Mrs. Noel G. Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Cooper will act as joint hosts. Members are to bring sandwiches and dessert, and the picnic supper will be served on the terrace overlooking Dr. Monroe's wildflower garden. At 8 o'clock the meeting will adjourn to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, where Mr. Karl F. Fischer, of Dedham, will speak on "The Propagation of Plants."

Newton Centre Garden Club

The Newton Centre Garden Club will hold its Spring Flower Show at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House on Wednesday, May 18th, from 2 to 9 p. m., and on Thursday, May 19th from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Mrs. Louis E. Phaneuf and Mrs. Walter H. Dietz are co-chairmen of the Flower Show committee.

There are to be twelve classes of exhibits. Rules for these entries may be learned from the sponsor in charge of each class. Exhibitors needing transportation should call Mrs. F. D. Knight, Centre Newton 1218. All classes are open to club members only, except Class IV which is by invitation, and Class IX which is open to other Newton Garden Clubs. This is arrangement of flowering trees or (and) shrubs. The sponsor is Mrs. Austin C. Benton, telephone, Cen. New. 3661. One entry is allowed in each class, with a few exceptions. Members are urged to exhibit in as many classes as possible, and to call the sponsors early, so that they may arrange for the proper spaces.

Further information as to classes and the names of sponsors in charge may be obtained by calling Mrs. Phaneuf, Cen. New. 1778; Mrs. Dietz, Cen. New. 3966; or Mrs. John W. Cooke, Publicity chairman, Cen. New. 3390.

Newton Upper Falls Garden Club

The Newton Upper Falls Garden Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. Raymond Capobianco, on Monday, May 2nd, at 7 p. m. A tour of the farm grounds was enjoyed by the members during which they viewed the grounds as yet unplanted, with a talk about the many small plants which were still in the hotbeds. After the inspection of the grounds the members were invited to test their skill at naming ten varieties of seeds. The contest was won by Mrs. Robert McLaughlin, Mrs. William Keistle, and Mrs. John Temperley, each of the winners receiving a gift of pansy plants. Mrs. Temperley received also the ten packets of seed.

The members then enjoyed an illustrated talk by Mr. Harold S. Tiffany, of the Waltham Field Station, who was assisted by Mr. Edward Donnelly as operator of the stereoscopic machine, the subject of the talk being "Garden Design."

A special guest of the evening was Mrs. Edmund I. Wilson, Newton Federation chairman of the Conservation committee.

A business meeting followed the talk. During the social hour, a Birthday Cake with one candle was presented to the Club by Mrs. Albert Proctor in honor of the Club's first birthday.

Mrs. Joseph Valente as chairman of the Refreshment committee was assisted by Miss Alice M. Temperley, Mrs. Henry Sharrott, and Mrs. Antonio Valente.

Killer of Newton Policemen Dies

Edward P. Simpson, who descended from conducting a respectable business in Watertown, where he manufactured curtains, into a career of crime, and climaxed that perversion when he fatally shot Patrolmen Henry Bell and Lawrence Murphy of the Newton police, was transferred from his cell in State Prison at Charlestown into the death house there on Wednesday morning. He was to have been executed the first week of April, but was granted two respites, the last when his lawyer asked the U. S. Supreme Court to review the case, which request was refused. In contrast to the brazen attitude which characterized Simpson after his capture and during his trial, his demeanor recently has been quiet and serious. He did not talk while being transferred to the death house, and he has accepted the ministrations of Father Farrell, chaplain at the prison.

Shortly after midnight this morning, at 12:04 a. m., Simpson paid the penalty for the cold blooded killing of the two young Newton policemen. For half an hour before he was executed, he had prayed in his cell with Rev. Ralph Farrell. Gone was the sneering, hardened manner he had exhibited after his capture. Meekly and silently he walked from the cell to the death chamber. At 12:10 after several shocks had been sent through the chair, Simpson was pronounced dead.

On Tuesday Keith Shaw of New York was awarded a prize of $1000 in a national safety poster contest. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of the judges. Mr. Shaw is the husband of the former Doris Ferry, daughter of William R. Ferry of 168 Walnut st., Newtonville. She co-operated with her husband in designing the poster. Mrs. Shaw is a graduate of Newton High School, and she and her husband are both graduates of Normal Art School.

Order Two More Dogs Restrained

A Great Dane dog owned by Paul Shaw of 600 Beacon st., Newton Centre, was ordered restrained last Friday. A complaint was made to the police that the big dog had knocked Bruce Bear, Jr., 8, of 550 Beacon st., off a bicycle and bitten the boy twice. The boy was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment.

Another dog ordered restrained last Friday because it had bitten a person was one owned by Maynard Maxim of 66 Clyde st., Newtonville. The complainant was Lawrence Cortis of 60 Clyde st.

EDWARD FULLER

Edward Fuller, who recently died, was educated for Harvard in the Newton High School. Mr. Fuller was a good scholar and chosen Orator of his class (1882) at graduation at Harvard. While in college he was editor of one of the college papers and after graduation he made journalism his life work, acting as editor-in-chief on the Providence Journal, afterwards serving in similar capacity on the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Mr. Fuller was mentioned in Who's Who in America. He wrote several books and some plays which were acted. Among his distinguished classmates were Professors Kittering and Copeland, and Professors Beale and Williston of the Harvard Law School, and Henry Hardon, his classmate at Newton High and later professor of law at Cornell and Columbia. Mr. Fuller was born in Syracuse, N. Y., and his early education was in the Newton Schools and his home was in West Newton.

PATRICK W. FOLEY

Patrick W. Foley died on May 4. He was born in Newton Centre 77 years ago, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Foley. He was a retired employee of the Newton Street Department and a member of Father Lee Court, M. C. O. F. He is survived by three sons—Edward J. of Upper Falls, Dana of Newton and William of West Newton; two daughters, Mrs. John Lynch and Miss Ella Foley of Upper Falls; and eleven grandchildren. His funeral was held on Saturday from the home of his son, Edward Foley, 11 Hale st. The funeral service was at Our Lady of Lourdes Church and burial was in Holyhood Cemetery.

GERTRUDE WEBBER

Miss Gertrude E. Webber, formerly of Hinneston ter., Newton, died on May 9, in Brighton. She was born in Cambridge, 66 years ago, the daughter of Oliver H. and Amelia (Lees) Webber. She is survived by a brother, J. Henry Webber of Brighton; a nephew, Eaton Webber of Newtonville; and a niece, Mrs. Oliver Johnson of Waban. Miss Webber's funeral service was held on Thursday afternoon at Cambridge cemetery chapel. Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Episcopal Church, Newtonville, officiated.

DR. CHARLES H. WINN

Dr. Charles H. Winn of 808 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, died on May 10. He was born in Boston, 75 years ago, graduated from Boston College, and from Harvard Medical School in 1888. For 19 years he was a surgeon on the staff of St. Elizabeth's Hospital and in recent years had been a medical examiner for the Boston Elevated Railway. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Mary Bullock and Miss Margaret Winn; a son, Charles L. Winn, and a sister, Mrs. John F. Whelan. His funeral service was held on Friday morning at Sacred Heart Church and burial was in Holyhood Cemetery.

Newton High '13 Holds Reunion

Serious business men, earnest bankers, busy teachers, hardworking housewives, laid aside their cares to celebrate the 25th reunion of Newton High School's Class of 1913 at the Brae Burn Country Club last Friday night, May 6.

The gathering numbered about 100. Members of the class had come from all over Massachusetts and even from as far as Pennsylvania, to attend the reunion. Charles Albert Wilbur, Jr., was toastmaster and Senior Class President. The occasion became one of lively reminiscence, mostly of a decidedly personal character that amused and delighted both class members and guests. Barbara Wellington, secretary of the Class of 1913 read excerpts from the Class Prophecy; while Mrs. Katherine Reynolds Day—a member of the Class of 1915—read a poem vividly picturing the personalities of the Thirties as they looked to their high school juniors.

An original song, written for the occasion and sung to the tune of "Pony Boy," was presented by four members of the class in costumes of the period. Mr. James Harvey Townsend and Charles Azel Collins, who in 1913 sang together in Chapel, each contributed solos, and later led the singing of popular songs of 25 years ago.

Frank Ashley Day, Jr., chairman of the reunion committee, invited the members of the 1913 class to make such contributions as they desired to the Meserve Fund which supports scholarships, has already sent 15 Newton High School students to New England colleges and universities. Mr. Day also extended a cordial invitation to those of the Class of 1913 who had not already done so, to join the Newton High School Alumni Association. Consideration was given to the possibility of a gift to the High School from the Class of 1913.

The closing feature of the interesting program was a series of stereopticon slides of pictures of "Not So Long Ago," a collection of snapshots begged, borrowed, and even stolen from the attics of class members. To running comment by Raymond W. Stanley, the pictures evoked memories of many a good time and many a happy incident of high school days.

The success of the reunion was attributable in large measure to the active work of Frank Ashley Day, Jr., and his committee consisting of: Charles Albert Wilbur, Jr., Barbara Wellington, Mrs. Margaret Merrill Fowler, Mrs. Helen James Pierce, Miss Helen Potter, Mrs. Charlotte Bruner Drummond, Dr. James Harvey Townsend, and Raymond Walker Stanley.

Newton Men Fined For Tippy Driving

Lester Barnett of 507 Centre st., Newton, was fined $50 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He was arrested at 3 o'clock Friday morning at Newton Corner by Patrolmen McEnaney who observed the car being driven without lights. Barnett asked if he would have his license revoked because of leading guilty to the charge and was informed that he probably would. He said that he needed the license to retain his employment.

Salvatore Codella of 33 Middle st., Nonantum, was fined $35 by Judge Mayberry in the Newton Court last Friday for driving a car while under the influence of liquor. He testified that he was sick and not drunk when arrested by Patrolmen McEnaney and Lupien after they had seen him pass a red light at the corner of Watertown and Adams st.

Licenses of Beer Places Suspended

On Monday night the Newton License Commission held a hearing on complaints made by an inspector of the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission against two beer dispensaries at Newton Corner. Both were charged with serving liquor to men who were already under the influence of liquor. George's Cafe at 291 Centre st., owned by George Karis, was also charged with serving beer in glasses not sterilized. The Newton License Commission ordered this place's license suspended for 60 days. The Paramount Delicatessen at 292 Centre st., was also charged with serving liquor to a drunken person, and with having its windows screened. The license of this place, owned by Abraham Lazarus, was ordered suspended for 30 days. Karis summoned Serge Bannon and Moran, and Patrolmen Manter and Walker of the Newton police to the hearing, in an effort to convince the commissioners that he had been conducting his place properly.

Stewart Guilty as Hit-Run Driver

Irwin Stewart of 36 Olcott st., Watertown, was found guilty by a jury in Middlesex Superior Court on Wednesday of hit-run driving. On the night of February 22 a car hit John Hart, 65, of 153 Edinboro st., Newtonville, an aged man was crossing Washington st. Hart was critically injured. The car sped away, leaving as the only clue pieces of a broken headlight. Inspector Crowley of the Newton police testified that he received a tip several days after the accident which directed suspicion to Stewart. Crowley, Captain Goode of the Newton police and Lieut. Burke of the Watertown police went to Stewart's home, found his car with a headlight removed, and seven pieces of broken headlight glass, one of which matched a fragment which had been found at the accident. Stewart was tried in the Superior Court some weeks ago, but the jury at that trial disagreed.

Arrested For Drunken Driving

Thomas F. Sherman of 56 Manomet rd., Newton Centre, was arrested by Patrolman Mullen on Tuesday night at Newton Centre on charges of drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor. He was arraigned in the Newton court on Wednesday and his case continued until May 26. In court on Wednesday Alice Glick, 61, of 141 Englewood ave., Brighton, was charged with speeding. Patrolman Lovely told the judge that the woman drove nearly three-quarters of a mile along Commonwealth ave. after he blew his whistle for her to stop. Judge Mayberry placed her case on file. Anna Steingold of Framingham was fined $10 for speeding. Patrolman Lovely testified she was driving at a rate of 66 miles an hour.

NEWTON FAVORED IN ANNUAL HARVARD MEET

Newton High is favored to capture the Class B interscholastic outdoor track title tomorrow afternoon at the Harvard stadium in the annual prep and high school track meet. Last year Newton and Boston English High were tied for honors but with strength in nearly every event the Coach Enoch crew is expected to outdistance all its rivals.

The Newton track team has swept over all foes in the outdoor season which began three weeks ago winning the Worcester meet, the annual prep and high school track meet at Newton and last week its annual dual meet with Brookline.

Chest. Hill Bandits Get 8 to 10 Years

Frank Ferrara, 36, of 322 Western ave., Cambridge, and John L. Barr, 16, of 951 Massachusetts ave., Cambridge, were found guilty in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge on Tuesday of daylight robbery at the home of Bernard Goldfine, 72 Beacon st., Chestnut Hill, on the morning of April 27. Ferrara was sentenced to serve 8 to 10 years in State Prison, and Barr 10 to 15 years. The pair obtained entrance to the house by pretending to be police officers, forced Mrs. Goldfine, her son and two domestics into the attic, looted the house and stole two diamond rings valued at $3000.

Both had long criminal records. Ferrara's started in 1917, when he was 15 years of age. He was then sent to Shirley Reformatory School by the judge in the East Boston court. In March, 1929, he was sentenced by a judge in the Boston Municipal Court to serve 5 years at Concord Reformatory for forgery, but he was paroled after serving one year of that sentence. In May, 1922, he was again sent to Concord for forgery and was again paroled in October, 1923. On January 17, 1925, he was found guilty in a New York City court of larceny and burglary and sent to Sing Sing prison on a 5 to 10 years' sentence. He was paroled from Sing Sing in June of 1931. On February 8, 1932, he was sentenced in Suffolk Superior Court, Boston, to serve 3 to 5 years in State Prison for larceny but on August 17 of that year he was again paroled. On May 5, 1935, he was found guilty in the Federal Court of forgery and theft of government checks and sentenced to serve 3 years in a Federal penitentiary—but the sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation. On January 22, 1935, Ferrara was appointed an auditor for the Milk Control Board of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts at a salary of $140 per month. He was dismissed on May 19, 1936. In October, 1936, he was appointed a temporary inspector in the State Department of Agriculture at a salary of $140 per month.

Barr was sentenced in 1915 to serve from 1 to 20 years in the Ohio Reformatory. In 1920 he was sentenced to the Ohio State prison for life on a burglary charge. He was paroled in 1936.

Music Field Day Of Newton Schools

On Thursday afternoon, May 26, the Newton public schools will hold their annual Music Field Day at Dickinson Field. All the bands and drum corps of the Newton public schools will take part and will hold a short parade prior to entering the field for the program. The parade will start at 3 o'clock on Elm rd., Newtonville, and will proceed along Lowell ave., Highland ave. and Walnut st. back to Dickinson Field. In addition to a concert number played by each band, there will be a number by a group of Saxette pupils accompanied by the High School Band. The combined bands will play four marches together.

There will be no admission fee and the school department is anxious to have as many pupils and their parents attend as is possible. There will be no programs, but an amplified system will be used to tell about each number on the program.

Bandit Robs Man On Peabody Street

James E. Fahey of 700 Washington st., Brighton, an agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, was held up by an armed bandit on Peabody st., Newton, about 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, forced to reenter his car, and robbed of $57. Fahey had parked his car on Peabody st., near the office of the insurance company and had just alighted from it when the bandit accosted him. Drawing a revolver, the bandit forced Fahey to reenter the car and drive it slowly along Peabody st., while he ordered the insurance agent to hand over the money. Just before the automobile reached Pearl st., the bandit made Fahey get out of the car, telling his victim that he would find the automobile parked a short distance away, on Pearl st. The robber kept his word, and Fahey found his car parked around the corner on Pearl st. The bandit had disappeared and it is supposed he had a companion waiting for him in another automobile.

Police Refute Ambulance Story

In last week's GRAPHIC was an item which stated that at a meeting of the executive committee of the Oak Hill Improvement Association on May 10th a resolution was passed demanding that an ambulance be located at the South Side of the city, following a statement allegedly made by Thomas Fallon that he had observed an automobile accident on the Worcester turnpike, and it was 35 minutes before the police ambulance arrived at the place.

Prior to the item being published in the GRAPHIC, a similar item had been printed in other papers, and on May 12th Captain Vedeccio of the Newton police department issued a statement to refute the contention that there had been any such delay in the arrival of the ambulance at the scene of the accident in question. On May 10 cars driven by William Marble, Jr. of North Easton and Charles Turner of 110 Jewett st., Newton collided at the intersection of the turnpike and Woodward st., Newton Highlands. Patrolman Charles Jenkins was nearby and at once sent in a call for the ambulance from a police signal box at the intersection. The call reached police headquarters at 2:53 p. m. The scene and a radio call was sent to the cruising car at the South Side of the city. At 3:02 Patrolman Taffel phoned headquarters from the signal box that the ambulance had arrived and was on its way to Newton Hospital with Turner, who had been injured. At 3:13 the patrolman who had gone out on the ambulance telephoned from Newton Hospital to police headquarters that the injured man had been taken into the accident ward at the hospital and the ambulance was about to return to its garage. So only 20 minutes elapsed from the time the call was first received at headquarters until the victim of the accident had been received at Newton Hospital.

Captain Vedeccio stated he is not opposing the placing of an ambulance at the South Side, but citizens of Newton should not be given the impression that there is unnecessary delay in the service given by the police ambulance following accidents.

Refuse Permit For Gasoline Station

A hearing was held at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night on the petition of Charles F. Mitchell for a gasoline station and repair shop at 719 Washington st., Newtonville. This is the same locus where a permit was recently refused for an automobile paint shop. No one appeared to favor the petition. Martin McMorrow of 717 Washington st., who had strongly opposed the other petition, also opposed the Mitchell petition and said the locus is not a fit place for a gasoline station. Mrs. Margaret Waters of 54 Court st., said the locus is too near residences to be used for the purpose. Katherine Murphy of 58 Court st., said neighbors are willing to have the building at 719 Washington st. used as a garage but not as a repair shop or filling station. Others who protested were Martin Murphy of Court st. and J. M. Jones of 727 Washington st. The Aldermen on that same night refused the petition. Chairman Inches of the Licenses Committee explained that the locus is dangerous from a traffic consideration, and that the lot is too narrow to safely conduct a gasoline station.

Another petition for a gasoline station which brought protests at the meeting of the Aldermen on Monday night was that of Raymond DeRubeis of Lincoln rd., who seeks a permit for a station at 78 Crafts st. James P. Gallagher appeared as attorney for DeRubeis. He said the site is in a manufacturing zone, has an 80-foot frontage and an area of 31,000 square feet. He argued that it would be neither a traffic nor fire hazard and would not adversely affect nearby properties. He said that several owners of property on the opposite side of Crafts st. do not oppose the permit being granted.

Michael Maguire, owner of abutting property, objected. He said there is now a gasoline station on the other side of his house, and if a second station is permitted, how can anyone living in the house get any sleep. He said the proposed station would be a traffic menace to the many children residing in the section. James Maguire of Crafts st. also objected. He said that he and other members of his family own six homes on land near the proposed station, and that the odor of gasoline day and night would cause them to lose their tenants.

Patrolman Dalton Revolver Champion

Patrolman Dave Dalton of the Newton police climaxed his brilliant career as one of New England's outstanding revolver marksmen last Saturday and Sunday when he won three first prizes at the annual Spring matches of the New England Police Revolver League at Walnut Hill range in Woburn. The team of the Newton police department also won a first prize on Sunday. On Saturday Dalton won the Frigidare trophy and the Blackington trophy matches. The former was 10 shot slow, 10 shot timed and 10 shot rapid, at 25 yards' distance. Dalton scored 98—96—91, total 285. W. Sirois of the State Police was second with 98—95—91, 284. O. Nichols of the State Police was third, 97—93—92, 282. The Blackington trophy match was 20 shots rapid fire at 25 yards. Dalton scored 185; W. T. Desmond of the Boston Police was second with 184; S. Beattie of the State Police third with 184; J. M. Crowley of Providence fourth with 179.

On Sunday Patrolman Dalton won the Walter O'Hara trophy for the third time and secured possession of the handsome silver cup and gold medal. In this match each contestant fired two rounds of six shots at a target depicting a human torso. Two of these shots were aimed at the head and stomach of the target and are defined as killing shots. The other four shots, defined as "disabling," are aimed at the shoulders and hips of the target. Rapidity and accuracy both count. Dalton fired both rounds, 12 shots, in 8 1/4 seconds and scored 90. Joseph Crescio of the State Police was second with a score of 79.1; W. T. Desmond of the Boston Police was third with a score of 58.9.

In addition to Dalton winning three first prizes in individual competitions, the Newton police team won first place in the contest for the W. L. Thompson trophy. The scores of the team were—Lovely, 261; Joe Smith, 257; Corcoran, 240; Lupien, 234; total 992. State Prison Colony team was second and Boston police third.

Sunday Storm Does Much Damage

A storm with hurricane tendencies which started in this area Saturday night and blasted until about nine o'clock Sunday morning, wrought great damage to trees, shrubs and plants in this city. Trees were blown over, hundreds of limbs broken off and much of the foliage twisted from branches of trees to litter the streets with leaves. Trees were blown down on Church st. opposite the Y. M. C. A.; and opposite 26 Vernon st., 77 Arlington st., 35 Cabot st., Pembroke and Arlington sts., Newton; 316 Woodward st., 181 Windsor rd., Waban; 1192 Chestnut st., Upper Falls; 182 Homer st., Newton Centre. Scores of limbs were broken from trees in many places in the city, and thousands of twigs and small branches were scattered on streets and yards. A number of electric and telephone wires were broken by the falling limbs. Employees of the Forestry Department were kept busy for hours Sunday chopping trees and sawing broken limbs.

At 2:42 a. m. Sunday, during the worst of the storm, some perverted humorist pulled Box 662 at Chestnut st., Upper Falls and gave the firemen an unnecessary run. A considerable number of houses were without electric service for several hours because of broken wires.

Aldermen Reject "Expert" Advice On Newton Welfare

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night it was voted not to accept the recommendation of Mayor Childs that $1850 be appropriated to pay Clarence A. Bingham for his proffered services as an expert in making a survey of welfare aid by the City of Newton. Alderman Hutchinson, chairman of the special committee appointed to investigate welfare relief quoted a Cleveland official who said that a probe in that city had cost as much as it had saved, and had damaged the morale of the Welfare Department staff. He also said that in Portland such an "expert" survey had merely confirmed previous beliefs. Mr. Hutchinson read a letter signed by himself and the other members of the special committee on Welfare. The letter in part was as follows:

"That it is the sense of this Committee that we are not in favor of an investigation of the Welfare Department by an outside expert at the present time and that the Chairman of this Committee be instructed to notify the Chairman of the Finance Committee in this regard and to state that we do not favor an appropriation for this purpose as requested by His Honor the Mayor."

The above vote was passed after investigation and discussion, and it should not in any way be interpreted as an unfavorable reaction to Mr. Clarence A. Bingham, who was suggested without comment by His Honor the Mayor in connection with a survey, but rather as evidence of a belief that we have in the City of Newton trained personnel who are capable of and willing to co-operate in an effort to improve conditions in our City.

Although it is too early to announce any definite conclusions, its the present opinion of the Committee that our study must be comprehensive and include not only the so-called public agencies but also the work being done by private agencies and churches.

We further conferred with a governmental official in a community where Mr. Bingham and his staff made an investigation and from the government of which Mr. Bingham had received a very complimentary testimonial as per his published sales literature. In the opinion of the official contacted the investigation confirmed and emphasized conditions already known and suspected to exist but did not bring this community any nearer to solving the problem.

We also have it on good authority that two national organizations of social and welfare workers are unfavorable to the approach and methods used by commercial investigating staffs, of which there are several now organized all over the country.

Again may we emphasize that it is too early to come to any final conclusions but it would appear that the greatest need is for adequate and efficient personnel to insure proper functioning of the present program which seems to cover the needs, with the possible exception of one phase of the problem, viz., some agency for providing opportunity for mutual aid by those receiving assistance. A consideration of this matter is included in the following assignments given to individual members of the Committee:

1. Investigation of the Richmond Plan and the Morgan Memorial with the hope that some adaptation of the mutual aid theory may be practiced in Newton.
2. Investigation of the possibility and desirability of a Board of Public Welfare.
3. Investigation of Social Service

Index and its future development.

4. Investigation of case work as now undertaken by public and private agencies.
5. Investigation of the possibility of obtaining the interest and cooperation of one of the philanthropic foundations.

In order that there shall be complete cooperation between our Committee and the Newton Community Council, we are making a request that a member of our Committee be permitted officially to represent us at all meetings of the Welfare and Relief Division of the Council.

Aldermen Change Zoning Ordinance For Telephone Co.

Exchange Can Be Built In Business Zone

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night no persons appeared to favor or oppose when hearings were called on petitions of Boston College for a permit to install a 500 gallon gasoline tank and pump at 140 Commonwealth ave., and Prospect Valley Farm for a permit to install a 500 gallon gasoline tank and pump at 227 California st.

Alderman Rawson speaking for the Claims Committee reported against the petition of Mary Behan for a waiver of the setback line at 193 Winchester st., Newton Highlands. He said that under the zoning law the Aldermen can grant such a waiver if a lot is of such size, shape or contour that reasonable use cannot be made of it unless a waiver is granted. He said the lot in question does not have these peculiarities, is fairly large, is bounded by two "paper" streets, and there is no good reason why the waiver should be granted.

Alderman Rawson asked for a suspension of the rules so that the zoning ordinance could be amended to include the admission of a telephone exchange in a business zone. The New England Telephone Company had petitioned for the change and the Planning Board approved of it. He also asked a suspension of the rules to change a small parcel of land at Court and Central sts., Newtonville from residence to business zone. The reason for these two changes is—that the telephone company has purchased land bounded by Washington and Court sts., and Central ave. at Newtonville and intends to erect there a large exchange building which will house the three exchanges now in this city. Rawson explained that the company has agreed to a 15 foot setback on the Court st. side of the property.

Safety Council Parade June 16

A parade sponsored by the Publicity Committee of the Newton Safety Council will be held in Newton on the evening of June 16. The purpose of the parade will be to demonstrate to the people of Newton the results of reckless driving, and by so doing to influence Newton residents who do not use proper caution in driving to join the ranks of safe drivers. In the parade will be towing-trucks from Newton garages, each with a wrecked automobile attached, and features entered by oil and insurance companies. Various Newton organizations will also be asked to participate in the safety demonstration and certain impressive features are planned so that the parade will include realistic consequences of speeding, reckless and drunken driving. It is planned among other things, to have one automobile in the parade to call attention to each of the fatal automobile accidents which have occurred in the city the past two years.

1. Investigation of the Richmond Plan and the Morgan Memorial with the hope that some adaptation of the mutual aid theory may be practiced in Newton.
2. Investigation of the possibility and desirability of a Board of Public Welfare.
3. Investigation of Social Service

Index and its future development.

4. Investigation of case work as now undertaken by public and private agencies.
5. Investigation of the possibility of obtaining the interest and cooperation of one of the philanthropic foundations.

In order that there shall be complete cooperation between our Committee and the Newton Community Council, we are making a request that a member of our Committee be permitted officially to represent us at all meetings of the Welfare and Relief Division of the Council.

Policeman Seeks Missing Daughter

Ruth Scott, 17, of Troy rd., Waban, has been missing from home since May 6. The girl, a sophomore at Newton High School, was employed part time at a candy store in Newton Centre. On the night of May 6, following the conclusion of her duties at the store, she was driven by a Newton Centre youth to Worcester, and according to the story he tells, she refused to return to Newton with him, despite his requests that she do so. The girl's father, Patrolman John W. Scott of the Newton police, notified police headquarters of her disappearance shortly after she failed to return home, and her description was broadcast throughout the State. On Monday of this week Scott had an appeal printed in newspapers telling the girl that her mother had become seriously ill because of her absence, and pleaded with his daughter to acquaint her family of her whereabouts. A Worcester high school boy, who had seen a photograph of the girl in a newspaper last week, gave information that he had seen her riding in a street car in that city.

Lodges

Newton, Waban Lodges, Tennyson and Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge celebrated the 119th anniversary of Odd Fellowship at Odd Fellows Hall, Southgate pk., West Newton, on Friday, May 13th. A luncheon was served at 6:30 p. m. It was by His Honor Mayor Childs, and entertainment at 8 p. m. given by 20 members of Paul Revere Lodge and Erminie Rebekah Lodge of Somerville consisting of vocal and instrumental music and tap dancing. The entertainment was pronounced by the audience as an all star program.

Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge will have an early meeting on Monday, May 23rd, at 5:30 p. m. Supper will be served at 6:30 p. m. It will be a Present Officers' night. At 8 p. m. each invited lodge will furnish entertainment.

CAMP MARY DAY

Camp Mary Day will be open on Sunday afternoon, May 22, between 3 and 5 o'clock. This will be an opportunity for prospective campers and their parents to inspect the camp, register the girls and talk with staff members.

STOP SIGNS

There are many kinds of stop signs. One kind is placed by the roadside with big letters reading "STOP." Another type is often found right out in the middle of the street and it hasn't any reading at all. It may be the side of a truck. If you should fail to heed the worded sign, you will surely come to grief if you fail to notice the other kind. This timid soul, eyes and mind distracted, is about to stop quite suddenly. He was so busy that he didn't see the sign.

Letters To The Editor

REFUSES TO BID ON COAL

May 16, 1938.

To the Editor:

On May 20th the City of Newton according to proposal, will receive bids on approximately 650 tons of Hard Coal for delivery to Public Buildings.

We quote from an article contained in the May 14th issue of Seward's Journal, which is the leading publication for the retail coal industry.

"How long will the practice continue of retail coal dealers paying extra taxes in the cities and towns where their yards are located?"

By extra taxes reference is made to the idiotic practice followed by many dealers in making ridiculous bids for municipal business—bids which cannot possibly cover actual costs—let alone show a reasonable profit. Why should cities and towns be encouraged in the mistaken idea that they are entitled to purchase their fuel requirements at absurdly low prices which do not permit the coal dealer tax payers to cover their costs and enjoy a fair margin of profit?

Why should coal dealers thus be compelled to pay more than their proportionate share of the local tax burden? It is reported that in one New England city recently a coal dealer made a bid of $9.00 for domestic sized anthracite, delivered and housed in various municipal buildings. The gross margin above mine cost plus freight was 46 cents per ton. How in the world could a dealer hope to get by on such a figure?"

Not being inclined to take a loss merely for the sake of increasing tonnage, we have declined to bid on the City of Newton proposals.

Feeling that there are in the City of Newton families who are without assistance, we offer to deliver to any family or families on recommendation of any Newton Charitable or Religious organizations, a tonnage equal to that purchased by the City on the bids above referred to, at the price at which the City buys their Hard Coal. Delivery to be made at our option prior to July 1st, 1938, and to be paid for on delivery.

We will consider the loss sustained in this delivery as our contribution to Newton charity.

Very truly yours,
CHADWICK COAL YARDS, INC.,
H. N. Matthews, Treasurer.

Y. M. C. A.

Next Tuesday, May 24th, the Newton Y. M. C. A. is to start a class for men taking the Civil Service Strength test for women. The class is to meet on Tuesdays and Fridays from 8 to 9:30 p. m. for instruction in the correct method of using the machines and other equipment required in taking the test. Instruction will be given both in groups and individually.

Over 80 men enrolled in the class held earlier this year from November to February for men preparing for the police examination, with many of these completing their tests with marked success.

On Friday evening, May 20th, at 7:30, the members of the Boys' Division are sponsoring a movie to be shown to all members of the Y. M. C. A. and their guests. The picture "Trees and Men" is an authentic talking motion picture story of the Lumber industry in the Pacific Northwest and is presented by the Weyerhaeuser Sales Company.

Companies "A" and "B" of the Prospectors Discussion Groups held a joint dinner meeting on Thursday evening, May 19th. Mr. Maurice F. Murphy, a member of Company "B," was the speaker, and took as his subject "International Banking."

Continue Demand For River Parkway

Senator Arthur Hollis of Newton and Representative Leo Landry of Watertown appeared on Monday before the House Ways & Means committee to plead for a favorable report on Landry's petition for the continuation of the parkway along the South shore of the Charles River from its present terminal at Galen st., Watertown along the river shore through Nonantum and Newtonville to Waltham and Weston. The work will not cost over $1,600,000, according to the petition, and the cost will be defrayed by grants from the Federal government and the State highway fund.

Automobile Accidents

A car driven by J. Harold Crosby of Derby rd., Watertown hit Mary Snee, 24, of 143 Upland rd., Waban as the girl was crossing Watertown st., at West st., Nonantum on Saturday night at 8:45. She received cuts on her right ear and wrist. According to Crosby's report, he thought the woman was going to stop and allow his car to pass, but she continued to cross the street and was hit by the side of the automobile. She was taken to the Newton Hospital.

Cars driven by Cyril Bonney of Arlington and Hyman Medoff of Dorchester collided at Beacon and Chestnut sts., Waban on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Rose Medoff claimed that she received an injury to her right shoulder.

Cars driven by Mrs. Elizabeth Ornate of 841 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, and Nancy Nye of 32 Lawrence rd., Chestnut Hill, collided on Commonwealth ave. near Centre st. on Monday night. Mrs. Ornate reported that she was severely shaken in the collision.

Kiwanis Club

The Roslindale-West Roxbury Club members were guests of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday at the Charles River Country Club.

The speaker Mr. A. W. K. Bellings, Jr. an architect of note, spoke to the group about the coming world's fair to be held in New York in 1939.

Describing the size of the fair grounds as 1250 acres or in length equal about to the distance from the State House in Boston out as far as the Cottage Farms Bridge and in width equal to all of downtown Boston, Mr. Bellings told in detail of the fine new buildings which have been erected there.

The entire area once a land of dumps has been cleaned up by New York and on the site have risen the most magnificent display of modern architecture that has ever been seen. Displayed there are many new inventions in the construction field which have never been seen by the general public.

All of the foreign governments with the exception of Spain and China are reported to have accepted invitations to display their native products. Industry, recreation and agriculture, in all of their various phases will be on display there. As an indication of the magnitude of the place Mr. Bellings said there are more than 70 miles of walks connecting the various buildings one to the other.

It is conservatively estimated that the minimum length of time required to see the fair will be about four days. On the other hand a person could well spend several months in the grounds and still not become thoroughly familiar with all of its various functions.

The Newton Centre Parent-Teacher Association is sponsoring a "Children's Carnival" at the Newton Centre Playground, on Saturday afternoon, May 21, from 1-5 p. m.

The program includes: Three Mariottes in the Playground House, May-Pole Dance, Costume Parade, Doll-Carriage Parade, and a Bicycle Parade.

Games will be enjoyed during the afternoon under the supervision of Mr. Carrol Hoffman, assisted by Boy Scouts. Competition baseball games will take place between the sixth grades. Umpires, Mr. Alexander Marshall and Mr. Leo Handy.

Mrs. Leo Handy, chairman of the Carnival is being assisted by the following committees: Ice Cream, Mrs. John P. Akins, chairman; Mrs. Clayton Schouman, Mrs. D. C. Whittinghill, Mrs. T. H. Cushman, and Mrs. R. H. Bacon. Candy Booth, Mrs. Harlan Russell, chairman; Miss Elizabeth Bartlett, Mrs. J. Billingsley, Mrs. W. F. Magee and Mrs. J. P. Sweeney, Jr.

Tomie Booth, Mrs. S. Chamberlain, Chairman; Mrs. Fred M. Kohn, Pony Rides, Mrs. C. E. Fowler, chairman; Mrs. G. W. McCreery, Mrs. W. G. Gersumsky, Mrs. J. B. Harden, Marionette Show, Mrs. Alexander Marshall, chairman; Mrs. Carrol J. Hoffman, Mrs. John Hillery, Mrs. Elliott Robinson, Mrs. G. Worthington, Mrs. W. F. Magee, Mrs. J. P. Sweeney, Jr., Mrs. Donald Walch, Music, Mrs. Otis Means, May-Pole Dance, Mrs. Edwin B. Crowley, Balloons, Mrs. H. E. Goodnough.

In case of rain the carnival will be postponed and the new date announced later.

Newton Asked for $800 for Red Cross Relief in China

At the Annual National Convention of the American Red Cross, held May 2-5 at San Francisco, action was taken in regard to President Roosevelt's appeal for help for the suffering in China. Although the President asked for at least $1,000,000 only $170,000 was received from the people, and to this $200,000 additional was appropriated from the Red Cross National Treasury. A resolution was passed whereby the delegates pledged themselves to do their utmost to complete the fund prior to June 15th. In accord with this the Newton Chapter has been asked to obtain a minimum of $800, including such remittances as were made in January. At that time only $14 was received and therefore the Newton Chapter is earnestly asking for the additional amount. It will help relieve the indescribable suffering of millions of civilians in China—men, women and children of a friendly people, who are the pitiful victims of a tragedy for which they are in no way responsible.

Contributions should be made out to—Newton Chapter, American Red Cross, and sent to—12 Austin st., Newtonville.

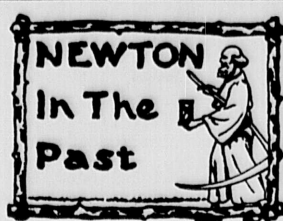

According to the regular policy of the American Red Cross, all contributions will be sent intact immediately to Headquarters, the Newton Chapter assuming any expenses incurred.

Sunbeam Chats

I've been helping Daddy plant his garden. It seems awfully funny to me to think those cute little seeds buried in the ground grow up to be the things I like to eat—juicy tomatoes, 'n' golden carrots, 'n' red beets, 'n' green peas—to mention a few. My mouth's drooling just thinking of 'em.

(Sunbeam Chats are sponsored by the Newton District Nursing Association.)

62 YEARS AGO

Newton Republican, May 20, 1876

The Newton Band will go to the Centennial at Philadelphia with the Pierce Light Guard. They will wear their new uniforms.

The contractors have laid about 14 miles of water pipes and 36 miles of gas pipes. About 600 men are now employed on the work.

The movement of West Newton merchants to adhere to the cash system is meeting with good results.

A large part of the meeting of the Board of Aldermen on Monday night was taken by the hearing on the order which would oblige the Newton & Watertown Gas Company to shift their pipes in certain streets to make room for the new water pipes. John B. Goodrich of Newton, lawyer for the Gas Company said his clients had chartered rights, the same as the city. He said public convenience does not require the removal of the gas pipes, and if the city wants them removed, it should pay the gas company for the expense. He cited authorities and showed that it is the practice of nearly every city and town where water has been introduced, for gas companies to be paid when they have removed gas pipes to accommodate the water pipes. Superintendents of the Waltham and Boston water systems were present and corroborated Mr. Goodrich's statements. Col. Parker of the Water Commissioners said that it is desired to give Newton as good or better system than any other city; the pipes will be placed 6 feet in the ground, lower than in other places, and it is believed there will be less liability to freezing by laying the pipes on the north side of streets.

Mr. Sawyer, engineer for the Water Works, said there is a warm and a cold side to streets, and his attention was first called to this in Providence where much fewer pipes were frozen on the sunny side of streets than on the shady side. He believed for the best interest of the city to lay the water pipes on the sunny side of streets. The total cost to the gas company would be about $4000; very moderate compared with the great advantage to the city.

Peter Hammond, now living in Geneseo, Illinois, was born in Newton on April 9, 1876. He has been invited to attend the 100th celebration this June 17th of the Battle of Bunker Hill. His father, Samuel Hammond, was one of the patriots who threw the tea overboard in Boston harbor 100 years ago. The committee desires that all places of historic interest in Newton shall be marked by suitable inscriptions, so that those who may be in the city on June 17th, may note these places as they drive about. There are a number of such places. Known to but few. Any information regarding them may be communicated to Alderman Gilman.

Newton Graphic, May 18, 1888

A large number of Newton Baptists have gone to Washington to attend the Baptist anniversary.

Work on the new railroad station at Eliot is progressing rapidly and if we possess in our souls a little patience we shall soon have this long looked for accommodation.

A sheet and pillow case party was given last Saturday evening by Miss Mabel Hawes at her home on Elgin st., Newton Centre. It was attended by about 35 lads and lassies in the grotesque masquerade.

Now that spring has come and our housekeepers are finding many pieces of old linen, cotton and flannel, that to them are useless, but which would be very acceptable at our Newton Cottage Hospital, where are the boxes for the collection of such pieces which someone suggested be placed in the railroad station. Many packages of such cloths find their way to the hospital through the instrumentality of the box there. Why cannot our hospital obtain more by means of boxes at the stations?

A Republican club has at last been formed in Newton and although the movement so far has not been very promising, yet with good nominations at the Chicago convention, the club would receive large accessions to its membership and become a powerful organization. Many who have been asked to join have refused, saying they will refuse to join any club until they know positively that Mr. Blaine will not be nominated.

Newton Graphic, May 16, 1913

The action of Governor Foss in vetoing the bill to allow Newton to take 3,000,000 additional gallons of water daily from the Charles River valley was a great surprise to those who knew all the facts, and the promptness by which the Senate by a vote of 28 to 0 over the veto showed what the upper branch thought about the situation. Newton has already contributed $96,000 to the Metropolitan water supply and has received nothing in return. It prefers to obtain its supply from the Charles River valley instead of abandoning our expensive and extensive works at Upper Falls and Needham, and our water is far better than that obtained from Wachusett.

Powers' Paragraphs

Last Saturday Mexico broke off diplomatic relations with Great Britain. Relations between England and Mexico have been strained since British and American oil properties were seized by our neighboring country on March 18. But the ostensible reason given for the break was a note England sent to Mexico demanding payment of less than $100,000 on an old claim due Great Britain by the country south of the Rio Grande, and the complaint made by England that Mexico was discriminating in favor of the U. S. A. in meeting obligations. This whine from England about Mexico not paying a debt of less than $100,000 is ridiculous when one realizes that Great Britain has for years refused to pay the U. S. A. even the interest on the $5,185,730,763 she owes this country for money loaned during World War and for several other purposes in the years right after the end of that war. Altruistic, sincere Great Britain, the bulwark of Democracy, the country that was going to insist on justice for Ethiopia, the nation that would use the U. S. A. for a catspaw.

Our attention has been called by a neighbor to the fact that the new apartment building on Mount Ida st., Newton, is three stories high facing that street, although the revised building code of Newton specifies that buildings of this type shall be only two stories high. The Newton Public Buildings Department states that the lower story facing Mount Ida street is a basement and will be half underground when the grading is completed. There will be several apartments rented in the basement.

The Middlesex County Selectmen's Association held a meeting at Concord on Tuesday night to protest against the laying off by the State Public Works Department of many hundreds of men who had been working on highways. This wholesale discharge of men in the need was allegedly taken in retaliation for the defeat of the enlarged State budget by Republican members of the Legislature. The meeting was attended by the Selectmen, a large number of the discharged men, and members of the Legislature. One of the features of the meeting was a verbal battle between Senator Carroll of South Boston, Democratic floor leader and one of the apparent spokesmen for Governor Hurley, and Senator George Moyses of Waltham, a Republican who has frequently voted against his fellow Republicans during the regimes of Governor Carley and Governor Hurley. Carroll accused Moyses of having been responsible to a degree for the discharges of the Middlesex County men by his votes on several bills. Moyses arose to his feet in apparent wrath and retorted to Carroll that "he would jump through a hoop for no man." The seeming wordy quarrel between Carroll and Moyses appeared to many as an "act." During

It can also be said that there are too many State employees—and also municipal employees, who are drawing excellent salaries, who intrude into competition in private business with men and women who are having a difficult time to remain self-supporting. Such public employees include those who take advantage of unusual influence which their positions bring, to compete unfairly with persons regularly engaged in the line of business into which they have chiselled. And some of these greedy individuals are persons who pose in their communities as persons of high ethics and altruists.

Escapists and Surrealists

A few of us escapists were exchanging views recently and surprised each other with the wide divergence of our opinions. It seemed to prove that escapism, of which we hear so much lately, does not work the same in every instance. Where one of the number hoped to find the rest of us in accord with his detestation of a particularly well-known movie star there was only his own vote against. Instead of fleeing from cinema theatres that showed this favorite's screen-plays the others were in favor.

Again a member of the group made a speech in enthusiastic support of ice cold baths as stimulating singing and other forms of vocal culture. He was almost set upon by the others who denounced those who cannot perform ablutions without yawning. There was another who said the only way "to get away from it all" was to retreat as soon as possible every summer to the seashore and there spend the time gazing at the waves and occasionally floundering among them. Immediately six colleagues wanted to rent him their surfside cottages, saying he could name his own price as they never wanted to see salt water again.

Indeed, there were so many clashes that I became convinced that an escapist is no better than a surrealist and that it is not well to expect too much of either.

Why We Save Things

It must be discouraging to save clippings and maintain a scrapbook throughout the years and then have a fire or some other disastrous occurrence wipe them out completely. I read the other day of a prominent citizen, who must have had many newspaper articles to preserve if he kept anything like a complete collection, mourning the loss of scrapbooks and other mementoes through a blaze which destroyed his barn. What impressed me most was that anybody should take the pains to gather throughout the years newspaper accounts, paste them in a suitable volume and then place that precious accumulation in a spot where fire, flood or the like could do irreparable damage. Still, I don't think that should be any argument that such painstaking industry is not worthwhile. Things we save, like journalistic pieces, souvenir programs, banquet cards, etc., mean much at the time because after all sentiment governs a great deal that we do. On the other hand, it seems to me, there should be greater appreciation of strong-boxes or fireproof cases. Anybody who has had to dig up past records only to find a most important document missing the meeting Moyses was heckled with shouts of "Stop playing with the Governor." In the Legislature the following day Moyses was one of the five Republican Senators who voted against the new budget of $71,700,000 and blocked the progress of this bill.

How many more cars will plunge off bridges in Boston with occupants to be trapped and drowned before it will occur to officials of that city to place strong, protective cables along the sides of the bridges? In Newton also is a dangerous bridge which should have a stout cable on either side. We called attention to it years ago. It is the bridge over the Boston & Albany tracks at St. James st.; narrow and over which passes much traffic. Should an automobile skid off it onto the B. & A. tracks below with a passenger train approaching, a bad railroad wreck might ensue.

Much publicity was given the past week when it was revealed at the trial of Frank Ferrara, found guilty of invading a home in this city and robbing it, that the criminal with the long record had been appointed to two State positions within the past few years. This was not news to men who are in touch with State House activities. Nor was Ferrara the only criminal who was given employment in a State department through the influence of high officials in this Commonwealth. "God Save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

Representative Baker of this city opposed a bill which this week was favorably voted on by the lower branch of our State Legislature, and which will probably be killed in the Senate. This bill would prohibit anyone being employed by the State who holds any other public position. It has been rightfully contended that there are altogether too many persons who are drawing salaries from two or more public positions in these days when so large a percentage of our people cannot obtain gainful employment and are on public welfare. Baker's opposition to the bill was based on the fact that in its present form it would be impractical, as it would prevent, among other things, the employment of teachers in State extension courses.

It can also be said that there are too many State employees—and also municipal employees, who are drawing excellent salaries, who intrude into competition in private business with men and women who are having a difficult time to remain self-supporting. Such public employees include those who take advantage of unusual influence which their positions bring, to compete unfairly with persons regularly engaged in the line of business into which they have chiselled. And some of these greedy individuals are persons who pose in their communities as persons of high ethics and altruists.

will agree. We can be careful for years and then careless for a few minutes, undoing everything.

The "Third Party" Hurdle

Just now there is talk of a "third party." It has, however, political significance only, intimating that followers of a certain school of thought may decide upon their own candidates for Presidential honors. Should they do that trouble is in store for some body. But a "third party" can make the road rough in other walks of life. "It" may be a he or she in others words an individual, instead of a group. In matters of romance particularly the triangular set-up often sends blissful situations completely haywire. If you turn to games of chance you find a partner at cards abdicating everything in sight under a "third party" reveals possession of a better hand. One of the instances that we often encounter is the "third party" who wants to use the telephone (more or less) conversation over the wire. Suppose you are visiting somewhere or entertaining a guest and a "third party" appears on the scene. Everybody knows the effect of that. This "third party" nightmare has many possibilities. However, it seems to be unavoidable and if anybody knows anything that can be done about it I wish they would let me know.

Wrong Foot Forward

No one, as far as I know, has ever said that skis constituted a source of potential danger, apart, of course, from the perils of a snow-slide or mountain-slide. It surprised me to meet a young friend whose left eye was bandaged and whose cheek was spread with adhesive tape. The explanation was even more astounding. Having decided that his skis should be removed from the closet recesses of the front-hall closet to make way for bats and tennis racquets he proceeded to convey them to the attic. In entering the closet he encountered the upturned end of one of the snow-gutters with the result that it banged him on the head, inflicting cuts and abrasions.

Travel Gets Us All

It is flattering to be asked to advise friends as to their vacation plans and make whatever suggestions we may. Invariably I advise travel. And I mean it. Let the one making the journey set his own speed. To quote from Shakespeare's, "As You Like It"—"Time travels in divers paces with divers persons. I'll tell you who Time ambles with, who Time trots with, who Time gallops withal and who he stands still withal."

Gather them as you need them. It takes only a very short time for them to lose the sweetness that is so large a part of the desirability of fresh vegetables.

GREEN PEAS immediately from the garden are the sweetest of all vegetables. The sugar starts turning to starch only a little while after picking.

TWO STRAWBERRY plants to each square foot will give the maximum yield. Closer planting restricts the quantity of production. The fruit, too, are smaller in size.

WE URGE constant cultivation of your garden for a loose dust area at the top of the soil will conserve moisture and also keep the weeds down.

WHILE MEDICAL men differ on many points, there is one thing in which they are all in accord: Fresh vegetables are the best source of supply for the vitamins so necessary to the human system. As a general rule, the leafy vegetables are preferable.

WHETHER inflation or something else, one thing we know—the cost of living is increasing. The answer to the problem lies in the home garden.

Recent Weddings*WILSON—COLLENS

Miss Linda Collens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Collens of 200 Dudley rd., Newton Centre, was married to Robert Letchworth Wilson, son of Mrs. Charles R. Wilson of Buffalo, New York, on Saturday afternoon, May 14, in the First Parish Church in Brookline. Rev. Abbott Peterson performed the ceremony.

The bride wore ivory satin trimmed with old-fanny lace and a tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of Easter lilies. Mrs. Leopold Gruener, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor. She wore salmon colored organdie and a leghorn hat trimmed with salmon velvet ribbon. Her bouquet was of blue larkspur and salmon and yellow colored snapdragons. The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Allen and Miss Rachel Wilson of Buffalo, Miss Caroline Stevenson and Miss Laura French of New York, Miss Arria Morrison, Miss Barbara Bassett and Miss Jane Bancroft of Boston, and Miss Anne Richardson of Brookline. The flower girls, Miss Cynthia Gruener, niece of the bride, and Miss Katherine Pleuthner, niece of the groom, wore yellow organdie with wreaths of blue forget-me-nots and yellow marguerites.

Charles R. Wilson, father of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Willard A. Pleuthner and Robert E. Dodd of Buffalo, Leopold Gruener of Weston, Charles S. Estabrook, Jr. of Syracuse, New York; Donald Carlson of Newburgh, New York; Philip V. Rogers of Utica, Jefferson F. Meager of Binghamton, New York; Charles S. Symonds of Miami, Florida; Sherwood C. Chaffield, Stephen H. Pinn and Albert Lee, Jr., of New York, and the bride's brother, Charles Terry Collens of Newton Centre.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Collens wore rose beige crepe with brown hat and corsage of orchids. Mrs. Wilson wore hyacinth blue with navy hat and corsage of lavender orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are to make their home at 50 Gates Circle, Buffalo, New York.

The bride is a graduate of Winsor School and of Vassar College, 1936. The groom is a graduate of the Berkshire School, Hamilton College, and the Buffalo Law School, 1936.

SCHOLL—PALMER

Miss Elizabeth Wightman Palmer, daughter of Mr. Dudley Baldwin Palmer of Brookline, was married to Harold Whitlock Scholl, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Whitlock Scholl of 51 Morse rd., Newtonville, on Saturday afternoon, May 14, at four o'clock, in the Church of Our Saviour, Brookline. Rev. Henry M. B. Ogilby performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding gown of ivory brocade crepe with bodice of antique ivory lace, a tulle veil caught to a cap of orange blossoms and tulle and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley, orchids and gardenias. Miss Louise English of Brookline, the maid of honor, wore American Beauty marquisette and carried roses and white snapdragons. The bridesmaids, Miss Margaret Capper of Brookline, Miss Ellen Scholl of Newtonville, Miss Jeanette Osborne of Cambridge and Mrs. Paul Walton of Winchester, wore gowns of ivory marquisette in redingote style with hats and accessories to match the American Beauty roses which they carried.

Howard H. Pierce of West Newton was the best man. The ushers were Dudley B. Palmer, Jr., brother of the bride, Richard Gibbs of Newton Centre, Robert Johnson of Watertown, Harry F. R. Dolan, Jr., of Winchester, J. W. Silley of Newtonville and Robert E. Jarbeau of Great Neck, Long Island, New York.

A reception was held at the Algonquin Club. The couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Scholl who wore ashes of roses crepe with a matching lace jacket and a navy straw hat trimmed with crown of rose antelope. After June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Scholl will be at home at 130 Winchester st., Newton Highlands.

The bride attended the Oldfields School in Maryland and is a graduate of the Beaver Country Day School. The groom attended Lawrence Academy and Dartmouth College, where he was a member of the class of 1936.

WILSON—BOWLER

Miss Margaret T. Bowler of 128 Charlesbank rd., Newton, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Timothy J. Bowler, was married to Kenneth P. Wilson of Fitchburg, Mass., on Saturday evening, May 14, at the Church of Our Lady, Newton. Rev. Thomas Fallon performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Charles D. Bowler. She wore a gown of white satin in princess style with a long veil fastened to a cap of seed pearls and carried a bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. She was attended by her sister, Miss Evelyn T. Bowler of Newton, who wore blue chiffon and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and baby's breath.

Russell A. Quist of Worcester was the best man. The bride's brother, Frederick T. Bowler of Allston, and Richard K. Pine, of Fitchburg, served as ushers.

The couple were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Alice G. Wilson, mother of the groom, who wore navy blue chiffon with a corsage of gardenias, and by Mr. Charles D. Bowler and the bride's attendants.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Bowler in Allston. On their return from a wedding trip to Virginia Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will reside at 88 Milk st., Fitchburg, where they will be at home after June 15.

Annual Spring Concert At All-Newton Music School

On next Sunday afternoon (May 22) the full orchestra of the All-Newton Music School composed of more than fifty players and representing the ensembles from both the Clafin and Peirce Branches as well as former pupils and graduates of the school, will hold a final rehearsal for the Annual Spring Concert which will take place on Thursday evening, May 26th at 7:45 o'clock in the auditorium of the Newton High School. This event has been an annual affair in Newton for more than twenty-five years and comes this year near the end of the twenty-seventh season of the school.

The program will include piano, violin and cello solos by some of the most talented young people of Newton, an unusual Mozart Trio arranged for clarinet, viola and piano as well as the usual fine selections by the full school orchestra which will be conducted by Miss Elizabeth Fyffe, Founder and Director of the Music School.

During the intermission, Miss Mabel T. Eager, President of the Board of Trustees, will present Certificates of Achievement to all Music School pupils who will graduate this year from high school. Colleges and other schools of higher learning give credit for music work to those who present these certificates when going on to higher education. The All-Newton Music School is a charter member of the Newton Community Chest and depends upon the continued interest and support of its many friends for its existence. The Annual Spring Concert is free and open to the public—all are cordially invited to attend and no tickets are necessary for admission.

NEWTON SMITH CLUB PICNIC

Mrs. John Cooke of Oak Hill Village is opening her home and gardens to the Newton Smith College Club for a picnic on May 24 at 5:30, weather permitting; otherwise the picnic is to be held May 25. During the short business meeting presided over by Mrs. John N. Eaton, retiring president, the club's new Constitution will be discussed. Also the nominating committee headed by Mrs. H. Prentice Jones will present the slate of officers for next year. Those on that committee are Mrs. R. R. Cower of Waban and Mrs. Robert C. Kelley of Newtonville. Mrs. Amos Wilder, chairman of the program committee, is making arrangements for the picnic and Mr. Elliot Rogers is attending to reservations.

NEWTONVILLE IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The Annual Meeting of the Newtonville Improvement Association will be held on Friday evening, May 20th, at the rooms of the Central Congregational Church, Newtonville.

After the reports of the officers have been heard and the officers and members of the Executive Committee for the coming year have been elected, an illustrated talk will be given by Mr. Fred J. Wallace, noted deep-sea diver, who will explain all phases of his hazardous profession.

Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to all residents of Newton, whether or not members of the Association.

R. W. EMERSON CIVIC CENTRE

The singing classes of the R. W. Emerson Centre under the direction of Mr. Ralph McLean and the dancing classes under the leadership of Mrs. Margaret Hills, presented a two hour program on last Friday evening which was attended by a large audience. The program consisted of solo dances and group numbers featuring Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, Tippy Tippy Tin, Toe Dancing, a Tap dancing specialty by Leonard Toel and Baton Twirling by Miss Mary Fahey.

Rotary Club

At the Monday meeting of the Newton Rotary Club Mr. Henry I. Harriman gave an excellent outline of the political and economic conditions existing in Europe today. He stressed the political and economic developments following and depending upon the war, and suggested possible future trends. He expressed the feeling that the Treaty of Versailles was a tremendous blunder, and that it was understandable, but unfortunate that the Allies took it out on their defeated opponents after the war.

In his analysis of present-day conditions, he expressed the opinion that England and Germany are relatively strong, and that Italy and France are relatively weak. Germany has practically no unemployment and shows tremendous industrial expansion since Hitler came into power and since it began its huge program of rearmament.

Mr. Harriman spoke briefly concerning the rapid industrialization of Russia, but pointed out that it has not yet learned to operate these new units efficiently. At the present time it has units that are working at only 25% efficiency. He does not feel that Russia will become an aggressor at an early date.

Italy's aggression in Ethiopia was well planned and it has gained a territory twice the size of Italy itself. This new territory is fertile and full of necessary raw materials. From a realistic point of view it was a logical step for Italy to annex this territory.

Germany's next move will probably be political or economic expansion into the northeastern countries of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and Rumania. Political and trade treaties with these countries will give Germany a strong position from the North Sea to the Black Sea, and will provide a source of raw materials so necessary to independence and the establishment of a position as a first-rate power.

Three new members Harold McKusick, Dr. Alvah Cummings and Harold Carver were admitted to the club at the meeting.

STEARNS SCHOOL MOTHERS' CLUB

The annual banquet of the Stearns School Mothers' Club was held at the Stearns School this week. Mrs. Frank Womboldt, President, presiding.

Guests included Mayor Edwin H. Childs, Mrs. Paul E. Ellicker, President of the Board of Directors, Mrs. Walter Jamison, Mrs. George Ayrault, Mrs. Kanally, President of the West Newton Community Centre Mothers' Club, Miss Gertrude MacCallum, Director of Activities of the West Newton Community Centre, Mrs. Daniel White.

During the evening the members and guests were entertained by four members of the Newton Highlands Glee Club, Mr. Walter H. Sears, Mr. Fred Provost, Mr. William Petrie, Mr. Edgar Randle. The men were accompanied by Mrs. Walter H. Sears, at the piano.

The room was made very attractive by flowers which had been sent by Miss Lucy Ely Cobb and Miss Louise Lovett.

Rector Installed at Church of Messiah, Auburndale

The Rev. Richard P. McClintock, former rector of St. Paul's Church, Lancaster, N. H., was installed as rector of the Church of the Messiah last Sunday evening by Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill.

Rev. Harold E. Hallet, former rector of the church and now of Christ Church, Quincy, and the Rev. Percival M. Wood, also a former rector, and now of Athol, and the Rev. Raymond Lang of St. John's Church, Newtonville assisted in the installation ceremonies.

Annual Lecture and Tea Of Trust Company Women

Invitations have been sent out by the Women's Advisory Committee of the Newton Trust Company for a lecture and tea at the Brae Burn Country Club in West Newton on Tuesday, May 24th. The women employees and wives of the officers of the bank are to be their guests. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer will give a talk on "Word Pictures of the Old South." Other members of the committee who are hostesses are Mrs. George M. Angier, Mrs. Herbert M. Cole, Mrs. Howard P. Converse, Mrs. Henry I. Harriman, Mrs. Albert S. Hutchinson, Mrs. M. L. Madden and Mrs. Charles L. Smith.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Speakers On Program Of State Meeting

Even as early as tomorrow, Saturday, May 21st, there will begin the eagerly anticipated annual pilgrimage to lovely Swampscott by the sea, and to the attractive headquarters, the New Ocean House, by Massachusetts clubwomen. Probably nearly 3,000 clubwomen will journey from all parts of the State to attend this interesting and festive event, which will occupy the three days, May 24th to 26th, not to mention the many club leaders from outside Massachusetts who will be honored guests. As always there will be the thrill of reunions with friends and the anticipation of making the acquaintance of the coming of new presidents and officers, for some of whom, perhaps, this unique event will be their first experience. There is no denying that the State Meeting, with its beautiful background of location, and its array of offerings, and its assemblage of vital, informed women, will give a thrill that will never be forgotten.

The declaration is made that brilliant and significant personalities are included in the impressive list of speakers. On Tuesday morning, May 24th, which is the opening session in Convention Hall, Dr. J. A. Christensen, superintendent of the School of Agriculture at the University of Minnesota, will speak on "Dealing in Futures". There has been the comment that citizens in general are not informed upon the farm and agricultural problems of America, and Dr. Christensen seeks to present this problem to citizens of all sections of the country.

Tuesday afternoon, W. Roy Breg, of Washington, D. C., executive secretary of Allied Youth, Inc., a National movement for alcohol education, will speak on "Conservation of Youth." At the same session, clubwomen will be especially piqued in interest by the presentation of Dr. Harlan E. Stetson, Professor of Astronomy at Harvard University, not only for the intrigue of his topic, "Sun Spots and Their Effects on Human Affairs", in discovering how their serenity of life may be disturbed or ordered by such "spots", but because he is the husband of the State chairman of Education.

Great interest will be aroused by the name of the Tuesday evening speaker, for certainly it is women who are keen in their curiosity concerning one who has had the experiences in political life that the daughter of William Jennings Bryan had. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, Minister to Denmark, the first woman of the United States ever sent as envoy to a foreign capital, will speak on "Co-operatives in Denmark", which do fifteen per cent of that country's retail business.

Wednesday morning, the 25th, there will be another provocative topic discussed, "Personality—The Impression We Make Upon Our Fellow-men", by Dr. Henry C. McComas, instructor of Psychology at Johns Hopkins University. Considering that it is stated that his chief interest is in laboratory research and at the present time he is engaged in making comparisons of human brains with those of the gorilla, chimpanzee, and other monkeys, either Convention Hall will be packed to capacity, or all clubwomen will sit on the rocks in the sun and view the lovely ocean!

The Wednesday morning session will close early in order that groups may meet with State chairmen of departments. They may be consulted at their tables in the Hotel Lobby.

This also is voting day, and interest is keen because this is the year that a new president is to be voted in. Polls will be open from noon until 5:30 p. m. in the Ballroom.

Wednesday afternoon, a distinguished author—some may have read her "Mary Peters", "Silas Crockett", or other books—Mary Ellen Chase, Professor of English Literature at Smith College, will discuss "The Larger Life in Books".

Wednesday evening is a gala night—Governor's Night—when Governor Hurley will bring Greetings and Mrs. Hurley will be an honored guest also. There will be the always festive Receptional procession, and the Reception in the Ballroom of the New Ocean House, following the program of the evening session in Convention Hall. In this Receptional will be the officers, directors, and all club presidents. Mrs. Kimball has asked that presidents wear only shoulder bouquets, for flowers, as last year.

The speaker of that evening will be Dr. Ruth Alexander, specialist in Economics, and since she advocates a militant defense of American principles, her subject, "Shall We Survive?" indicates a dynamic presentation.

On Thursday morning the principal address will be by Dr. Clyde Eagleton, of the Department of Government of New York University, and a talk on Peace will be given by Mrs. Haru Matsui, a graduate of the Christian College of Yenching in Tokyo. She has since studied at Columbia and George Washington University, and is known by her writing and translation of Japanese stories into English, and as contributing editor of "China Today." A member of the Japanese Peace Society, Mrs. Matsui is relentless in her efforts in behalf of the Japanese military government.

New clubs to be presented Tuesday afternoon are: The Matron's Club of The Federated Church of Hyannis; Lynnfield Woman's Club, Mrs. J. W. M. Harvey, president; Community Service Club of West Newton, Mrs. Leslie Pratt Phinney, president; and the Play Readers' Group of Medford, Mrs. Lester C. Boynton, president.

Tuesday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock, a Garden Walk has been planned by the Ninth District director, a delightful event always looked forward to as a feature of the Annual gathering on the North Shore.

Prizes and awards in contests of all divisions and departments will be presented to the winners at the Thursday morning session.

Throughout the three days there will be, of course, the interesting exhibits in the Hotel Foyer, and reports and literature of department chairmen available.

Music will be a feature. (The entire program will be found under a separate heading on this Page.) The Eventide Song Service at the close of each day is most pleasing.

The three-day Convention will end Thursday noon with the highlight of closing officers, following the election of officers, the always attractive, but emotional, Floral Procession, with a Reception in front of the platform in Convention Hall.

Juniors To Have Festive Program At Swampscott

While the Senior clubwomen of Massachusetts have been arranging for the three-day sessions of their Annual Meeting, at Swampscott, May 24th, 25th, and 26th, the Juniors of the State have been making delightful plans for their festive meeting and banquet of the 23rd, to be held in the New Ocean House.

Miss Frances Letson, of Bloomfield at Dorchester, a vice-chairman of the Junior department, again is Reservations chairman for the Banquet featuring their Pre-Convention Meeting and she is arranging a seating plan this year so that Juniors of various clubs may be seated together. All money must be received before tickets are sent out. Tickets are $1.50.

An especially enjoyable program has been planned, featuring the awards of the Drama, Poetry, and Program cups; a word from their 1938 Scholarship Delegate, Miss Helene S. Spencer, who will have returned from Kansas City just a few days before the 23rd; introduction of new clubs, an inspirational speaker, and a musical program featuring the newly-organized State Junior Chorus. In addition, a surprise feature, highlighting retiring members of the department, has been arranged.

Junior Club presidents and their directors will parade, immediately following the banquet at 6:30 o'clock, and preceding the evening meeting at 8 o'clock, and Mrs. Charles R. Storey, State Federation Meetings chairman, has planned an effective and unusual Processional.

The program speaker will be the dynamic Mary Sue Wigley, of Alabama, whose discussion of economic problems of the home, is sure to arouse her hearers.

This year marks changes among the leaders of the Junior Group. Mrs. Paul H. Nottage, the chairman; and the director-advisor, Mrs. A. Chesley York, retire, and new officers will take their places, to be welcomed by the many hundreds of Juniors who will attend the meeting, and who will part, with a bit of sadness, with those who have endeared themselves during the past term of office.

Information on Reservations for Annual Meeting

Hotel reservations at the New Ocean House have come in very fast at Swampscott, for the State Federation Annual Meeting. Prices range from $8.00 to $10.00 per day for single rooms with meals; from $6.75 to $9.00 for double rooms, and there are several large rooms, which will accommodate as many as five persons, for $6.75 each, including meals.

Of assistance to the many clubwomen who may not plan to attend the entire three-day sessions, and who would like to secure accommodations near the hotel for one or more night's lodging, Mrs. Charles R. Storey, State chairman of Meetings, has compiled the following list of cottages which are cordially invited to be taken—all located in Swampscott:

Mrs. T. J. Maguire, 43 Hampton st.; Mrs. Charles D. Addison, 50 Aspen rd.; Mrs. Herman C. MacNeal, 32 Millet rd.; Mrs. Harry Southward, 14 Bay View drive; Mrs. William Tensley, 64 Farragut rd.; Mrs. Frank E. Morrison, 28 Bay View drive; Mrs. Herbert Pickering, 36 Puritan park; Mrs. Richard Cutts, 33 Grant rd.; Mrs. Charles D. Sidell, 120 Paradise rd.; Mrs. G. H. Knowlton, 164 Burrill st.; Mrs. W. E. Kane, 21 Cedar Hill terrace; Mrs. T. J. McAuliffe, 50 Walker rd.; Mrs. Frank Hutchinson, 17 Norfolk ave.; Mrs. Amos Russell, 85 Kensington lane; Mrs. James Bradley, 29 Beach Bluff ave.; Mrs. C. W. Orcutt, 96 Banks rd.; and Mrs. Douglass Connel, 380 Humphrey st.

It is hoped that many Senior clubwomen will attend the Pre-Convention meeting for Juniors, which will be held on Monday evening, May 23rd.

Clubwomen are reminded that there is a Registration Fee; for a Federated clubwoman, $1.00 for the three days; and 50 cents for a single day; for non-Federated clubwomen the admission will be $1.00 for each day.

And they are warned not to forget their club membership ticket for entry, if they are not delegates!

Music A Pleasing Feature Of Program

Music will have an important place on the program at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Swampscott, May 24th to 26th. Under the direction of Mrs. Harold B. Wood, chairman of the division of Music, there will be singing in the Ballroom each evening after sessions are over. Club Choruses will add interest, and they will include the Professional Women's Club Chorus, Erdine Tredennick Oedel, director, on Tuesday morning, the 24th; the Chorus of the Friday Club of Everett, Mrs. Mabel E. Barstow, director, Tuesday afternoon; and the Choral Society of the Massachusetts Federated Women's Clubs on Wednesday afternoon.

At the end of the Tuesday morning session, the Lothrop Bell Ringers will give a program; music Tuesday afternoon will be given by Ralph Mazzaro, Italian street singer; and Tuesday evening, by Elizabeth Garay DuVal, Violinist, and the Winchester Chorists in the Ballroom. Wednesday morning the Belmont Chorists will give special music under the direction of Henry Gideon, with Marian Herick Haynes, Contralto, as soloist; and in the evening there will be a Flute Quartette with Verne I. Powell, director, and Raymond Eaton, Baritone. The Philharmonia Orchestra, Walter E. Lond, director, will play during the Receptional of officers and presidents, and the Allison Sisters' Gypsy Ensemble will be in the Ballroom the same evening. Thursday morning a program will be given by Alessandro Niccoli, Violinist.

Proposed Amendment To State By-Laws

From the clerk of the State Federation Mrs. John F. Capron, comes the announcement of the following Proposed Amendment to the By-Laws to be acted upon at the Annual Meeting of the State Federation of Women's Clubs at Swampscott. The Executive Board recommend the adoption of the following:

Proposed Amendment to Article 4, Section 2, Line 5 of existing by-laws.

After "successive years" and before the last sentence "Eight Directors"—insert the following amendment—"And the Recording Secretary who, for one year, from the annual meeting in 1939 to the close of the annual meeting in 1940, only, shall serve a third successive year. If the Recording Secretary cannot serve the third year, a Recording Secretary shall be elected for that one year only."

The proposed amendment (to be in effect for one year only) is recommended by the Executive Board to make more efficient the work of the Council.

At present the new Fourth Vice-President is the only member of the Council on the Ballot this year. Next year both Secretaries and the Clerk would be newly elected.

If, for one year, this change in the By-Laws is made, every incoming President will have the same Recording Secretary for her two year term as President instead of having a new Recording Secretary her second year.

This change will bring about, by process of rotation, the election of the Fourth Vice-President and Recording Secretary, together, and alternate years the election of Corresponding Secretary and Clerk.

Signed,
EDITH H. CAPRON,
Clerk.

West Newton Community Service Club to Join State Federation

On Tuesday, May 24th, the Community Service Club of West Newton will be elected to membership in the State Federation of Women's Clubs on the first day of the Swampscott Convention. All members of the Club are cordially invited to be present and a large delegation is expected. Special delegates will be Mrs. Leslie P. Phinney, the president; Mrs. Austin H. DeCatur, and Mrs. Holcombe J. Brown, from whom further information may be had by those planning to attend.

Newtonville Garden Club

Mrs. Chester M. Dunham will be hostess at the May 26th meeting of the Newtonville Garden Club at her home, 2 Chesterbrook rd., Waltham. The meeting will be held in the garden, weather permitting. Members are urged to bring a picnic lunch. Coffee will be served by the hostess.

Following the business meeting, scheduled for 10 o'clock, Mrs. Carl W. Somers will read her paper "Enchanted Gardens of the Evening." Members of the Club who are in Group III will give "garden notes."

W. C. T. U.

The West Newton W. C. T. U. held their regular meeting at the Walker Missionary Home, Auburndale, on last Monday evening, May 23rd.

Clubwomen are reminded that there is a Registration Fee; for a Federated clubwoman, $1.00 for the three days; and 50 cents for a single day; for non-Federated clubwomen the admission will be $1.00 for each day.

And they are warned not to forget

It's Common Sense

that you can't get something for nothing, nor can you get good quality at poor quality prices, whether it be clothing, food, rent . . . . . or laundry work

We could charge a few cents less by hiring our operators on a piece-work basis . . . by using cheap, harsh soaps and cleansing materials . . . by taking short cuts here and there . . . but you'd lose in the end because your clothes wouldn't last as long or look as well, and we'd lose our Reputation, Goodwill and Customers.

THAT IS WHY QUALITY COMES FIRST AT THIS MODERN LAUNDRY!

Sacred Heart School Pupils Present Comedy

On May 25, 1938 at the Newton Centre Women's Club at 8 o'clock, the Senior Class of the Sacred Heart High will present "The Spanish Onion," a farcical comedy in three acts. The role of the Spanish Onion who proves to be a Spanish Duke is played by Clement Hasenfus. "De-light", the popular girl of a co-ed college will be enacted by Mary E. Roberts.

The play is interspersed with modern popular song hits in accordance with the college atmosphere of the play, together with Spanish dances.

NEWTON GARDEN CLUB FLOWER SHOW

On June first and second the Newton Garden Club is having a Flower Show at Channing Church, Newton. Mrs. J. W. Gerrity is general chairman, and is assisted by Mrs. Ralph W. Angier, Mrs. Donald V. Baker, Mrs. Arnold C. Barker, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Jr., Mrs. Charles B. Gleason, Mrs. Ralph N. Hall, Mrs. Fred H. Loveland, and Mrs. Franklin P. Lowry. Other Garden Club members are serving as sponsors of the various classes. Residents of this Newton Community are cordially invited to exhibit in several of these classes and may obtain schedules and information from members of the committee.

The Show will be open to the public from two until 9 p. m. the first day and from 10 a. m. until 9 p. m. on the second day. There is an admission charge of 25 cents for adults, and 10 cents for children. Children under 10 will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

LASELL JUNIOR COLLEGE

Field Day, featuring jumping, javelin throwing, hurdling, and the 50-yard dash, followed by a baseball game was held on Tuesday, May 17, on the recreation field.

A fashion show, sponsored by the Clothes Institute of Filene's, was given Wednesday afternoon, May 18, in the Barn for the benefit of the Endowment Fund. Among the students modeling were Shirley Shields, Belmont, Ruth Wilson, South Dartmouth; and Betty Lloyd, Worcester.

Tennis matches between the Brookline High School and Lasell were played Thursday afternoon, May 19, on the college courts.

Dr. John B. May of Cohasset gave two illustrated lectures on birds at this week's assemblies.

Mrs. Arthur Robinson will speak on China at the Sunday vesper service.

Glee Club Members Present Gifts To George H. Wight

The most surprised man in Newton last Monday evening was George H. Wight of Moreland ave., Newton Centre, for the past 15 years president of the Highland Glee Club of this city. Fellow members of the club gathered at the parish house of Trinity Church, Newton Centre for the annual meeting, which was preceded by a dinner, conceived a pleasant method with which to manifest their appreciation of the long and capable service rendered to the club by Mr. Wight. During the past 15 years the club has won 8 prizes at the annual contests held by the Federated Glee Clubs of New England, including three first prizes. This year it won second prize at the annual competition held at Springfield. The prize song—"Through Eastern Gates" was a very difficult number, and the Highland Glee Club scored 553 out of a possible 600 points, being excelled only by the Wollaston Glee Club. At the dinner on Monday evening the 70 members who attended informally sang old time songs. Several called for "Through Eastern Gates" but other members, feigning disappointment at not winning first prize on this song, boomed such suggestions.

Bigelow School Pupils Give Play Glee Clubs Sing

Last Friday night, May 20, pupils of the Bigelow Junior High School at Newton presented a play in conjunction with the safety campaign which has been conducted at the school, and the orchestra and glee clubs of the school gave a musical program. Following a selection by the school orchestra, the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. Erna Rice, music teacher at the school sang four numbers surprisingly well. Ann Avantiaggio was accompanist. The girls' Glee club has been trained by Mrs. Rice. All girl pupils at the school have a chance once a week to participate in some club activity and some elect to sing. They have prepared programs for school activities and public entertainments and show keen interest in this diversion. The Boys' Glee Club, which has been trained by Hadyn Morgan, supervisor of music in Newton schools, sang seven numbers. The four part singing of these youngsters was very enjoyable and reflected credit on them and their instructor. The final number on the concert program was a selection by both glee clubs—"The Heavens Resound," by Beethoven, and the rendition of this song elicited prolonged applause from the audience.

The play given by the pupils—"John Doe Goes to Court," was written and produced by Manuel Giesman, chairman of the Safety Council at the school, and a member of its faculty. Hadyn S. Pearson, principal of Bigelow School, states that in the important matter of teaching safety to junior high school pupils, special stress is placed on the bicycle problem, which is a real one in Newton, and the school is doing all it can to help in the solution of it. The part of the judge in the play was taken by William Graham, who looked and acted the role effectively. Edward Casavant was a husky policeman, and Richard Bolin as the colored janitor gave a good performance. Sherman Gleason gave a realistic impersonation of a court officer, and William Larkin and Audrey Fitzgerald were properly dignified as court clerk and stenographer.

Donates Land To Widen Corner

Mrs. Mary M. Powers of 82 Church st., Newton has donated to the city 45 square feet of land at the southwest corner of Centre and Church sts. so that the corner may be rounded and curbing placed there. The intersection of these two streets has been the scene of numerous automobile accidents, including a collision between two cars two winters ago when Mrs. Powers' late husband, Professor Harry H. Powers was fatally injured. Dr. Powers was walking along the sidewalk when one of the two cars involved skidded across the street and hit him. The former Utley and Frisbee properties on Centre and Church sts. which were purchased by Dr. Powers some years ago had been converted by him into an attractive garden as a temporary civic contribution and Mrs. Powers is continuing to maintain these gardens.

Newton High School Pupils to Give Beautiful Pageant at Dickinson Stadium on Night of June 3--Gigantic Cast of 450 Boys and Girls

"Midsummer Night's Dream" Will Be Presented With Transplanted Woods For Background—Beautiful Lighting Effects, Sound Amplification, Dances, Music, Verse, Speaking

Reads a mock warrant conspicuous-ly posted at Newton High School these days: Middlesex, ss. To All Persons To Whom These Presents Come: Greetings.—You are hereby notified and required to summon the citizens of the Newtons and other friends of the school, and all other lovers of good entertainment to assemble in Dickinson Stadium, at Newton High School, Newtonville, on Friday, the 3rd day of June next, at 8:30 o'clock p. m., to witness: 'A Midsummer Night's Dream,' by William Shakespeare. A remarkably beautiful pageant with a cast of 450 pupils, coached by Louise Wetherbee and sponsored by the and pupils have supplemented the fostering of interest in the high school, the four junior high schools, and among the children in the elementary schools. Libraries have cooperated in calling attention to the production, which Principal Paul E. Elicker has declared to be "An unusual treat for all of us, an opportunity not to be denied." And putting words to action, advertising material has been carried into the shopping areas of the Newtons and neighboring communities. Letters of invitation have been sent to many leading schools in Metropolitan Boston, and to groups interested in dramatics.

has been used in pageantry, and an event that will likely be precedent making. Girls' classes in physical education have worked out the dances, and are practising regularly in the afternoons. The band, orchestra, choruses, and glee club have been studying the music, which will contribute so much to the whole effect. Glee and madrigals of the Elizabethan period will be featured, but an all-English program has been sacrificed since no wedding scene would be complete without Mendelssohn and Wagner. Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" is also included in the musical scoring of the play.

Part of the cast of four hundred and fifty in the High School Pageant, "A Midsummer Night's Dream", which climaxes the school theatrical season.

Drama Club. Splendid acting with incidental music and dancing, in a natural setting with a transplanted woods for background, and sound amplification and lovely lighting effect. Dialogue, verse-speaking, vocal and instrumental music, and dancing will afford the Enchantment of Midsummer Night. Admission, 50 cents. Hereof fall not but make due return of your doings under this warrant at the time and place aforesaid. Given at the Newton High School, Newtonville, this 23rd day of May, A. D. 1938. Signed, Raymond A. Green, Director; B. Floyd Rinker, Agent.

Thus, Newton High School brings to the peak of its own campaign for an all-school interest in the most lavish dramatic and music production in Newton High's history. Dozens of colorful posters done in the design classes of the art department, special programs arranged for English classes, subject matter emphasizing the humor and universality of Shakespeare's work, and an attractive exhibition of Shakespeare's material arranged by the school librarian have been a part of this program. Messages to parents and the distribution of fliers by teachers

THE NEWTONITE for Wednesday, May 25, is a special edition, featuring in many short articles how a large school prepares for a gala event. All of the work is done in the school, and is a part of the program. Classes in design made patterns for the Greek costumes, and stencilled the patterns. Girls in the home economics classes have made the costumes. Girls in the household arts have made garlands of flowers and other properties. Boys in industrial arts have become the school's official armorers, making swords, shields, helmets, spears, and greaves. In addition, they have constructed sandals, wings for the fairies, and head-dresses for the men. Pupils on the stage committee and members of the Drama Club Workshop have been busy in the afternoons working out the endless details of staging and lighting the mammoth production. The Verse-Speaking Choir will appear twice in the pageant, one of the first times that choral speaking

Samuel Thurber, head of the English department, after studying the plans for Newton's presentation of Shakespeare's much loved comedy, expressed his pleasure in the project. "Like all of us," he said in part, "who are going to the Grand Outdoor Pageant, an Elizabethan audience would find great delight in the poetry, setting, costumes, dancing, music, songs and noise which are a part of Newton's production."

Overseas greetings from Sir Archibald Flower, head of the Governors of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre, and from W. H. Savery, Esq., General Manager of the Stratford Players, were received by Miss Jeannie Kendrick. Mr. Savery sent details of costumes which have proved very helpful to the teachers directing the making of the wardrobe.

The pageant starts at eight-thirty, a version of the immortal classic prepared for a continuous performance, using the same book that has been (Continued on Page 6)

Formal Opening of Newton Mother's Rest Home

On Friday, June 3rd, the Annual Luncheon and Bridge Party will be held at the Home in the Oak Hill section of Newton Centre.

Mrs. Charles E. Bailey, chairman of Finance, with Miss Maida Flanders, vice chairman and her large committee are planning a most delightful afternoon for the many friends and supporters of the association. Their patronage insures the success of this most deserving charity which for thirty-seven (37) years has given a free vacation to so many tired Newton mothers. Many others from Greater Boston are invited after all applicants from Newton have been placed.

The season consists of six two-week periods and twenty mothers with their very young children are entertained during each period.

The finance committee comprises Mrs. Charles E. Bailey, chairman; Miss Maida Flanders, vice chairman; and Mesdames Henry T. Patch, H. P. Bradford, J. F. Hollis, F. F. Monroe, N. Boynton, Jr., W. L. West, Roger Hall, Fuller Halloway, S. Haidle Mitchell, F. N. Nathan, F. B. Stratton, Hoyt Weston, H. E. Noyes, Roger Weeks, H. H. Cooley, George Pratt, Ralph Stuart, A. C. Benton, H. L. ## Announce Memorial Day Program

Mayor Childs on Monday announced the program for the observance of Memorial Day in Newton. The general orders were signed by Leonard Boyd of Newton Highlands, Commander of Charles Ward Post, G. A. R., and its only surviving member. The customary decoration of veterans' graves in Newton cemeteries and in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, Holyhood, and St. Mary's in Needham will be in charge of Camp 31, Sons of Union Veterans, Thomas Burnett Camp, Spanish War Veterans; Newton Post, A. L. Eugene Daley Camp, V. F. W.; and Chaplain Farrell Post, D. A. V. Flowers will also be strewn on the Charles River at Lower Falls. Persons desiring to contribute flowers may leave them at the various fire stations in this city.

The usual parade will form at Engine 1 house, Centre ave., and Washington sts., Newton, at 2 p. m., and will proceed at 2:15 over Washington and Walnut sts. to Newton Cemetery where memorial exercises will be conducted at Soldiers' Monument. Mayor Childs will be chief marshal, Leon May (Continued on Page 6)

Mayor Makes Moan Head of Police Traffic Bureau

Mayor Childs announced on Wednesday that he had ordered the immediate organization of the traffic bureau in the Newton Police Department and that he had also ordered that Lieut. Edward Moan should be its head. Last year the then newly organized Newton Safety Council voted to recommend the establishing of a traffic bureau in the Newton police department on the theory that it would be of assistance in promoting safety. The Safety Council also recommended that Sergeant Richard Bannon be appointed head of the bureau. Bannon had attended the short course on traffic safety given at Harvard University and had been designated by Chief Hughes for the assignment.

Mayor Childs refused to approve Bannon's appointment to head the traffic bureau and instead designated Lieut. Moan. The Board of Aldermen were of the belief that should Moan be made head of the traffic bureau, Serg. Bart Cullen, mechanic of the police department, and over whom there has been much controversy between the Mayor and members of the Board of Aldermen, would be promoted to lieutenant to succeed Moan on regular duty. Mayor Childs, two years ago, recommended that provision be made in the budget of the police department so that Cullen could be advanced to the rank of lieutenant, and the Aldermen refused. So, when the Mayor designated Moan to head the traffic bureau, the Aldermen refused to appropriate money for the proposed personnel of the traffic bureau and there has been an impasse for months. Moan's duties as one of the two lieutenants in charge of the night platoons of the police force will have to be assumed by one of the sergeants. This will leave a shortage in the present set-up of the sergeants.

Will Install Five Traffic Signals

Street Commissioner Mahoney announced on Wednesday that a contract had been awarded to the Municipal Signal Corp. of Boston to install traffic signals at five locations in this city at a cost of $5983. At Watertown (Continued on Page 12)

THE MOTORISTS' MONEY—A LIVE ISSUE

Regardless of the final outcome of the arguments on Beacon Hill as to the use of the balance of funds remaining from the receipt of gasoline taxes the eventual policy in regard to their use, and of the effect of such use upon the real estate tax will still be in abeyance and it may readily become an issue of the forthcoming political campaign. Some six years ago, when the Federal government increased its roadbuilding activities and co-operated more fully with the various states it did not seem practical to expand the highway development program. The continual additions to our highway system also considerably increased maintenance allotments and engineering expenses. There remained an unexpended balance in the highway fund of approximately eight millions of dollars. Not only in Massachusetts but in other states these balances were diverted into general funds and in this Commonwealth kept down the tax assessment upon the various municipalities. This assessment, designated as the state tax, balances the difference between the income of the state and its expenditures and falls directly on real estate taxpayers.

Agitation of motorists, automobile and truck associations, against diverting these funds and urging that they be expended upon highway construction has had little effect until recently. The expectation that the Federal Government will penalize states diverting gas tax funds by withholding grants on highway projects forces additional attention upon the problem. In this way Massachusetts will suffer to the extent of three millions of dollars if highway funds are diverted into general revenue this year. Governor Hurley, thus, must take the responsibility of such a step if he continues to insist upon such a transfer.

The proposal to distribute the remaining funds to the cities and towns as an offset against highway appropriations will not bring a Federal penalty. Neither will it affect local tax rates, unless the municipality itself authorizes expenditures or additional road work in which case local officials will bear the responsibility of an increased local tax. Such a distribution will mean, however, a greatly increased state tax which will be offset by the receipt of gas tax funds and become only a bookkeeping entry. Until some permanent policy is adopted either by vote of the people, or even possibly a reduction of one cent in the gas tax the question will continue to be a live issue.

ANOTHER MEMORIAL DAY

Another Memorial Day is at hand and again we pause in the midst of usual and routine life to honor those who served in the cause of their country. It is a sad comment upon our present day life that the day has become so commercialized in various ways. It is a day in which we should give more thought to the honor of those who have gone before and to the prevention of the horrors of war, which took from so many the happiness of life, and less to the selfish desires for individual entertainment.

High School Placement Tests On June 20-21

Placement tests for candidates who wish to enter Grade X of the Newton High School will be given at 8:30 a. m. on June 20 and 21. Examinations for college preparatory pupils will be given in English, Mathematics, French and Latin. Pupils who wish to enter the business course will be examined in English and Arithmetic. Pupils should report at 8:15 on June 20 to room 314 at the High School for registration. They should bring their 9th grade school records with them. Pupils wishing conferences before they register may make appointments with Miss Riley on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of the preceding week. The telephone number is Newton North 6267.

Stearns School Centre Leaders' Meeting

Miss Lucy Ely Cobb entertained the club leaders and some members of the Board of Directors of the Stearns School Centre at her home on Franklin st. on Tuesday at a picnic supper. Supper was served just after the guests arrived. This was followed by a very informal meeting when a short report was given by Miss Sandstrom telling of the different activities during the winter at which 23 leaders had a total attendance of 491. Each leader presented told a bit about the work with her group. The guests included Mrs. Paul Elicker, President of the Board of Directors, Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. Harold Choate, Miss Florence Heard, Mrs. J. Leroy Conel, all members of the Board, Miss Helen Cobb, Miss Jean Killey of the Garland School, Miss Jean Coleman of the Wheelock School, Miss Helen Peck and Miss Barbara Garfield of Wellesley College, Miss Mary Rowe, Miss Rhoda White, Miss Lillian DeRubeis of the Newton High School, Miss Elmina Schipani, Miss Helen I. song and Miss Constance Somers of Newton Highlands, depicting the fascinating Chinese girl who was the heroine of the song entered the room where the glee club was assembled. Miss Somers was attired in "rough silk and kerchief blue," and daintily proceeded with mincing steps down the aisle to present the astonished and embarrassed Mr. Wight with a Waltham electric office clock. She gracefully retired, and then D. Ralph MacLean comically attempting to initiate Miss Somers hobbled down the aisle and presented Mr. Wight with a photograph of the glee club members, which had been autographed by all. Mr. Wight, with characteristic modesty, gave the credit for the club's success to its outstanding director, Mr. MacLean, and to the loyal support he has received from the members. Further praise of Mr. Wight was given by the officers of the club.

The Highland Glee Club was organized in 1908 by the late Edgar J. Smith and incorporated in 1921. Its interest was almost entirely localized in Newton Highlands and was primarily a social organization. Very early in its career, however, under the able leadership of Mr. Smith, the club made its influence felt among male singing organizations in this vicinity and steadily grew. In its early days, rather pretentious programs were undertaken with success and the club presented many worthwhile soloists and prospered. During the World War most of the men in this group were identified with service work to the extent that there was some question of abandoning the organization. However, sufficient loyalty and interest prevailed so that this was averted and during the next few years the club remained intact and contributed its services on patriotic occasions.

Up to this point, the club had had but two conductors, Edgar J. Smith and Almon J. Fairbanks. The next few years the club continued its activities under the leadership of George S. Dunham and A. Vincent Bennett, now rector of Christ Church in Fitchburg and one of the outstanding Episcopal clergymen in this section of the country. Since 1922 the club has been under the able direction of D. Ralph MacLean and under his present success is attributed to his capability and dynamic personality in holding this group, which now comprises 55 voices, together.

In the past 15 years, during which the club has become recognized as outstanding among the male singing organizations in this part of the country, there has been an unswerving loyalty on the part of its members to the underlying principle on which the club was founded—good fellowship and good singing.

The first and outstanding characteristic of this splendid group is perhaps best exemplified by the fact that a considerable portion of its members come from outside the City of Newton. From its inception membership of 85, during the season 35 meetings including rehearsals and concerts, were held, at which there was an average attendance of 65. An interesting commentary on the activity of the club is the numerous occasions on which members from other nearby cities and towns, which comprise its membership, have enthusiastically supported civic activities in which the club has participated.

It has been no small problem, since the club has become so large, to find a satisfactory place to hold its rehearsals and other activities, comprising meetings, smokers and dinners. This problem has been solved very graciously by the Trinity Episcopal Church which has extended its conveniences and warm hospitality of their Parish House to the club. In fact, all during its progress one of the strong supporters has been Rev. Edward T. Sullivan of Trinity Church.

The Highland Glee Club was one of the original incorporators of the Federated Glee Clubs of New England, from which the Federated Glee Clubs of America has been an outgrowth. It, therefore, takes considerable pride in being identified with this national movement.

With its high musical ideals, which have resulted in maintaining interesting and worthwhile programs and presenting to its audiences soloists of national repute, it has never lost sight of its original policy of maintaining the morale and esprit de corps among its active membership, which has no doubt been largely responsible for its continued success. To this end, the Executive Committee of the club has always been active, with a personal interest in the particular activity for which it has been held responsible.

The policy of the club has been conservative and its growth and progress steady for the past 15 years and is an organization of which the City of Newton can well be proud. Incorporated for educational and charitable purposes, the organization's principal source of income is from approximately 200 patrons, who contribute $3 a year for 2 tickets to each of 2 concerts. In addition to these, the club accepts several outside engagements, which is necessary to meet its financial obligations.

The club has finally realized its ambition in the establishment of a Scholarship Fund to assist in the musical education of some talented boy or girl in the City of Newton. With such a splendid incentive, the Highland Glee Club, with its 55 active members, has pledged its sustaining membership a continued series of concerts which should warrant their active and enthusiastic support.

The officers elected for the 1938-39 season are: Geo. H. Wight, president; Rodney C. Eaton, vice president; Russell W. Clark, secretary; Gustav R. Breitke, treasurer; D. Ralph MacLean, director; Karl Switzer, accompanist; Cecil J. Hall, chairman Music committee; Francis H. Williams, chairman Concert Committee; Gustav W. Ulmer, Chairman Library; Arthur F. Sisson, Chairman Publicity Committee; Raymond S. Carman, Chairman Sponsoring Membership.

Elicker New Rotary Club President

Paul E. Elicker, principal of the Newton High School, has been elected by the Board of Directors of the Newton Rotary Club as president. Mr. Elicker succeeds Dr. Frank R. Clark whose term expires shortly. At the meeting on Monday Dr. Clark was presented with his past president's badge by Mr. Elicker. Dr. Clark leaves shortly for the International Rotary convention in California. Harry Bascom, general secretary of the Newton Y.M.C.A. was elected vice-president and Herbert McGill and George Bainerd were re-elected secretary and treasurer, respectively. James Reynolds was elected sergeant-at-arms.

Directors for the new year will be, in addition to the officers, Julius Warren, Edward D. Leonard, Philip Enholm and Rev. Ray Eusden.

Dr. Warren K. Lewis, Professor of Chemical Engineering at M. I. T. spoke at the club on "The Profit Motive in Industry." Dr. Lewis first of all pointed out that the natural first step from the condition of savagery is a concentration of authority. Although this concentration first may be militaristic in its nature it eventually leads into a concentration in terms of economic power. The acquisition of property by those in power turns to the logical step of using property for the acquiring of profit. In order to have progress there must be this concentration of power.

Dr. Lewis expressed the opinion that in any society which seeks to have a maximum production of goods for human needs, the profit system must be allowed to function in the hands of individuals or small groups. The profit system allows an evaluation of services on a competitive basis and each individual must produce services or goods in competition with all other individuals. This competition is a stimulation to progress. He feels that this competition under the profit system is an impersonal competition. If there were government control the evaluation generally tends to be impersonal, but rather a matter of personal opinion. The profit system, unhampered by the government, emphasizes the necessity for co-operation, team play, and loyalty. The profit system tends to put the power into the hands of those who have demonstrated that they can handle it sensibly and profitably for the benefit of the community. Under a government control system, distribution of power is generally made on the basis that it should be in the hands of individuals who profit from use of force or persuasion.

Dr. Lewis pointed out that under a profit system there is no fundamental clash between labor and management. The interest of the community is in that they are interested in the creation and distribution of goods for their own profit. Lastly, Dr. Lewis emphasized the fact that under any profit system the question of leadership is the most important factor of all. He felt that in the years since the World War American business has not exerted the leadership it could in our American society.

RED CROSS

Mr. Norman H. Davis, National Chairman of the American Red Cross, has requested that all Chapters appeal to the public for financial assistance for China. American residents in these parts report that actual starvation is taking place and the number of refugees is fast increasing. While camps are, and have been, in operation for months, the lack of funds is holding back the work of the Red Cross. It is well to know that one dollar will feed, clothe, and house a refugee for a month. The contributions from Newton will be added to those from other countries and sent direct to China.

It will not be a burdensome task for Newton to raise its quota of $800 if each village will do its part to help this friendly people at this time. The chairman of the Newton Chapter, Mr. Joseph B. Jamieson, has been requested to set the time limit for June 15th. Contributions should be made out—Newton Chapter American Red Cross and sent to 12 Austin st., Newtonville.

Mrs. Lilla Viles Wyman's Golden Celebration

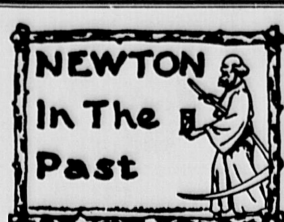

Mrs. Lilla Viles Wyman, veteran dancing teacher of Boston, who has had many Newton pupils in her long career, will conduct her 50th May Festival on Friday evening, May 27 in Copley Theatre, Boston. Many of her former pupils will participate.

Sunbeam Chats

More garden planting this week, 'n' I got to thinking how I grow just like the vegetables. I asked Daddy and he said, "Well, chicken, it's like this—the seeds get good food from the ground—and water and sunshine, so they grow. Then you eat the vegetables every day and you get the food the vegetables get from the ground. It helps you to grow, too." 'Swonderful how that food helps seeds grow into vegetables, and then helps me to grow up like Daddy.

Newton Republican, May 27, 1876

A special meeting of the School Committee was held on Monday evening. It was voted to have a children's celebration on June 17 and that the exercises be held at the high school. The committee was authorized to ascertain the probable cost of the celebration and report on Wednesday. It reported that the cost will be $75.

The regular meeting of the School Committee was held on Wednesday evening. The superintendent of schools read his quarterly report for the time from January 1 to May 1. The attendance has not been very good, sickness and want of proper clothing being the main causes. Many laboring men have been out of work, on account of the hard times, and have not been able to provide suitable clothing for their children. He recommended the building of a small, primary school near "Cold Spring Village" and possibly in one or two other places in the city, which would increase attendance in the lower grades. The attendance in the schools for the four months was as follows—average enrollment, 2368; average attendance, 2150; percentage 90.7; tardy, District 1, 524; District 2, 98; District 3, 246; District 4, 322. Disciplined—District 1, 302; District 2, 125; District 3, 447; District 4, 384. Punished—District 1, 143; District 2, 32; District 3, 121; District 4, 70.

The Superintendent said the course of study in the schools includes too much and teachers are obliged to shorten recitations to give time for each study in the day. Arithmetic and reading are below what they will be entitled to receive in the schools at West Newton, North Village, Newton and Upper Falls for pupils who can only spend a short time in school and cannot be well accommodated in the graded schools.

150 Italians who have been laying the water pipes quit the first of the week because they did not receive their pay. They are quietly awaiting the arrival of the contractor, who is daily expected.

The committee of arrangements for the observance of June 17 earnestly solicits the name of the oldest living male child descended from those who were residents of Newton 100 years ago. A ticket will be sent to anyone who notifies the committee and they will be entitled to seats on the platform on the evening of that day. Don't forget to send this information to G. H. Gilman, chairman of the committee.

According to the report of the Superintendent of Schools, there has been most sickness in District 4 which includes Newton and Nonantum. Twelve pupils have died since January 1.

Where is the street sprinkling cart which was so welcomed along our streets? These windy days send fine dust into the houses, more than is agreeable.

Mrs. Anna Kehoe of Auburndale was in court on Wednesday for assaulting her husband, and the case was so clear that the justice fined her $5 and costs and placed her under bonds to keep the peace for 6 months.

Newton Graphic, May 25, 1888
The V. R. C. Tennis Club has its grounds at the corner of Galen and Boyd sts., Newton, put in order for the season. Harry Flinn is president and Will Sampson secretary.

The Newton Tennis Club has re-organized for the season with Fred Woodford as president and Eben Ellison as treasurer. The grounds on Richardson st. have been put in fine condition and are in use on most pleasant afternoons.

The Social Science Club has formed a plan for starting a summer sewing school at Thompsonville, Newton Centre, the Baptist chapel having been furnished them for the purpose. Members of the club will take charge of the school for a week at a time.

On May 30 the Newton Bicycle Club will make a run to Salem. It will leave Newton at 9 a. m., pass through Brighton 15 minutes later, and dine at the Essex House in Salem.

The stone masons employed on the new Eliot Church at Newton were ordered by the Boston Union to stop work on Wednesday morning until the contractors raised their pay 1 cent an hour, making it 40 cents an hour. The contractors refused and about 25 men went on strike. The stone cutters continued at work and no trouble is expected.

A party of Newton people leave on Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cobb for a coaching trip through Vermont and the beautiful scenery about Lake George. The coach and horses will be sent by train to Rutland, Vermont, and on the return will be shipped back from Albany. Members of the party are Mrs. Theodore Nickerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Goodrich, Mr. and Mrs. A. March. They will be gone about 3 weeks.

The Newton City Band serenaded several prominent West Newton residents on Tuesday evening and quite a crowd of the younger element followed their line of march.

Powers' Paragraphs

There has been much publicity given the past few weeks over the discharge of a considerable number of men who had been employed for many years by the State Public Works Department. These men are residents of Middlesex County and it is alleged they were deprived of employment in revenge for the refusal of Republican members of the Legislature to vote for the enlarged State budget which was recently rejected. It has also been alleged that Governor Hurley was responsible for the discharge of the men deprived of their livelihood. Inasmuch as Governor Hurley has been going about the State, since becoming chief executive of Massachusetts, telling of his high ideals, and frequently stating that his affection for his children influences him to conduct his office in a righteous manner, it is difficult to conceive that he would cause the discharge through cheap political motives of poor laborers who have little children depending on them.

Two years ago and more we criticized that WPA activity known as the Federal Arts Projects. We stated that on these projects were many alleged actors and actresses, artists and writers, who had never earned a living, and in some cases even compensation in these professions. We also said there were numbers of young women and men without dependents obtaining from the WPA Arts Projects about double the allotments given to men with families who were on ordinary WPA projects. In the BOSTON GLOBE on Monday we read in Dorothy Thompson's column about the Pepper-Coffee bill known as the Fine Arts Act, which is now being considered by Congress. This bill, according to Miss Thompson, will evolve these WPA Federal Arts relief recipients into regular Federal employees with permanent positions and with minimum wages of $30 per week. When Congress will give consideration to such a preposterous bill, with the millions of unemployed in this country who are not obtaining even the bare necessities of life, and with more millions exhausting their rapidly diminishing savings to keep off welfare, it is not difficult to visualize our economic confusion becoming chaotic.

During the past ten years the writer has several times urged that a traffic signal be installed at the intersection of Watertown and Chapel sts., Nonantum where pedestrians have had to face heavy vehicular traffic in crossing Watertown st. Residents of Nonantum will certainly approve the action of the Mayor and Aldermen in providing this long needed signal. The traffic signal opposite Newton Hospital on Washington st. has also been needed to protect pedestrians who cross that street after having alighted from busses. The speed which many automobile drivers operate by the hospital certainly endangers the lives of the public. The signals to be installed at Newton Highlands square and near City Hall to protect pedestrians, are also needed.

The change at Newtonville sq. where by the present beacon at the intersection of Washington and Walnut sts. will be removed and replaced by signals at the four corners is being made because it is allegedly in accordance with the latest principals of traffic engineering. This change was suggested several months ago at a meeting of the Newton Safety Council in a report made by the engineering committee of that council. In making that report it was stated that the beacon impeded the free flow of traffic and that it had been struck a number of times by motor vehicles. In that same report the committee urged that the three concrete beacons which are located near the Newton Trust Company building at Newton Corner, on Washington, Centre and Hall sts., be removed for the same alleged reason, but residents and business men of Newton Corner who were present at the meeting immediately objected to the suggestion, which was made by persons residing in another section of the city, because the objects knew for years of observation that these concrete beacons had daily prevented many accidents.

It was stated at that meeting that the beacon at Newtonville had been hit a number of times by automobiles. That was true, but a majority of the drivers of the vehicles which hit the beacon were under the influence of liquor. There are places where traffic signals in the centre of intersections may be traffic hazards. There are many other intersections where beacons prevent accidents by keeping incompetent or inconsiderate drivers from operating in the area which belongs to traffic coming from the opposite direction. Only recently Waltham has placed expensive obstructions at a number of street intersections to guide traffic, and they are preventing collisions which formerly occurred at the intersections. It will be interesting to observe whether or not there will be fewer collisions at Newtonville sq. in the future than there have been in the past.

It was our privilege last Monday evening to be a guest at the supper of the Highland Glee Club when its president, George H. Wight, was presented with tokens of appreciation by his fellow members. In these troubled years when civilization is topsyturvy, when the world is beset with wars and indication of greater wars, when this formerly prosperous country has been in a depression for nine years, when millions have been reduced to poverty, and other millions are worrying, such an organization as the Highland Glee Club is a valuable asset in any community. All men can't sing, but all who can do it. And those who do, even in the face of adversity, surely are diffusing rays of human sunshine through the long prevailing clouds which have been hovering over distressed humanity.

In "Newton in the Past" of this week's GRAPHIC is a report from the Superintendent of Schools of 62 years ago. It tells of hundreds of cases

Thought for Memorial Day

Those of us who recall Memorial Day observances in which members of the Grand Army of the Republic outnumbered all other uniformed marchers in the procession to the cemetery, pause longer in reflection as year after year rolls by. We see more than the few Civil War veterans who remain to uphold the noble sentiments of the day. Tender recollections of many splendid characters, no longer with us, deepen our regard for their patriotism and valor. We wonder if the country today is what they hoped it would be in 1938. We ask ourselves if we have been true to the ideals they left and expected us to cherish. Have we kept faith with them? Are we carrying on?

Straw Hat Season

Somehow a good deal of ceremony attends the donning of a new straw hat each Summer by the ordinary citizen. The shift from felt is not possible, it appears, without concomitant discussion. The subject of our sketch announces, two or three times at least, "I must get a straw hat." Finally he does so and then insists upon knowing the effect. Frequently he demands of family and friends, "How do you think this new hat looks on me? Is it all right?" Offhand you wouldn't expect quite so much fuss over something that occurs regularly every twelvemonth. I suppose we must make allowances and admit that such is the way man is created. The only ones who don't go through this are those who run around bareheaded or market clerks who wear straw hats in the store throughout the year.

Bicyclists' Safety Program

It is the proud privilege of this column, which for a long period and on many occasions has sought to encourage careful riding by bicyclists, to call attention to the success of the voluntary registration program conducted by the State and to which there has been a most encouraging response. Attempts to pass legislation requiring the registration of bicycles have failed and no doubt the General Court knew what it was doing. Now, however, Chief Traffic Engineer Edgar F. Copell has succeeded in securing the co-operation of Massachusetts school and police authorities in urging bicycle riders, particularly boys and girls, to subscribe of their own accord to rules

Open or Shut

When you hear it said, "I'm glad we're not likely to have any more cold weather" you may be sure the speaker has a reason. I myself am in favor of a fast-speeding winter and will gladly tell why. As there is more than one occupant of the office in which my daily tasks are performed there are different minds as to ventilation. One is firm for an abundance of heat and won't permit any drafts. Another is keen for fresh air in generous quantities at all times. The rest of us are helpless. One hour we are roasting, gasping for breath. Another, and a frigid blast has us frozen from head to foot. The first man wants the window closed permanently, the other always opened. They are too polite to quarrel. Without mentioning his feelings the cold-air man will wait until his opponent's back is turned and then he lets us have a sample of the North Pole. When he is called to the phone and otherwise occupied we are switched back to the tropics. Thus all goes all day with the innocent bystanders in the middle. It shows we survivors have rugged constitutions but nevertheless we'd rather have a hot summer than to constantly testify by physical well-being that we can "take it."

Metamorphosis

Going away "for a change" can sometimes produce unexpected results. In this instance I was thinking of the man who at home demands his meals promptly and at regular hours. Let him go to the country or seashore and put up at a hotel and he won't open his mouth. In his own dining room he may rave because breakfast or dinner is late. When he is a paying guest he meekly submits to the landlord's schedule, never thinking of finding any fault. It must make a philosophical wife laugh when she sees her fussy husband permit himself to be subdued and not only that but willing to pay somebody for doing it.

Newton Pianist To Give Program In Reading

Mr. and Mrs. Albion Metcalf of Longview rd., Reading, have sent out invitations to a musicale at their home on Wednesday evening, June 1st, at which Dorothy Kovitz, a talented young musician of West Newton will give the entire program. Although barely sixteen years old, Miss Kovitz is well known as a brilliant pianist and accompanist. She is an Honor Student at the Newton High School, a post graduate of the All Newton Music School, and under the Luke-Seaver-Macomber and Newton Zonta Club Scholarships is doing post-graduate work with Mr. Metcalf, the well-known Boston teacher.

Miss Kovitz is to be one of the soloists at the Annual Spring Concert of the All Newton Music School and later in June will also appear on a program in Steinert Hall, Boston, in which Mr. Metcalf will present his advanced pupils.

NEWTON CENTRE NEIGHBORHOOD CLUB

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre Neighborhood Club was held in Wellesley on Monday, May 9th. Following supper the business meeting was held and reports of the year's work read. Officers elected were: President, Miss Marion Wheeler; vice-president, Miss Esther Winslow; secretary, Miss Jean Howard; treasurer, Mrs. Henry T. Patch.

Plans are already made to have another book sale in the fall for the benefit of the Scholarship Fund which is given yearly to a Newton girl.

Battle Royal At Newton Corner

Patrolman Walker stopped a battle royal at Newton Corner last Friday night and arrested four youths who were swapping punches in the fracas. The scrap started when two Nonantum youths passed two Watertown youths near the Paramount Theater on Washington st. In the Newton court on Saturday Judge Mayberry placed three of the combatants on probation. They are: Martin Ahern, Cross st., Watertown; Anthony Zaccagnini, Pleasant st., Watertown; Paul Colantonio, Adams st., Nonantum. The other Nonantum youth will be arraigned in the juvenile session of the court today.

Perennial Show At Little Tree Farms

Now that perennials are in full bloom, hundreds of flower enthusiasts are making a pilgrimage to the Little Tree Farms' Perennial Show at Framingham Centre. In addition to the many varieties of these popular plants displayed, visitors to the Farms find much of interest in the colorful array of potted roses and other flowering plants in the greenhouse section and the special offerings in Azaleas, Rhododendrons and large and small evergreens. In accordance with the spirit of the occasion, special values in all departments are offered. For the benefit of those planning rose gardens or needing advice on any planting problem, a representative of the Landscape Department is available to answer questions.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Once Again Play Day At Amherst

Newton clubwomen and others who enjoy annually the pilgrimage to Amherst for the Mothercraft Play Day have the opportunity for another such pleasurable outing and automobile trip, for Tuesday, June 7th, when a most attractive program is assured them.

Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, president of the Mothercraft Club of Massachusetts, is inviting members of the organization and others interested in Mothercraft to attend this Annual Play Day at the Dickinson-Baggs Tavern in Amherst, her summer home. The afternoon will open with a luncheon at noon at the Second Congregational Church, across the green from the tavern. Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, vice-chairman of the Mothercraft department of the General Federation; and Mrs. Clark L. Thayer, president of the Amherst Woman's Club, will give greetings. Marjorie Mills, of The Boston Herald, will be a guest of honor.

Speakers will include Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, of the State Federation, and President Hugh P. Baker, of the Massachusetts State College. Mrs. Hildreth will award the prizes in the Essay Contest for school girls, sponsored by the Club. Mrs. Cady R. Elder, of Amherst, is chairman of the Contest committee. The prizes will be $5, $3, $2, and honorary mention for special excellence. Mrs. G. Adelbert Emard, of Mansfield, will present an antique sun-dial to the Mothers' Memory Garden. Madame Anna Von Shala will sing.

Miss Rachel Butterworth will give an address on "Flowers Through Life," and Mrs. Barbara Brabrook, of Boston, will direct a "Mecca of Mystery." There will be an afternoon bridge party, with door and table prizes. Mrs. John A. Jennings and Mrs. Frank P. Bennett are in charge of bridge tickets. Hostesses will include Mrs. George C. Francis, of Chelsea, State chairman of Mothercraft, and members of the Mothercraft Club, and the Amherst Woman's Club. Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, of 4 Grove St., West Medford, is in charge of luncheon reservations, which should be made before Friday, June 3rd.

Officials Elected At Kansas City

Although taking place on May 16th, the next to the last day of the week's sessions of the Triennial of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in Kansas City, Missouri, news of the result of the election of new officers may rightly take first position in the report of the Convention.

Keenest interest was in the contest for the first vice-presidency. By almost unwritten law the one who has held the first vice-presidency during the past three years steps up into the presidency, so that contest for first place is rare. But this rule does not hold true of the other offices, and women who have proven their abilities and their prowess as leaders may seek—quite rightly—the first vice-presidency, and their adherents and warm admirers come forth valiantly to place them in line for highest honors.

Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, of Portland, Ore., first vice-president for the last three years, was unanimously elected president. She has announced that emphasis in her term will be laid upon human welfare, peace, and the fundamental principles of religion. Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, of Baltimore, won the most earnestly sought office, the first vice-presidency, which will lead to the presidency in 1941.

Mrs. Whitehurst is a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Maryland, and a member of the Maryland Board of Agriculture. During the last three years, she has been chairman of the department of Education of the General Federation. The theme of Mrs. Roberta Campbell Lawson's three-year term as president has been "education for living," and Mrs. Whitehurst's department has occupied a dominant place in the Federation's program. As chairman, Mrs. Whitehurst has traveled widely and has made more than 100 addresses on this subject, visiting almost every state. She has emphasized conservation of youth through proper training, and such education of American citizens as will offset Radical propaganda. Her campaign for the first vice-presidency has been vigorous, supported by a trainload of delegates arriving on a Maryland special—a most interesting campaign feature, in this enthusiastic group of nearly a hundred ardent admirers. She defeated Mrs. Walter W. Seymour, of Chicago, who has been second vice-president, by a vote of 514 to 388.

Another campaigning group, this time from Massachusetts, gave zest to the contest to elect Mrs. Dickinson, all New England women joining in this partisanship.

The second vice-presidency was won by Mrs. LaFell Dickinson, of Keene, N. H., over two other candidates, Mrs. George W. Adams, of Andalusia, Alabama and Mrs. Harold G. Bogart, of Akron, Colorado, in the only other contest for office. Mrs. Horace Bonar Ritchie, of Athens, Ga., was elected recording secretary, over Mrs. Jefferson D. Atwood, of Roswell, New Mexico. Unopposed candidates were: Mrs. J. L. B. Buck, Richmond, Va., treasurer; and Mrs. F. F. Bossuot, Havre, Mont.; Mrs. E. H. Heller, Louisville, Ky., and Mrs. Earl B. Padgett, Gallion, Ohio, trustees.

Strict rules were enforced during the hours of voting which added excitement to the mystery of the contests, and which made for complete justice and freedom from personal influence. Conversation in the voting room was prohibited to prevent electioneering. And members of the Credential committee, who were in charge of the registration of delegates, were prohibited from discussing the qualifications of any candidate with anyone at any time during the Convention, on pain of being automatically removed as a member of the committee, a disgrace, indeed!

Delegates were identified by being required to wear a pink ribbon marked "voting delegate" which they received when they presented their credentials at the opening of the Convention, and paid $5 at the time of registration.

When the delegate voted she applied to the chairman of her State Election committee in the Registration Room for a card marked "voting delegate." Then she was passed into the enclosure for voting, where the rule for strict silence also was enforced.

Six voting machines similar to those used in New York elections were brought to Kansas City to eliminate any ballot box evils. The automatic voting record likewise saved time in counting the ballots, and in knowing the result of the vote.

Candidates Tea

In contrast to the severity of business procedure of the voting day, was the altogether delightful social function in the Tea tendered to all Candidates previous to election day. The notable guests of the clubwomen at the Hotel Muehleback stepped off the elevator into a bower of roses. Mrs. Dunbar, of Portland, Oregon, the unopposed candidate for the presidency, distributed pink and red roses to all guests, the piquancy of this favor being heightened by the fact that they had been shipped by airplane from Portland, her home city, for the event—tribute to what is made possible by today's inventions, which sometimes we forget or take too much for granted!

Doing the honors for Mrs. Dunbar in this presentation, Mrs. Henry E. Harris, State Art chairman of Oregon, and several very lovely Oregon Juniors, gave each guest their rose.

The ten candidates were in the receiving line. Gowned in floor-length formal frocks of lace, chiffon, organdy, crepe, and taffeta, most of them wearing picture hats, each candidate was introduced by the president of her home-state Federation. Mrs. Dunbar was presented by Mrs. A. C. McIntyre, Oregon State Federation president, of Pendleton.

The guests were served punch and cookies. Tables were decorated with roses, larkspur, snapdragons, and pink gladioli in tall silver vases.

The New President

A word about the new president, Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, her background, her interests, her career, may acquaint clubwomen with the character and personality of the woman who is to head the largest organization of women in the world, during the next three years.

The woman they have elected, and who has served as first vice-president during the past three years, was swept into the office of president without opposition. She is a native Missourian, having been born in a log cabin in Scotland County, in the northeast corner of the state.

Mrs. Dunbar is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Perry Orr, pioneer Missouri farmers. She lived in the log cabin on a farm near Graner, Mo., until she was 6 years old, then went with her parents to Chanute, Kans., where she lived until she was 10 years old. Her parents moved to Fresno, Calif., stayed there a year, then went to Oregon, where Mrs. Dunbar has lived since.

For 22 years Mrs. Dunbar has been executive secretary of the Oregon Tuberculosis Association, and under her direction it has become one of the outstanding public health groups in America. For several years she has been instructor in community organizations in the University of Oregon Medical School's department of nursing education.

In recognition of Mrs. Dunbar's humanitarian work in social service, Linfield College, of McMinnville, Oregon, conferred upon her the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters in 1937, the first woman to be granted an honorary degree in the 80-year history of the college.

She is a member of the National Tuberculosis Association, the American Association of Social Workers, the Oregon State Graduate Nurses' Association, and of the Presbyterian church. She has a daughter, Mrs. William D. Winter, Jr., and a son, Allen Dunbar, both of Portland.

Club service for Mrs. Dunbar began in 1908 when she was appointed chairman of Public Health for the Oregon Federation which presented her as a candidate for the highest office in the General Federation. She served, subsequently, as chairman of Education and of Public Welfare, as trustee on the Scholarship Loan Fund Board, as corresponding secretary, and as president.

In the General Federation she became chairman of the Public Welfare department and dean of department chairman in 1928, which won for her a place on the Executive Board. She was elected recording secretary in 1932, and in 1935 was chosen first vice-president.

Mrs. Dunbar went direct from Kansas City to Washington, at the close of the convention, and will spend the three years of her term in Federation Headquarters there. When she came to Kansas City from Portland last week, Mrs. Dunbar brought her packed trunks along, knowing her election was a certainty and that she would move on to Washington.

For diversion in her term of office, Mrs. Dunbar said she would do little point needlework.

Mrs. Dunbar, in making her first address as the incoming president, on May 17th, declared from the Convention platform, that the theme of her administration would be "Adjusting Democracy for Human Welfare". As she has been active in the State of Oregon on all public welfare matters she should be qualified to lead a campaign for such betterment. "How can we promote public welfare, or human welfare?" was a question of her address which she answered in this wise: "Certainly we cannot live

ANNUALS

IN PREPARING the soil for the flats in which you start your seeds, screen it carefully, using a coarse screen at the bottom and the very fine at the top. Cover the seed with soil screened through the regular window screen.

WATER THE SEEDS in your flats through a piece of coarse burlap. This will prevent washing the soil from above them, and will give the needed moisture.

ANNUALS such as California Poppies, Nasturtiums, etc., that do not transplant easily should be sown where they are to bloom. Just as soon as they are large enough to handle, they should be thinned out to prevent overcrowding.

HAVE SOME of the old fashioned shrubs and flowers. To most there is a certain attractive atmosphere that attends lilacs and mignonette and the old standards.

AS A CLASS, annuals prefer more sun and a lighter soil than do perennials. They are also generally far more fragrant.

WILT RESISTANT asters are now in the catalogs. Even where there is no wilt disease, they are preferable because of their strength and vigor.

THE BRILLIANCY of Poppies is not surpassed by any other annual and they will add to the color of your garden. They fit in nicely between the June perennials and the later annuals.

MARIGOLDS are always desirable and they are persistent in bloom right up to frost. The new Golden Eagle is particularly attractive. It has been adopted as the official flower of the Girl Scouts of America.

ZINNIAS are warm weather plants and must be sown in warm soil. Best results are obtained by sowing the seeds in the ground where the plants are to flower.

Lodges

Monday evening, May 23, Sumner P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge held a present officers' night. District Deputy President Annie Balsom and her Deputy Marshal were invited guests with the Noble Grands and Vice Grands from the numerous Rebekah lodges in the vicinity.

A fine supper was served at 6:30 p. m., and an entertainment was furnished by a group of children consisting of singing, tap dancing, monologue recitations, and contortionist; and several beautiful tableaux depicting mother's love.

Graduation At Misses Allen School This Morning

The Misses Allen School held its graduation this morning with a number of parents, alumnae and friends present.

The principal, Miss Lucy Ellis Allen, gave a brief review of the school year and its high ideals, referring also to the high rank of the alumnae in college and other activities.

Rev. Cornelius Trowbridge gave the graduation address, the Glee Club sang several selections, and Mrs. Dorothy Baesler and Miss Liedoff sang and gave piano selections most appreciatively.

Diplomas were presented by Miss Allen to seven graduates who are entering colleges and higher institutions in the fall.

Entertain For Benefit of Upper Falls Church Fund

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Van Gorder of 70 Burdett rd., Oak Hill entertained seventy-five guests at a reception at their home on Thursday evening, May 19 for the benefit of the First M. E. Church building fund. Miss Doris H. Brown, treasurer of the First M. E. Church, Newton Upper Falls, was chairman of the program.

The guests were greeted by Dr. and Mrs. Van Gorder, assisted by a group of young ladies, who wore beautiful Chinese gowns.

Dr. and Mrs. Van Gorder have brought back to America treasures of Chinese art which are displayed throughout their residence.

Miss Brown welcomed the guests and thanked Dr. and Mrs. Van Gorder for their generous co-operation with the building fund committee in making their first social event a success.

Miss Grace Allardice, a member of the choir of the First M. E. Church, accompanied by Miss Margaret Hartshorn, church organist rendered two soprano solos. Mrs. Van Gorder gave a very interesting talk about Chinese Art, during which various treasures and their histories were shared by the audience.

Miss Grace Allardice, accompanied by three members of the church orchestra playing the violin, cello and piano, rendered two solos. Refreshments were served.

LUCY JACKSON CHAPTER, D. A. R.

Lucy Jackson Chapter, D. A. R., will hold a dessert Garden Bridge at the Chapter House, Newton Lower Falls, on Friday, June 10, at 1:30 p. m. The committee is Mrs. Edmund Gamble, Cambridge; Mrs. John Pfeiffer, Auburndale; Mrs. Leigh Nesbitt, Wellesley; Mrs. Albert Ferre, Wellesley; Mrs. Donald Pope, West Newton; Miss Oliver Webster, West Newton, chairman.

Campaign For Funds For New Nurses' Home To Start Soon

Plans for proposed new Newton Hospital School of Nursing are turned over to Henry J. Nichols (left) chairman of $350,000 campaign and vice president of the National Shawmut Bank, by Robert A. Whidden, chairman of the building committee, who is president of The Whidden Co.

Newton Hospital, faced with the lack of adequate teaching and housing facilities for its student nurses, will hold a 10-day campaign, extending from June 6 to 15, for the purpose of raising $350,000 in the Newton-Wellesley district which it serves to erect a new dormitory and school of nursing.

Committees and teams of workers are rapidly being organized for the intensive drive which will be launched at the opening campaign dinner, Monday evening, June 6. Frank L. Richardson, President of the Newton Hospital, the officers and trustees are confident of complete success for the campaign as the result of the enthusiastic response and cooperative spirit being manifested by the citizens of the Newtons and Wellesley.

The presentation of the hospital's problems, principally the vital and immediate need of satisfactory facilities for training of nurses, by a group of well-informed speakers, including Everett Saltonstall, Mayor Edwin O. Childs, Bishop Francis J. Spellman, Leon B. Rogers, Edward J. Frost, William Holway Hill, Robert A. Whidden and Bertha W. Allen, superintendent of the hospital, at an invitation dinner, May 5, at the Newton High School, was the turning point in the crystallization of community sentiment and action. On this occasion, 800 representative citizens of the Newtons and Wellesley unanimously favored remedying the serious threat to the hospital's standing by launching a campaign to obtain necessary funds.

Henry J. Nichols, a vice president of the National Shawmut Bank, and member of the hospital board of trustees, has accepted the general chairmanship of the campaign. When the organization is complete, he will have a total of 132 teams, including 20 for Wellesley, six men and women to a team. Workers will total approximately 800. Mrs. Vernon B. Swett, also a hospital trustee, will serve as general chairman for the women's organization in the Newtons.

The Newton executive committee includes the following: Edward J. Frost, Roy H. Booth, Jr., William F. Chase, Ripley L. Dana, Maynard Hutchinson, J. Leonard Johnson, William E. Jones, Judge Donald E. Mayberry, Donald D. McKay, John A. Paine, J. Earle Parker, Frank L. Richardson, John J. Robinson, Leon B. Rogers, Wickliffe J. Spaulding, Francis A. Tanner, Rupert C. Thompson, Clifford H. Walker and Robert A. Whidden.

Frank L. Richardson, president of the hospital, will serve as chairman of the special gifts committee for the Newtons. Executive vice president of the Newton Trust Co., he provides the hospital with inspiring leadership. It is anticipated that a large portion of the $350,000 sought in the campaign will be raised through memorial gifts. In the erection of the new dormitory for Newton nurses, gifts of special designation will be permanently identified with the names of the donors, as well as with those of friends and relatives in honor of whom the gift is being made. A suitable tablet, bearing an appropriate inscription with the name of the giver, as well as the person memorialized, will be set up in each part of the new building made possible by this type of subscription.

That there is ample evidence that the friends of Newton Hospital recognize such an opportunity to perpetuate the memory of loved ones is indicated by the fact that 14 of the 24 buildings comprising the present hospital group were gifts donated by individuals.

A committee for each of the Newton villages will serve under Mr. Richardson in connection with solicitation of special gifts.

W. M. Cahill, treasurer of the Newton Trust Co., is serving as campaign treasurer, with Louis Harvey, president of the Wellesley National Bank, acting in the capacity of treasurer for the Wellesley contingent.

For Auburndale, Winslow Howland and Wickliffe J. Spaulding are together heading up the special gifts committee.

In Newton Centre, Clark Woodard is serving as general chairman and Fred Morgan as chairman for special gifts.

Donald D. McKay is special gifts chairman for Newton Highlands, and Francis A. Tanner is general chairman for Newton Lower Falls. General Chairman for Waban is J.

Earle Parker, with Philip Verplank as special gifts chairman. Loomis Patrick is general chairman and John A. Paine special gifts chairman for West Newton.

Wellesley is responding enthusiastically under the command of William Holway Hill, a vice president of the State Street Trust Co., and hospital trustee, who has been elected chairman of the Wellesley organization.

While citizens of the Newtons and Wellesley may well take pride in the Newton Hospital and the service it renders these communities, it is obvious that ever since the new building for the hospital was erected ten years ago, the needs for suitable living and teaching quarters for nurses has been growing. It must be admitted that today the facilities are such that they no longer compare favorably with those of the better schools in the State.

For a dozen years the solution of this problem has been given much thought by the hospital trustees. In fact, plans for a teaching unit and nurses' dormitory were presented when the new hospital was built, but they had to be abandoned because of the lack of funds. Today the need is so pressing that it could no longer be put off.

The new school is necessary in order to decrease hospital costs. The new school will present a greater opportunity for Newton and Wellesley girls to take up nursing, and this is most desirable, as every community prefers nurses trained under local doctors who know local conditions. Expansion of the hospital's capacity to meet community needs has naturally increased the number of graduate and special nurses required for adequate service.

The proposed nurses' dormitory, according to plans announced by Robert A. Whidden, chairman of the building committee, will be a modern three-story building which will provide single rooms for 122 student nurses and supervisors. It will contain a large living room and library. Upon completion of this building, it will be possible to transform one of the existing buildings into adequate classrooms and laboratories. The estimated cost of the entire building project is $350,000.

Give Shower For Miss Nell Walker

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Nell Walker of 12 Avon pl., Newton last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Ellen Anderson, 15 Webster pl., West Newton. Sixty friends of Miss Walker attended and she received many beautiful gifts. After refreshments were served an entertainment was given. It included piano selections by Miss Florence Bent and Miss Babe Shea, an eccentric tap dance by Ellen Anderson, a novelty dance by Elsie Walker, a recitation by Florence Ford of Providence, impersonations by Helen O'Leary and a soprano solo, "O Promise Me" by Miss Anne Clarke. Miss Walker will be married soon to Mr. Lee J. Hodgdon of Gardiner, Maine.

employed for the eminently successful productions in Regent's Park Open Air Theatre, London. Theseus, Duke of Athens, will be played by Richard Van Gundy. Egeus, Father of Hermia, is played by Henry Kendall, and Hugh Van Roosen and Donald Fulton play Lysander and Demetrius, in love with Hermia. James Dealy has the role of Philostrate, Master of the Revels to Theseus. The Workman Quince, Bottom, Flute, Snout, Snug and Starveling are played by John Noble, Julian Allen, Felix Rogers, John Higgins, Robert McGrath, and Thomas O'Toole. Marjorie Wood is Hippolyta, Queen of the Amazons, betrothed to Theseus; Doris Mergendahl is Hermia, Daughter to Egeus; Constance Elrod is in the role of Helena, Oberon, King of the Fairies, is played by William Stark, and Titania, his Queen, is Juliette Harvey. Nancy Blake has the difficult role of Puck or Robin Goodfellow, and Virginia Wilson, dancer, is First Fairy. Pease-Blossom, Moth, Cobweb, and Mustard Seed are roles taken by Betty Fales, Joan Cox, Sydney Ganteaume, and Janet Allenbrook. Attendants to Theseus are Paul Bunting, Sumner Hoffman, Michael Golden, and Joseph Schlesinger. Attendants to Hippolyta are Donata Gellencel, Jane Kruger, and Mary Anne Sullivan and the Greek Ladies are Virginia Brown and Annetta Couchman. The Elves are Elaine Coyne, Jane Friedman, Anna Kern, Mary O'Donnell, Venus Shamlan and Aldith Sutton. The entire production is under the direction of Raymond A. Green, Assistant Principal, and is coached by Miss Louise Vetherbee, teacher of English and adviser of the Drama Club, which sponsors the pageant. Music is under Messrs. Haydn M. Morgan and James H. Remley. Miss Jessie A. Southard directs the verse-speaking, and Miss Claramond Harper has coached the dance groups. Art work has been by pupils of Miss Margarita W. Ellis and Miss Jeannie B. Kenrick has directed the making of costumes. Mr. Charles W. Poter is master of staging and lighting effects. All committee chairman have been aided in their work by fellow teachers and pupils. Mr. Arthur C. Johnson is chairman of tickets.

In case of rain, the fire signal will announce postponement to Saturday evening, June 4. If the weather makes a second postponement necessary the Pageant will be staged Monday evening, June 6.

the district attorney and Norman Donnelly also was good as the attorney for the defence. Richard Burkholder as the defendant, held a properly worried expression on his countenance during the trial. He was found guilty of riding a bicycle so carelessly that he caused an automobile to hit a tree. Another defendant, Edward Maynes, was found guilty of using an air rifle in a reckless manner. Witnesses at the trial included Rockwood Smythe, Jane Mansfield, Paul Black and Robert Sander. The jury was composed of James Allen, Paul Campbell, Robert Fayerweather, Patricia Turchon, Sally West and Lorene Pyatt. The stage properties were constructed by Francis Drew and Robert O'Toole.

School Department To Use Cost System To Effect Economy

At the meeting of the Newton School Committee on Monday night Supt. of Schools Warren stated that he has introduced a cost accounting system in the school department which is intended to effect economies in the schools. In conjunction with the new system, he had lists prepared, one of which shows detailed figures relative to items under incidental expenses incurred in the operation of the schools; and the other a statement of costs of operating the senior and junior high schools, and segregated by departments. Copies of the latter list are to be given department heads so that they can observe what is a fair expenditure in the teaching of a given subject. Supt. Warren told the school committee that the system is planned to assist in determining the expenditure of funds over a period of years and will provide a scientific device for the making of budgets. He said that the cost of operating the smaller schools is proportionately larger than that of the larger schools. He gave copies of the two lists to members of the committee. He also gave advance copies of the annual report of the School Department to the committee. It is expected that the printed copies will be ready for distribution in June.

The school committee approved boundaries for the four junior high school districts in the city, and it was stated that hereafter these boundaries will be strictly adhered to and pupils must attend the junior high school in the district where they reside. The committee approved the following expenditures for the month of April—salaries, $105,893.69; fuel, power, water, $3269.45; other expenses, $10,654.47; out of State travel, $119.70; total, $120,027.31. Trade School—salaries, $5044.60; fuel, power, water, $964.18; other expenses, $1704.73; garage rent, $150; total, $7863.51.

An application for the use of the Emerson School kindergarten on a Saturday in June, made by Mrs. Harold T. Sprague for a recital by her pupils, was refused as the committee believed it would not come within the definition of charity or education. The committee approved the transfers of Allan Acorn from the Weeks junior high school to be assistant principal at Mason School; and Mary Gianfrante of West Newton from the sixth grade at the Ward School to the F. A. Day junior high school where she will teach English.

A Lecture on Christian Science

Christian Science: Christ Made Manifest in the Modern World

FRANCIS LYSER JANDRON, C.S.B.

of Detroit, Michigan

Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church,
The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts

The large audience which filled the auditorium and Sunday School rooms of the edifice of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Walnut and Otis sts., Newtonville, Tuesday evening, heard the Lecturer introduced by Mrs. Gertrude Brayton, Second Reader, as follows:

Friends:

Tonight we are to listen to a lecture on Christian Science, to which you are most cordially welcome.

In the Bible, II Corinthians, Paul writes, "Behold now is the accepted time, behold now is the day of salvation."

In elucidation of these words, we read in the Christian Science Textbook, Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of the Christian Science movement, these words, "Now," cried the apostle, "is the accepted time, behold, now is the day of salvation."—meaning, not that now men must prepare for a future-world salvation, or safety, but that now is the time in which to experience that salvation in spirit and in life.

The subject of our lecture tonight is "Christian Science: Christ Made Manifest in the Modern World."

Our lecturer is a member of The Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

It gives me pleasure to present to you Mr. Francis Lyster Jandron, of Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Jandron.

I. Christ Ever New

Christ is not old-fashioned. Christ is as new as this morning's sunrise. Christianity is not old-fashioned. It is as fresh as the dew on the grass. Christ and Christianity are as old as goodness, yet like goodness they never grow old. They have their place in the modern world, and there never will be anything which can take their place. The modern world knows no substitute for goodness, any more than it knows any substitute for life. With Christ there can be no goodness, just as without a standard of coinage there can be no dependable money. Christ is the pattern of goodness, the manifestation of God. Christianity is its application. As a matter of fact, Christ is all that holds the world together. Without Christ and Christianity the world would completely lapse into chaos. To become more progressive, more prosperous, and more peaceful, the world needs more of Christ and of Christianity, not less. We shall never outgrow our need of Christ.

Christian Science brings Christ into the modern world. Christian Science reveals Christ, not as a far-away personality nor as a philosophical abstraction, but as God made manifest to humanity in spiritual abundance. Christ is not hidden in theological mysteries; he lives in practical proofs of divine goodness in human affairs. Through Christian Science you and I can live Christianity successfully. Christian Science teaches that Christianity neither began nor ended with Jesus, its glorified exponent. Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, has made this plain in a few simple words in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." There she says (p. 271), "Christ's Christianity is the chain of scientific being reappearing in all ages, maintaining its obvious correspondence with the Scriptures and uniting all periods in the design of God."

Christian Scientists adore Jesus the Christ. They reverently acknowledge him to be the Son of God. In him they recognize the Way-shower for all mankind, the Exemplar of man's spiritual perfection. From him they learn that Christliness was not his unique personal possession, for it is the reflection of the divine Spirit. God. It is ours to share in the measure that we share Jesus' willingness to surrender materiality. In other words, Christian Science teaches that as you become animated by the divine Spirit which animated Jesus, your own real nature comes into view. In reality you too are the son of God, no matter what you may have thought about yourself and no matter what you may be thinking now. No matter how far your human experience may seem to have led you away from the Christ-ideal, you can through Christian Science bring Christ into your own sin-filled, sickness-filled, poverty-filled, or hate-filled world. God is always able to manifest Himself to you. You might be a castaway on a desert island; you might be crushed by some unforeseen disaster; you might even seem to be swept away from the path of rectitude by some hypnotic influence; in the very wilderness in which you find yourself, God is still able to manifest Himself to you. This manifestation of God to the human consciousness is the coming of the Christ.

Christ will always appear to you in a form which you can understand and use. That is because God is omnipotent as well as omnipresent good. There can be no barrier to prevent Him from making Himself manifest to you. God reveals Himself through a spiritual, scientific understanding of His divine nature, which Christian Science unfolds. Lift your thought from dumb acquiescence in evil to joyful expectation of good; from reliance on self to unselfed trust in God's allness, and you will meet Christ. Your problem will then begin to solve itself. Cause is never separate from its effect, nor God from His manifestation. Mrs. Eddy has said of Jesus (Science and Health, p. 332) that he appeared to mortals "in such a form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive." So it is today. Appearing centuries ago in the form of the human Jesus to the humble shepherds, the receptive Wisemen, and the lowly disciples, the same Christ comes today through Christian Science to all prepared to receive it. Jesus' life was dedicated to proving that every human problem can be solved when it is brought into the light of omnipotent and omnipresent Truth, God. When viewed in that light, all that is evil and discordant is seen to be an unreal shadow, an illusion.

Christian Science defines God as divine Principle, and man as His immortal reflection. Whenever you acknowledge that God is divine Principle and that you are His immortal reflection—and this is a purely mental act of which everyone is capable—then Christ has begun to reign in your consciousness. In the degree that you lay hold of this truth about God and man evil will disappear from your experience. Sickness, sin, sorrow, want, stagnation have no place in God's creation. Wiseman or shepherd, child or adult, hesitator or advanced student, you have but to cling to this A B C of Christian Science to prove for yourself that to you too, at the very crossroads of human experience where you are standing today, God makes Himself manifest in such a form as you can "understand as well as perceive." Through Christian Science your human problem can be solved. Christ comes into your own world.

Christian Science is not a human invention. It is exactly what its name indicates, provable scientific knowledge of Christ. It is raising mortals, resurrecting them, if you will, out of their deformed, despairing, dying estimate of themselves. It is giving them glimpses of man's real relationship to God. You have only to get a glimpse of what Christian Science teaches about God, His omnipresence, His omnipotence, and His infinite goodness, to feel very much happier about man than you have ever felt before. With that first glimpse, which is all you need for a beginning, you are actually being born again. You are being born out of and away from your beliefs in a man-conceived, self-made, death-destined existence. You are being born into spiritual understanding of your true being, through this awakening to the scientific definition of God's nature. Without a scientific definition of God, you will never know God. You will have a man-made God, and you will fail to recognize the God-made man. Jesus declared of his divine Christhood, "Before Abraham was, I am." Heredity cannot blight man's real being, which is as old as God Himself, because it coexists with God. All that Jesus had derived from God, the source of all good. His ability to love, to pray, to heal, and to save came from God. That is equally true of you also, to the extent that you understand why it is true, and use it. Jesus proved that God makes Himself manifest in such a form as mortals can understand and receive. Christian Science shows that Jesus' teachings, far from being obsolete or not adapted to modern needs, actually afford the solution of every human need. Far from being a personal possession of a long-ago Jesus and unattainable today, the ever-new Christ is ours through Christian Science to use and to apply triumphantly.

II. Mrs. Eddy and Her Church

On the wall of the Congregational Church at Tilton, New Hampshire, a tablet records that Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, was for thirty-seven years a member of that church. Mrs. Eddy on more than one occasion in her later years expressed gratitude for her early church upbringing, as well as for the good accomplished by Christian churches everywhere. Christian Scientists gratefully acknowledge that we owe to the Christian churches the preservation of the Bible and the patient efforts of centuries to spread the knowledge of the Scriptures, and to make them accessible to all. The Bible binds the Christian Science church with other Christian churches in a common purpose. The Bible has made Christ the living inspiration and companion of many in every generation since the early days of the Christian era. From its pages earnest lovers of good have gained courage to follow in the footsteps of their Lord and Master, strength to drink of his cup, and divine assurance that they too might ultimately share his resurrection.

Mrs. Eddy is the Founder of a great religious movement. In less than three quarters of a century Christian Science has encircled the globe. The Christian Science church has not supplanted the established evangelical churches. Its work began where the work of other denominations had come to a halt. Mrs. Eddy turned her back on the barren fields of scholastic theology. She reinstated practical, primitive Christianity. Through her church she has shared with mankind her immortal discovery of the Science of Christ. In Christian Science, doctrines and divisions give place to the unity of spiritual understanding, which tests and proves itself by its power to heal. When Mrs. Eddy discovered that God is the divine Principle of all real being, and that evil is demonstrably unreal, she brought Christ into the modern world. In Christian Science Mrs. Eddy has revealed to humanity the foundation on which Jesus' works of healing and salvation are based. Jesus' declaration, "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner," finds its fulfillment in Mrs. Eddy's teachings. Christian Science repeats the proofs of healing performed by the early Christians. It proclaims the Science which underlies Christian healing. It reveals Christ to mortals in a form which they can "understand as well as perceive." Christian Science proves that Christ appears to mankind not merely as a personal Saviour but as the ever-present fact of being, as powerful to help us today as when Jesus himself, with divine compassion, "healed them that had need of healing."

Mrs. Eddy's church was the natural outcome of her discovery of Christian Science, just as her discovery of Christian Science was the natural outcome of Christian Science. Christ Jesus proved that it could be overcome. He raised himself step by step above the persecutions of material sense through his spiritual understanding of man's God-given nature. He acknowledged no other cause, no other creator, no other fatherhood, than God. He refused to concede power to anything or to any condition which was not in harmony with an infinitely perfect cause.

Knowing God, Jesus knew man. Understanding God's nature, he understood that man's nature must reflect the divine nature. He understood that nothing which is unlike God can in reality attach itself to man, or express itself through man. He separated the real, the Godlike, from the false, the ungodlike. He did it for himself and he did it for others. Those whom he taught and healed received these glimpses of their true nature in varying measure. For example, the New Testament tells us of one occasion when Jesus healed ten lepers. The healing Christ appeared to these men in such a form as they could understand and perceive. All ten were healed physically and redeemed socially. One of them let a little more of his spiritual nature shine through the mists of mortality than did the others, for he returned to Jesus and expressed gratitude for his healing. By that simple act he gained a stronger hold on eternal life than he had before. It should be remembered that gratitude is always a powerful factor in lifting us above a sick, discordant picture of ourself. Even in the darkest hours, gratitude lightens the gloom. It opens the windows of consciousness to receive more of the Christ-light.

The inward voice which bids us distinguish right from wrong we often speak of as the voice of conscience. We all have the ability, and we should all have the desire, to place ourselves on the right side, on the God-like side, of every situation in which we find ourselves. In no other way can we expect to overcome evil with good, sickness with health, or want with abundance. Sometimes we may be tempted to question the promptings of conscience, or to disregard them. We need to remember that only by learning to distinguish right from wrong can we recognize Christ. Christian Science teaches us to develop this power of right judgment through a growing understanding of God as divine Principle. Wrong education, false habits of thought, and especially aggressive mental suggestion, may dull this voice of conscience, but they can never wholly silence it. Even hardened wrongdoers may catch its echoes and writhe in pangs of fear and remorse. Through Christian Science human thought patterns itself more and more after the divine model, and the inward, silent monitor gradually becomes a compelling force. To understand God strengthens every right inclination; it exposes and sifts out wrong inclinations and purposes. It renders us immune to evil, seen or unseen. In Christian Science we learn that to be on the side of evil is to be cut off from the protection of God. The first step away from evil is a very easy one to take, for it is simply to desire good in an unselfish way. Every step toward good is a step toward God. Every step toward God is a step toward overcoming evil, and toward freedom from the suffering which inevitably comes from indulging evil, fearing it, or ignoring it. Christian Science delivers us from our own ignorance and wickedness,

We often talk of the machine age in which we live. Sometimes we may wonder whether the machines which surround us are not making us mere cogs in a complicated structure which we are powerless to control. God's man never surrenders his individuality. It is comforting to remember that no machine can ever be powerful enough or intricate enough to stop a single Christlike thought. Neither man-made contrivances nor organized evil can ever prevent the healing Christ from becoming manifest to us in such a form as we can understand as well as perceive, even though we seem to be in the house of bondage.

come of her study of the Scriptures and of her close communion with God and His Christ. Only on the altars of our own Christliness can we mount to a higher understanding of God. Mrs. Eddy had seen high human hopes soar and fall. Through it all she loved God steadfastly, and finally, in 1866, through a spiritual healing which at the time seemed miraculous, she found herself on the threshold of the discovery, which has already in many directions revolutionized human thought, and broadened the base of human achievement. The revelation which came to her was the "still small voice" which makes itself heard when human will is silenced and earthly ties are loosened. It was revealed to Mrs. Eddy that God, infinite unchanging good, operates as a present fact, with all the might and logic of divine Principle, to destroy everything unlike itself. She recognized that God's divine Principle, and she saw that sin, sickness, and death itself cannot endure, cannot even exist, in the presence of spiritual understanding of God's nature. Evil is seen to be unreal, and it disappears. In the measure that God's allness is understood, with Mrs. Eddy's discovery Christ comes new-born into the modern world.

Mrs. Eddy devoted her life to Christian Science with complete unselfishness. She applied her discovery to the salvation of men and women from the woes of sin, sickness, and sense. There are still among us today some who were eyewitnesses of her marvelous healing work. Many others have left written testimony of healings which Mrs. Eddy performed. Today Mrs. Eddy's church, through its manifold activities, is carrying on its mission of healing and strengthening all who selflessly seek its shelter. The Mother Church in Boston and its branch churches and societies all over the world have enabled thousands to find healing from sin and sickness. The varied activities of the Christian Science church reach every aspect of human thought and action, to leave them better than it found them. Christian Science has never harmed anyone. The published periodicals of the Christian Science church carry to humanity day by day new proofs and renewed assurance of the presence of the healing Christ. The thousands who have been healed by why Christian Scientists are grateful to Mrs. Eddy.

III. Mind, Man, and Machine

Christian Science teaches that God is Mind. Since God is Mind, it follows that He is the only Mind. He is infinite intelligence. His creation reflects Him. That is to say, God's creation is wholly spiritual, never material. It is governed by God. It is a creation which consists of ideas pure, perfect, and eternal. This is not hard to understand when we stop to consider that the First Cause must necessarily be Spirit. Matter could not possibly originate itself, and Spirit's creations must resemble their author in substance and character. To learn how or where a false, material view of creation originated, is of less importance than to understand how it is to be overcome. And to overcome this false sense, with all its attendant mortality and discord, is the work of Christian Science. Christ Jesus proved that it could be overcome. He raised himself step by step above the persecutions of material sense through his spiritual understanding of man's God-given nature. He acknowledged no other cause, no other creator, no other fatherhood, than God. He refused to concede power to anything or to any condition which was not in harmony with an infinitely perfect cause.

Knowing God, Jesus knew man. Understanding God's nature, he understood that man's nature must reflect the divine nature. He understood that nothing which is unlike God can in reality attach itself to man, or express itself through man. He separated the real, the Godlike, from the false, the ungodlike. He did it for himself and he did it for others. Those whom he taught and healed received these glimpses of their true nature in varying measure. For example, the New Testament tells us of one occasion when Jesus healed ten lepers. The healing Christ appeared to these men in such a form as they could understand and perceive. All ten were healed physically and redeemed socially. One of them let a little more of his spiritual nature shine through the mists of mortality than did the others, for he returned to Jesus and expressed gratitude for his healing. By that simple act he gained a stronger hold on eternal life than he had before. It should be remembered that gratitude is always a powerful factor in lifting us above a sick, discordant picture of ourself. Even in the darkest hours, gratitude lightens the gloom. It opens the windows of consciousness to receive more of the Christ-light.

The inward voice which bids us distinguish right from wrong we often speak of as the voice of conscience. We all have the ability, and we should all have the desire, to place ourselves on the right side, on the God-like side, of every situation in which we find ourselves. In no other way can we expect to overcome evil with good, sickness with health, or want with abundance. Sometimes we may be tempted to question the promptings of conscience, or to disregard them. We need to remember that only by learning to distinguish right from wrong can we recognize Christ. Christian Science teaches us to develop this power of right judgment through a growing understanding of God as divine Principle. Wrong education, false habits of thought, and especially aggressive mental suggestion, may dull this voice of conscience, but they can never wholly silence it. Even hardened wrongdoers may catch its echoes and writhe in pangs of fear and remorse. Through Christian Science human thought patterns itself more and more after the divine model, and the inward, silent monitor gradually becomes a compelling force. To understand God strengthens every right inclination; it exposes and sifts out wrong inclinations and purposes. It renders us immune to evil, seen or unseen. In Christian Science we learn that to be on the side of evil is to be cut off from the protection of God. The first step away from evil is a very easy one to take, for it is simply to desire good in an unselfish way. Every step toward good is a step toward God. Every step toward God is a step toward overcoming evil, and toward freedom from the suffering which inevitably comes from indulging evil, fearing it, or ignoring it. Christian Science delivers us from our own ignorance and wickedness,

We often talk of the machine age in which we live. Sometimes we may wonder whether the machines which surround us are not making us mere cogs in a complicated structure which we are powerless to control. God's man never surrenders his individuality. It is comforting to remember that no machine can ever be powerful enough or intricate enough to stop a single Christlike thought. Neither man-made contrivances nor organized evil can ever prevent the healing Christ from becoming manifest to us in such a form as we can understand as well as perceive, even though we seem to be in the house of bondage.

Machines of steel, political machines, and machines of subtle propaganda and suggestion can never take from man his rightful place, nor obstruct his progress toward God. They cannot condemn him to do a single unprincipled act, nor use him to harm his fellow-men. Christ saves us in the modern world.

IV. "Forgive Us Our Debts"

A Christian Scientist does not try to overcome evil by forgetting it or ignoring it. He does not need to. Christian Science teaches him how to overcome evil scientifically and destroy it completely. The Christian Scientist learns how to cast evil out of his consciousness, to heal his supposed scars, and to forgive the evil doer. Wrong is never lessened by forgetting it or ignoring it. Just as long as it appears to us to be real, to have a past, present, or future, just so long will it be capable of harming us. When a specific belief in evil is examined in the light of the Christ, it disappears from our lives. Its unlikeliness to God, to spiritual reality, has been recognized. When your belief in the reality of an evil disappears, its seeming effects on your body, your pocketbook, or your home, will also disappear. When evil loses its power to deceive you, it loses its power to harm you. Our discordant experiences begin in thought before they express themselves in physical results. This is true whether we accept evil impressions consciously or ignorantly. Evil will cease to appear in the proportion that our thoughts become illumined by Christ. Evil has no mind to think and no power to act.

To pray aright is to forgive. A Christian Scientist learns that to be free from evil he must free himself from the belief that man can in reality do wrong or suffer wrong. Good intentions and promises unfulfilled do not suffice to pay a debt. Justice insists that our obligations must be carried out and our creditors paid. In essence human thought patterns itself the same way. God's law demands that evil must be scientifically canceled and forgiven. It is not enough to let it lie dormant in consciousness. It must be seen to be neither offense, offender, nor victim. This scientific forgiveness is accomplished through prayer. Prayer in Christian Science is no arrow shot at a vendetta. It is not a plea for material benefit or personal favors. It is more than merely hoping or demanding that the divine power may miraculously intervene. Scientific prayer is a spiritual understanding that God, Spirit, is the only cause, and that He sustains man in every right endeavor. It includes the willingness to be purified of all within ourselves which obstructs our obedience to God's demands. Within God's allness no wrong purpose, no ignorant apathy, no misguided endeavor, can have place or power. When our path seems to be obstructed by wrong or apathy or willfulness—our own or someone's else—let us be prompt and ready to test our position by scientific prayer. Let us be sure that we are harboring neither selfish desires nor a fear that evil can operate through us or against us. Only in the purity of the Christ-light can it be proved that evil is an illusion.

Honesty is a sure defense against dishonesty, when based on spiritual understanding. It ceases then to be merely a personal, privately owned attribute; it is seen to be the power of God made manifest in such a form as mortals can understand and perceive. Scientific honesty finds joy in paying just debts, and in satisfying human obligations. It does much more than that. It brings out of hiding hidden evil motives, subtle schemes, sinister conspiracies. It strips them of power. It brings them into the light of the Christ, where they may be seen and judged for what they actually are, and not for what they may have falsely seemed to be. Whatever there is in you which is Christlike—and honesty accompanies all that is Christlike—is enforced by the power of omnipotence. It reflects the divine power which corrects every erroneous condition opposing or conflicting with a Christlike purpose. He whose thinking has been purified by Christian Science seeks to express honesty in his dealings with his fellow-men. He need then no longer fear to be victimized by the dishonesty of others. Honesty not only pays debts, but it collects just debts. This is because divine forgiveness cancels the fear that shortcomings or shortages could ever subtract from the completeness of man as God sees him. The son of God is not a helpless mark for evil to shoot at. Honesty is no passive quality, at the mercy of imposition and trickery. It is open-eyed, vigilant, and alert. All that belongs to God, or has its source in God, is active and effective in resisting evil.

Christian Scientists pray, "Forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors." Debt, debtor, and creditor cease to be stumbling blocks to harmony as the perfection of God's creation becomes for us a more firmly established conviction. Love illumines, honesty supports, and spiritual understanding executes the divine purpose. Love, honesty, and understanding may be gained by all who are willing to use them. Wherever God is, there they are. Take your debts into this Christ-light. Examine yourself, and through prayer and reformation cancel whatever there is in your thought and conduct which accepts, or believes in, or permits unbalanced accounts. Be as willing to check extravagance as you are to escape from limitation. Above all, do to others as you would have them do to you. Doing this faithfully you will find the way to pay your debts, and all that is rightfully due you will be made up to you in God's own loving way. Debts of nations as well as of individuals can be paid when it is learned that obedience to God's law of honesty impoverishes no one and blesses all. Justice, not selfishness, extravagance, nor craftiness, countersigns every check drawn on the bank of divine Love.

Your biggest debt is to meet God's demand that you shall see yourself and your neighbor as God's own children, forever free from sin, sickness, and limitation. Christian Science is a religion of doing and overcoming. Christian Science insists that nothing is too good to be true. Limitation is justly evil; it never admits that evil is incurable. A Christian Scientist should not shrink from the struggles with evil which accompany his earnest efforts to obey God's law. Through these very struggles, he is being led out of the harsh wilderness of fear and human will, and into paths of beauty and peace. Beauty belongs to God's children. Just as to their contentment, to their homes, and to their relations with others. It is not merely skin-deep; it is not dependent on material luxuries or physical embellishments; it is not at the mercy of envy or decay. It is the fine flower of Christlike thinking; it is Christ in the modern world. As we learn to forgive scientifically, we shall come into a fuller understanding of these words of Mrs. Eddy's (Science and Health, p. 246): "Man, governed by immortal Mind, is always beautiful and grand. Each succeeding year unfolds wisdom, beauty, and holiness. Life is eternal. We should find this, and begin the demonstration thereof. Life and goodness are immortal. Let us then in that life we have extended into love, freshness, and continuity, rather than into age and blight."

V. Christian Science Healing

In Mrs. Eddy's illustrated poem, "Christ and Christmas," there is an illustration which depicts very clearly how healing is accomplished in Christian Science. The poem is accompanied by these lines (pp. 27, 28):

"Forever present, bounteous, free,
Christ comes in gloom;
And with grace towards you and me,
For health makes room."

It portrays the healer standing within the Christ-light, earnestly realizing that the healing Christ is actually present. Standing in that light, the healer is able to draw the sick within the healing rays, and even a bystander shares to some extent in the spiritual illumination. A Christian Scientist cannot heal sickness by believing that sickness is real, that God sends it or permits it. To believe that sickness is real is mental darkness. The Christ-light is not the privileged possession of a few, for it is the very light of all light, "which lighteth every man that cometh into the world." To realize this truth is prayer which heals. Such prayer fearlessly affirms man's unity with God, and denies reality to whatever error may seem to cloud the patient's consciousness. It requires no aid from material remedies or from medical diagnosis. Its results prove that it is scientific. The patient's thought is released from fear, and meekly receptive, he becomes responsive to the loving affirmations of his spiritual nature. With this awakening of consciousness, sickness disappears. It is healed because it never was real, and because its unreality was exposed through Christian Science. Actually it never was more than an aggressive suggestion which obsessed the patient's thought and cast its shadow upon his body.

Speaking of Jesus' triumphant achievements, Mrs. Eddy has said (Science and Health, p. 54): "The world acknowledged not his righteousness, seeing it not; but earth received the harmony his glorified example introduced." So also can it be said of the coming of Christian Science into the modern world. Christian Science has profoundly influenced the thought even of those who ignorantly oppose it. Our hospitals today are brighter and more cheerful than they were when Science and Health was first given to the world in 1875. Our medical physicians are more concerned with the mental states of their patients than they were then. Today fewer diseases are said to be incurable. Sickness and death are less often spoken of as God-sent. There is less damnation and gloom in funeral sermons. You may explain these changes as you will, but you cannot deny that they are changes for the better, and that they are tendencies which point in the direction of Christian Science and not away from its teachings. The faithful Christian Scientists who, often unrecognized, have stood and worked by the light of the Christ, as Christian Science reveals it, have not labored in vain. Little by little their own light has grown brighter and they have become more successful healers. Through their faithful affirmations of truth, and their spiritual understanding, the world has steadily grown in the past twenty years to a stronger expectation of good. Through Christian Science, Christ touches the thought of the entire world. Little by little humanity is awakening. The clamor of evil in the world need not deceive a Christian Scientist who has himself experienced Christ's healing power. A Christian Scientist does not worry; he prays. Why worry, when you can pray?

When Jesus healed the centurion's servant at a distance, he proved that space is not an obstacle to healing. Christian Science strongly emphasizes this. The truth about man can never be prevented by distance from reaching his consciousness in such a form as he can understand and use. Space, after all, is only a conventional, man-made belief—as much man-made as the punctuation mark which separates two printed sentences. Man can never be separated from the real facts of his being, nor from the recognition of them. Christian Science healing is not accomplished by thought waves or hypnotic suggestion. It is the truth about man, the proportion that the individual human consciousness becomes responsive to these profound facts of being, sin and disease are seen as illusions, and they are healed. They disappear because their unreality has been exposed. You may give your assent to this in a general way, as a child gives its assent to the multiplication table before it has learned to apply it. Intellectual assent or consent does not take the place of spiritual understanding. Human thinking, based on the conventional logic of material action and reaction, cause and effect, lacks the power to heal. It is Christ which heals.

When your thought is clouded by fear, you are shutting out the Christ light. Discouragement, hate, wrong desire, self-condemnation, self-pity, self-justification, love of ease in matter—these shut out the light. You must not stand under dark clouds like these when you are seeking the healing warmth of the Christ-rays. If you are sincerely seeking to be healed by Christ, you must be willing to part from them, even at the cost of many a stirring struggle with self. Take your stand boldly and patiently for Godliness, and strive meekly to express it. You have nothing to lose. Do not let fear or superstition argue that you may have to wait until you have reached perfection before receiving the healing which you seek. If that were required, most Christian Scientists would still be waiting for their first healing in Christian Science. Right desire is the first step, sincerity the second, along the path which leads you into the Christ-light. Once your feet are planted in that path, your healing will come as surely as morning comes after a dark night in the Christ-light, fearlessly. The newborn babe, in spite of its ignorance, its helplessness, its poverty, finds itself surrounded by a mother's love. So does the Christ illumine your steps in Christian Science with wisdom, protection, and comfort from on high. Not through human theories and beliefs, but through divine Love, infinite and just at hand, Christ comes into the modern world with healing for you.

To bring Christ into your own world, into your own conscious experience, there are some mental windows which you must open. Obedience, watchfulness, and self-forgetfulness are three which will let in much light. With these windows open, you will have far less to fear from matter and its supposed laws and action. In reality there is no matter. Matter is thinking which has gone wrong. It is imperfect, incorrect thinking. It is ignorant, and sometimes willfully ignorant, thinking. Do not be discouraged because there seems to be such a lot of it all around you everywhere. Open your mental windows wider; turn your gaze upward. The Christ will pour in its rays, awakening you to more harmonious thoughts and actions. When you give up your faith in matter, you will lose nothing which makes for harmonious living, true happiness, or enduring wealth. Matter, whatever form it may seem to take, testifies to nothing

RECENT DEATHS

ELIZABETH J. DESMOND

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Desmond of 51 Wildwood ave., Newtonville, widow of Lieut. Edward Desmond, died on May 22, following an illness of several months. She was born in Cullinane, Sligo, Ireland, 62 years ago, and had resided in this city for 45 years. Mrs. Desmond was a member of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. P., and Court Genoa, Catholic Daughters of America. She is survived by three sons—Rev. M. Joseph Desmond of St. Patrick's Church, Roxbury; Rev. Edward W. Desmond of St. Bridget's Church, Abington; and John F. Desmond, an attorney of this city; three daughters, Mrs. John J. Delaney of Watertown; Misses Elizabeth and Mildred Desmond of Newtonville; three brothers, James Kivlehan of Auburndale, Matthew Kivlehan of Fitchburg and John Kivlehan of Ireland; and three sisters, Mrs. Annie Flannery of Newton, Mrs. Katherine Greene of West Newton and Mrs. Michael Clancy of Fitchburg. Mrs. Desmond's funeral service was held on Tuesday morning at St. Bernard's Church, West Newton. The celebrant of the solemn requiem mass was Rev. Edward W. Desmond, son of the deceased. Rev. John Crane, pastor of St. Bernard's was deacon and Rev. John Ryan subdeacon. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham, where Rev. John Crane and Rev. Thomas Boland, assisted by 30 priests, chanted the Benedictus.

JOHN T. PULSIFER

Funeral services for John T. Pulsifer, an old time resident of Newtonville, were held on Wednesday, May 25, at the Rockwell Funeral Parlor, Mt. Auburn st., Watertown.

Mr. Pulsifer, who formerly conducted a grocery-store on Washington st., Newtonville, was born March 9, 1854, at Mechanics Falls, Maine, and was 84 years old. He was a cousin of the late Royal M. Pulsifer, Mayor of Newton in 1880 and 1881 and a brother of Mrs. Otis G. Robinson of Otis st., and Mrs. John C. McIntyre of Highland ave., both of Newtonville, and of Mrs. Erastus Gott of Lincoln st., Newton Highlands, all of whom are now deceased. Following the death of his brother in 1899, Mr. Pulsifer took over the management of Pulsifer's Express on Dudley st., Roxbury, which he operated until recently. He leaves a niece, Mrs. Paul Harris Drake of Newton, a nephew, Dr. James Lewis of Brookline and Waltham. Mr. Pulsifer died of pneumonia at the Boston City Hospital on May 22. He never married. Rev. Paul Harris Drake of Vernon st., Newton, conducted the funeral services. Interment was at Pembroke Centre Cemetery at Pembroke, Mass.

MARY E. JOYCE

Mrs. Mary E. Joyce of 5 Alden st., Newton Centre, died on May 19. She was the widow of John G. Joyce, one of the founders of Joyce Brothers Co. Mrs. Joyce was born at Winslow, New Jersey, 69 years ago and had lived in Newton Centre for 20 years. She was a past president of the Margaret Brent Civic Guild and a member of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association and the Theoria Society. Mrs. Joyce is survived by a son, Edward W. Joyce of West Newton; four daughters, Mrs. Arthur M. Pearson, Mrs. John L. Mansfield and Miss Dorothy Joyce, all of Newton Centre, and Mrs. John Smith of East Greenwich, R. He was born at Vazolaca, Piacenza, Italy 50 years ago and had resided in this city for 24 years, having been a partner of Negretti & Zazzera, proprietors of the Nonantum Spa and variety store. He was held in high esteem by his many patrons because of his honesty and courtesy. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Giovanna Zazzera; four young children, three sons and a daughter; two sisters—Mrs. Louis Negretti and Miss Ida Zazzera; and a brother, Giuseppe Zazzera, all of Nonantum. His funeral service will be held on Saturday morning at Our Lady's Church and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham.

OTIS W. GRAY

Otis W. Gray of 14 Bacon pl., Newton Upper Falls, one of the two surviving members of Charles Ward Post G. A. R. of Newton, died on May 20. He was born in Lowell 91 years ago and during the Civil War served with the 57th and 59th Mass. Infantry. He moved from Keene, New Hampshire, to this city 50 years ago. He was appointed a member of the Newton police on March 1, 1897 and retired on January 1, 1917. His wife, Ellen (Walker) Gray, died the 29th of last March. Mr. Gray is survived by a brother, Albion Gray of Caldwell, New Jersey. His funeral service was held on Sunday afternoon at his late home. Rev. Earl Stirewalt officiated. A delegation was present from Newton Post, A. L., and the pallbearers were six of the oldest members of the Newton police department. Burial was in Mount Peake Cemetery, Waltham where military honors were accorded by a squad from Newton Post under command of Captain George Henrikus.

ELLA C. EMERSON

Mrs. Ella C. (Coburn) Emerson of 39 Billings Park, Newton, widow of William H. Emerson, died on May 21. She was born in Hopkinton 86 years ago and had lived in Newton for about 20 years. She is survived by one son—Clifford Coburn of Portland. Her funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at Mount Auburn crematory chapel. Rev. Ray Eussen of Eliot Church officiated.

Safety Council Meets May 31

The Newton Safety Council will meet on Tuesday evening, May 31 at 8 o'clock at Police Headquarters, West Newton. The Publicity Committee of the Council will report on the progress being made relative to the parade which will be held through the Newtons on the evening of June 16th for the purpose of arousing interest in safe driving of motor vehicles.

Auburndale Pastor Goes to Dedham

Rev. Mason W. Sharp, for the past six years pastor of Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church at Auburndale, was assigned by Bishop Flint at the recent district conference at Lynn to become pastor of St. John's M. E. Church at Dedham. He will assume his new duties next Sunday, May 29, and will move to Dedham with his family next week.

The new pastor assigned to Centenary M. E. Church is Rev. William H. Shillington, who for the past 5 years has been pastor at Plainville.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

a complaisant, satisfied, personal life apart from our fellow man, for all true living is social thought of others. We must adjust our own attitudes and utilize all our powers. We must accept new philosophies and rapid change; must provide definite, concrete, and timely programs against those forces undermining the well-being of our people and producing many of the social maladjustments of the present day.

Gathering for the Convention

Between 7,000 and 8,000 delegates and clubwomen from every State in the Union and from twenty-five foreign countries, thronged the city for the Convention, representing 14,500 women's clubs, with a total membership of about 2,000,000 women. It might be added here that among reports given during the Convention, Mrs. Dorothy W. Lorden of Los Angeles, chairman of the Federation Extension committee reported that the Federation's membership had increased 37,836 last year, with Pennsylvania showing the largest gain, and Vermont, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Utah following in the order named.

This is change and growth, indeed, looking into the past, as the Federation nears the fiftieth anniversary of its founding. At the call of the Sorosis Club of New York, delegates from 61 women's clubs met March 20, 1889, in Madison Square Theater, New York. Success of this meeting led to organization efforts which resulted in the first meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in New York, April 23, 1890.

Looking back upon those days it is noteworthy to realize that among groups of women attending the Convention, and holding business meetings in side-session, there was the Pan-Pacific Women's Association, composed of women from countries bordering the Pacific Ocean, of which Mary L. Bollert, Dean of Women of the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, is president. They made plans to meet in New Zealand in 1940. And there was the Western Federation of Women's Clubs, a group working with in the General Federation in the western United States, which elected Miss Josephine G. Seaman, of La Jolla, Calif., as president. Mrs. Robert B. Atwood, of Anchorage, Alaska, proposed a 10-day round trip to Alaska for the Western Federation in 1939 and the Federation voted to consider the invitation.

Perhaps nothing brings home more forcefully the emancipation and progress of women in matters beyond the kitchen range and the broom, than learning of the formation of such groups and of their plans!

There were many more personal and individual occurrences which held appeal and proclaimed the universal friendliness and nearness of the women gathered from all corners of the globe. One outstanding one, in which the women delighted to pay friendly homage was the interest in Mrs. Robert B. Atwood, of Anchorage, Alaska, who was acclaimed as having come the greatest distance to attend the meeting. Mrs. Atwood journeyed more than 5,000 miles to her first General Federation session. With Mrs. H. F. Hanson, Ketchikan, she is representing 700 members in Alaska.

rd., Newtonville, opened her home for the Annual Meeting of the Hospital Aid Benefit Shop committee on Thursday morning, May 19th.

The annual reports of greatest interest to the members were those of the treasurer, Mrs. Edward Sawyer, and of the business manager, Mrs. Francis H. Williams, as both showed clearly that the Shop at 795 Washington st., Newtonville, is a decided asset, not only as a means to swell the treasury, but also to serve the many families who patronize it. From now on, all the earnings will be banked towards the fund to be raised for the proposed new Nurses Home.

Mrs. Dana Dutch, of Waban, reported for the Nominating committee, and last year's officers were re-elected: Mrs. Brewster Eddy and Mrs. Ralph Corcoran, co-chairmen; Mrs. Edward Sawyer, treasurer; Mrs. Charles Bartlett, secretary; Mrs. Francis H. Williams, business manager and Mrs. Fred Hardy, chairman of the Advisory committee. Mrs. Raymond Perkins will continue to have charge of the calls for collection, and Mrs. Ernest F. Drew will be the Press correspondent.

Besides these officers there were chairmen appointed from the various Newtons, including Mrs. F. A. Day, Jr., Mrs. Louise Sherman, Mrs. Pitt F. Drew, Mrs. Robert Whitehill and Mrs. Louis E. Gardner who has replaced Mrs. Charles Jones, from Wellesley.

At the close of the business meeting luncheon was served. Mrs. Ralph Corcoran and Mrs. Francis Williams being joint hostesses with Mrs. Brewster Eddy.

Christian Science Lecture

but the false belief that life has a beginning and will have an ending. In reality, man's destiny is a much higher one than that. Man's destiny is to bear eternal witness to health, holiness, and immortality.

Strengthen your hold on life by loving more. If a fellow church worker has spoken ill of you, forgive the mistake and save yourself from being harmed by it by loving your brother a little more than before. Though the friend whom you trusted has wronged you, you are still God's child, and you cannot be separated from good. Protect yourself and uplift your brother by remembering that he too is still God's child. Go on loving him a little more than before. When one whom you have helped returns your kindness with ingratitude, remember that you can lose nothing by acting in a Christlike way, and on loving him. You may have heard that one who received many benefits through Christian Science has turned away and is following other paths. Only divine Love can bring him back; you can keep the window of your love open toward him, so that he may reach out to you if ever there is need. Whenever you find that some chilly wind of fear, hate, doubt, or self-love has blown the window of your love shut, be quick to open it and let in the sunlight again. That is holy living and it is healthy living. Living in the Christ-light makes you strong and enlarges your dominion. When you are loving unselfishly, you are learning to love wisely.

Do not be afraid to declare: "Matter is unreal." Say it often. Never mind the arguments of the physical senses and intellectual knowledge, which seem to be contradicting you. Don't be disturbed by the odds against you. Say it hopefully: "Matter is an illusion." Say it with courage. When you begin to experience the effects of this Christlike attitude of dominion, you will find yourself going a step farther. You will say with increasing confidence: "Matter is a deceiver." And as through faithful study of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," you come to understand more fully the unshakable soundness of your scientific declaration, you will find yourself declaring with a spiritual understanding which heals: "There is no matter." Only by freeing yourself from the tyranny of matter can you bring Christ into your world. Never mind if it seems to take a long time and your steps are slow and faltering. Do not be discouraged by occasional failures or mistakes. Keep the window of unselfishness open, and you will be in no danger of falling into mental darkness. Freedom will come to you step by step as you gain glimpses of your spiritual and imperishable identity. Matter, after all, is only a feeble apology for the fear that man can be separated from God, who is his Life. All false knowledge based on matter must finally be transformed and must disappear, for sooner or later Christ must inevitably inspire all human thought and action. As our faith in matter lessens, matter itself will disappear. There is no matter. Matter never really existed anywhere except in thought, in thought ignorant of God. Man is not built around a bony skeleton. He is an idea of God, the perfect likeness of his creator.

In the midst of a world harassed by evils, torn by strife, tormented by suggestive propaganda, Christian Science makes its appeal: "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by?" There is need of Christlike thinking in the modern world. Nothing but good can come to individuals and to nations, from Christlike thinking. And, thanks to Christian Science, there is in the world today more Christlike thinking, more scientific thinking, than there ever was before. Enslaving beliefs are being challenged and tested. Hidden wickedness in private and in public life is coming to the light of day. The eyes of mortals are opening to a clearer view of the baselessness of evil. The sooner we learn to let the Christ-ideal govern our conduct, the sooner we shall be free from the persecutions of evil. Through Christian Science we can prove that good can never come from evil, and that evil can never triumph over good. The voice of conscience is making itself heard in the world more clearly, in spite of the din of thwarted human will and mad ambition.

Test for yourself the effects of Christian Science on your health, your business, and your home. Bring Christ into your own world. Dare to have faith in the triumph of good. Dare to live by that faith. Do it with sincerity. You will never lose by doing it. When you seem to be hard-pressed, angels will come to your aid. You will draw strength, wisdom, and comfort from the inexhaustible resources of infinite Love. In the face of temptations to believe that you are sick, sinful, poor, forgotten, or unloved, you will soar to heights of spiritual intuition, and your trust in good will command healing and salvation. John Robinson's prophetic message to the Pilgrim Fathers is true today: "When Christ reigns, and not ill then, will the world have rest" (see The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscellany, p. 183). It is a grand privilege to behold the coming of the Christ through Christian Science into the modern world. The events in the world of thought which began to unfold with Mrs. Eddy's discovery of Christian Science in 1866 are of surpassing significance. Mrs. Eddy's work is hastening the fulfillment of the prayer of every Christian: "Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done in earth, as it is in heaven."

and Chapel sts. Nonantum a traffic signal will be installed which will be operated by pedestrian push buttons and pads located on Chapel st. to be vehicular operated. This signal will cost $1777. For years there has been agitation for a signal at this intersection to protect the hundreds of pedestrians who daily cross it. At Walnut and Lincoln sts. in Newton Highlands sq., another pedestrian operated signal will be installed. This will cost $1336. Pedestrians will also be protected at Walnut st. and Commonwealth ave., near City Hall, where the present signal there, will be provided with a pedestrian (red and yellow) light period at a cost of $723. This period will be operated by push buttons to be operated by pedestrians. A pedestrian operated signal will be installed on Washington st. opposite the Newton Hospital. It will cost $655. The traffic beacon now located at Newtonville sq. will be removed and will be replaced by signals to be located at the four corners of the square.

THE NEWTON ARCHERS

The Newton Archers made the most of the beautiful day last Saturday for the fifth of the handicap tournaments which are held each week. Bertram Harrison was the field captain as twenty-seven archers lined up to shoot an American.

For the succeeding tournaments certificates will be given to those holding the first two places in the American Round for the women, the men and for the juniors. In this shoot Grace Harrison held the first place for the women with 87-529 and Mabel Schall the second with 81-400. Carl Spofford placed first for the men with 81-445 and William Whitney second with 84-444 while Philip Spofford was high for the juniors with 89-521 and Dorothy Skinner second with a score of 62-390.

Turnpike Display

Attracts Attention

One of the most colorful sights along the Worcester turnpike is the display of summer furniture at the Home Specialties Co., Inc. Beautiful blues and greens, startling reds trap the eye long before you come to this outdoor splurge of color. Coasters, chairs, stools, tables, awnings, etc., compete with each other for attention. Mr. Walker, president and treasurer of the firm, stated that it is surprising how many people stop and make a purchase.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

THREE BROKEN RECORDS PUT NEWTON ON TOP

Track Team Wins Last Harvard Meet

Newton High annexed another interscholastic track title Saturday when its three outstanding stars each set up a new mark in their individual specialties. The three new marks became permanent as it was announced following the meet that the annual affair, under the sponsorship of Harvard University would be discontinued. Frank Hines in the dash, Don MacKinnon in the hurdles and Billy Pescosolido in the high jump were the Newton athletes who chalked up the new marks, which with a third in the hurdles by Neil Cheney gave them 18 points for a clean cut win. Mechanics Arts High with 11 points was a surprise second with five other schools finishing between 10 1/2 and 8 points and two other schools dividing the remainder.

The discontinuance of the Harvard meet after 53 years of competition is due primarily to two reasons. According to the official statement the University feels that it has done its part in pioneering in certain sports when schools lacked facilities to organize their own meets and that now that the schools are equipped and able to do so that Harvard's co-operation is no longer needed. This is emphasized by the fact that the Fitchburg relay carnival and the Weymouth interscholastics were also held last Saturday. Again with the State Association meet coming a week later the Harvard meet is only a warm-up or the other is an anti-climax.

Thus the new marks, eleven of them all told in the three divisions of the meet, will go down in the permanent records. Three factors were present which enabled the setting up of the new marks, first of course being the talents of the athletes, second the real warm sun, and third a track made lightning fast by Friday's light rain and the intervening dry spell.

In Class B for larger high schools four new marks were set with three of them going to Coach Enoch's charges. Hines was the first to show with a 10s clocking in his trial heat in the 100-yard dash. This mark shattered a 10.1 mark set in a previous heat by Concannon of Boston English, which in turn shattered the former record of 10.2 made in 1930, and equalled by Walker of Everett and Wood of Lowell, other heat winners on Saturday prior to Hines and Concannon's efforts. Hines took Wesley Taylor, Roxbury Memorial colored sprinter in this trial heat. In the first semi-final, Hines broke the tape in 10.1s ahead of Walker, and Taylor and Concannon did 10.2 with Wood second and Friary of Mechanic Arts third. In the final, Hines came from third in the last 50 yards to break the tape in 10s flat again to equal his own new mark with Concannon, Walker, Friary and Taylor finishing in the other positions with Wood being shut out.

MacKinnon, defending his 1937 title, won his first trial heat handily in 14.6. In the first semi-final, with Sumner Woolfson of Brookline on his heels the Newton hurdler was clocked in an even 14s to shatter the old mark of 14.2 made by John Donovan, former Lawrence star, now concluding his college career at Dartmouth. Neil Cheney, who also qualified in the trials, finished second to Lisle of Lowell in the other semi-final. MacKinnon won the final by at least seven yards over Lisle with Cheney third. Woolfson fourth and Francis of Boston English fifth. MacKinnon's effort in this race earned him a 13.9s clocking for an even better mark.

Pescosolido, not to be outdone by his running teammates, leaped to a new high mark in the high jump when he successfully negotiated a 6 ft. 2 in. height, displacing the former record of Ehrlich of Ridgewood, N. J. in 1930, by a half inch.

Arthur Hughes of Newton placed third in the third heat of the 440-yard run in which heat only the winner, Keenan of Lynn English was fast enough to figure in the point scoring on basis of times made in the trials. Basil Babcock of Newton was third in the second heat of the 880-yard run but missed out by the barest of margins in getting points on the award by a time basis.

Tomorrow Newton is a heavy favorite for the state meet in which the runners will not be as restricted as at Harvard when limited to but one event. In the State meet on the Newton track the restriction will be to one track and one field event if the track event is over 140 yards or over, two track events and one field event if 220-yards or under, and to two field events.

This will permit Hines to double in the sprints, Pescosolido to double in the hurdles, both high and low. On Monday the Newton squad will go to Mt. Hermon Academy at Northfield for the interscholastic meet there which succeeds the former Amherst interscholastic which title Newton has won several times in the past decade.

of disciplining and punishment. School was all work and no play in those days. As we enjoyed the program given last Friday night by pupils of the Bieglow junior high school, we could not help but realize that a combination of work and play has eliminated the need of the discipline and punishment which prevailed in our schools two generations and less ago. School orchestras and glee clubs are far better diversions than getting rattled.

NEWTON NET TEAM WINS THREE IN SEMI-FINALS

Placing three players in the semi-finals of the 11th annual interscholastic tennis tournament under the auspices of Newton High School the orange and black overcame all opposition to win its fourth consecutive title. The early rounds were held on the Newton school courts on Saturday and the semi-finals and final rounds at the Newton Centre Squash Tennis Club courts on Tuesday.

The surprise of the tournament was the playing of Ernie Johnson, fourth ranking Newton player. He scored two major upsets, ousting third-seeded Dick Johnson of Lynn English in the first round and eliminating Fred O'Brien of Quincy, another seeded player, in the quarter-final round. This last match, a gruelling affair, went 2 1/2 hours to a final score of 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

Bill Power of Worcester North, defending champion and first seeded player, rode into the semi-finals with ease where he met Al Everts of Newton, fourth seeded. Defeating Everts, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3 he then went on to vanquish Don Manchester, second seeded and top ranking Newton player 6-4, 6-3, 6-8, 6-1. Manchester stopped his teammate Johnson's surge in two straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

Manchester's downfall in the finals came through 27 double faults. He appeared strained and nervous while Power exemplified perfect coolness in capitalizing on his opponents errors.

Two other Newton players, Les Lowry and Stuart Pattison were eliminated in the fourth round and Philip Stanley, Newbury sophomore, went out in the third round. Nineteen schools and eighty-six participants entered the tournament.

TWILIGHT LEAGUE HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF YEAR

The first meeting of the Newton Twilight League was held recently at the Newton Centre recreation building. The following teams were represented: Auburndale, by Del Ryan, Y. M. C. A. by A. L. Jacobs, Cabot by Vernon Stowell, Vedicco Texico Company by Pat LoChiatto, Garden City Club by Davis Perlmutter, Auburndale Cub by Robert Durban, Newton Pals by Vincent Palmieri, Y. M. C. A., of Upper Falls, by Francis Cronin, West Newton Glants by Harry Gray, Newton Catholic Club by Arthur Marborana and Paul Riley.

Word was received from managers Joseph Macdonald of the Newton City Club that they hoped to continue in the league. The only two of last year's club not represented were the Royals and Waban A. C.

It was decided that the regular season will open on June 1 and continue until each team has played about 20 games. It was further voted that any player whose name appears on the July players list will be ineligible to represent any team for the remainder of the 1938 season. It was voted to allow the West Newton Glants four players from outside the city because of the small choice within the city, one of those players to be a catcher, one a pitcher and the other two players who will neither pitch nor catch. It was voted that all rules be enforced strictly, that no deals between managers be allowed which violate rules and that any player who pushes or raises hands on an umpire for any reason would be automatically barred from the game and must be removed by his manager without any further argument on the part of the umpire. It was further voted that an umpire arriving after 6:30 for a ball game would forfeit $1.00 of his salary.

The next meeting of the league will be held next Wednesday night at 7:30 at which time players lists for June and a $5.00 deposit for entrance fee must be presented.
